One Week To Train

Olympic Track and Field Events Will Open Sunday, August 2

Complete program of Olympic sports events at Berlin, Germany, which has just been released, places the track and field meet competition at the beginning of the games, which means that the United States athletes will have just one week to get ready for their events. The American reception in Berlin last Friday, and had to turn out the next day to start on intensive training.

With 57 nations represented, each of which is sending delegations of from a dozen to 800 athletes, the competition for all participants is going to be tough.

Hard Job Ahead

Torrance's hope and pride, Louis Zamperini, faces the prospect of at least two 5000 meter runs in four days. According to the published program, the 5000 meter semifinals will be run off Tuesday, Aug. 4, starting at 6 p. m. Berlin time. The finals in this event will be run Friday, Aug. 7, starting at 3:15 p. m. No announcement has been made as to the preliminary heat, if any, leading up to the semi-finals, but it is probable that since the field in this event will be comparatively small, that the semifinals will constitute the preliminary elimination test. Very likely the entrants will be split up into two or more sections and the best men in the sections will run in the finals.

As the 5000 meter run is the last scheduled on the Tuesday afternoon program, it is possible that the preliminaries in this event will go on all evening. This is a break for Louis, who likes to run at night.

Tune In Early

For the benefit of radio fans who hope that the meet will be on the air, the difference in time between Torrance and Berlin is nine hours. For the Tuesday event, starting at 6 p. m., tune in at Torrance at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. For the Friday event, starting at 3:15 p. m., Berlin, tune in here at 6:15 Friday morning.

No announcement has been made yet regarding broadcasts from Berlin. Jesse Owens, the triple threat man of the United States team, will have a hard schedule. The heats of the 100 meter dash are the first event on the program, starting at 10:30 a. m. Berlin, 1:30 a. m. here, Sunday, Aug. 2. The semi-finals will be run off at 3:30 p. m. Berlin, Monday, and the finals on the same day at 5 p. m. Berlin, 8 a. m. here.

Three Hard Races

On Tuesday Owens will take part in the broad jump competition, and the 200 meter heats, with the semi-finals and finals coming up on Wednesday. After that the black boy is thru for the week.

Don Lash, counted on as the United States' best bet in the 10,000 meter run, gets into the finals of this event on Sunday, Aug. 2, at 5:30 p. m. Berlin. Lash, if he sticks for the 5000 meters in which he is also entered, will have three hard races in six days, which is more than any but a real iron man can stand. Unless he has got more of what it takes than anybody realizes, Lash will probably not even place in the 5000 meter run.

City Short Ball League Will End Season Tuesday

Sandy & Scotty Kids Look Like Sure Play-Off Contenders

Columbia Steel forfeited to the National Supply last Friday night, and the Arnold & Pullman defeated Lomita, 9-6, in the City Short Ball League games.

Columbia Steel had so many men absent due to its entrance into the moving picture game and vacations that only three men showed up to play.

The Arnold & Pullman-Lomita game was a comedy of errors, according to Scorekeeper Jack Madesitt, who almost went berserk trying to keep up with the switches in the line-ups.

Play in the City league will close Aug. 7, when the two top teams will fight it out in a championship series.

At the present time it looks as if the Sandy & Scotty kids are a cinch for the play-off as they have won nine games, lost two and have one to go, against the Arnold & Pullman team next Tuesday night.

league of 12 teams, which will be formed September 1. The Torrance boys have been steadily improving since the association was formed two years ago and will be able to compete successfully with most teams of cities of the same or even larger class as Torrance.
