N. B. P. W. CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

Games of skill and knowledge started the Christmas party of the National Business and Professional Women at their clubhouse, 1324 El Prado, Monday evening, in true Christmas style. The first thing the chairman of the committee did was to give each member a stick of gum, a tooth pick and a cardboard square, with which to model a Santa Claus. A prize for the best model went to Madame Teala Billini. A word game was won by Birda Paddock and a "yes" and "no" contest by Marie Worcester. The singing of Christmas carols was led by Addie Montague after which who's-it gifts were distributed. Mince pie with brandy sauce and coffee were served to the 30 present while members of the committee distributed gifts from the Christmas tree. Committee in charge of the affair were Margaret Clark, Addie Montague, Margaret Richart, Ruth Haggard and Laila Bowen. * * *

Mrs. O. E. Fossum, 1621 Cota avenue, entertained members of Thursday Afternoon Club at a dessert bridge and Christmas party in her home Thursday. A grand thing about this party was that there were gifts for all and each one selected a gift package before starting bridge play. High score at each table could have her choice of gifts before moving to the next. At the close of bridge play a grand prize was awarded Mrs. Gwendolyn Knudsen, who had high score for the afternoon. Mrs. Ruth Haggard had her choice of the gifts, having made the only grand slam bid. Others kept the prize they held at the close of bridge play. In the party were Mmes. Harry McManus, F. H. Clark, Ralph Hatton, F. C. Shields, Fred Knudsen, A. P. Stevenson, J. E. Haggard, F. C. Winkler, May McKinley, J. B. Shaw and J. O. Moore. * * *

Sinclair, 1157 223d street, was the scene of a jolly time Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, when Mrs. Sinclair entertained the class of boys from the Methodist church school of which she is a teacher. Each boy made a wreath of evergreen with red bow of crepe paper to take to his parents and each joined in the hunt for treasures. These were found by Clair Johnson, Newton Sleeth and Roland Justice. Others included in the party were Charles Stanley, Jimmy Higgins, William Thomas and Bobby Golden. * * *
