RETURN FROM WEDDING TRIP

O. K. Litaker and his bride, the former Sally Moore, recently returned from their honeymoon trip and are at home to their friends at 1028 1/2 Portola avenue, Mrs. Litaker is the daughter of Mrs. Della Moore, of Paso Robles, and is employed at Irene's Beauty Shop. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Litaker, 1015 Cota avenue. He has resided in Torrance for 10 years and is at present employed in the Signal Hill oil fields.

The young couple surprised their many friends by slipping away and exchanging vows in Yuma, Ariz., Aug. 25.

RETURN FROM VISIT WITH DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. George Wheaton, 1228 Arlington avenue, returned Monday from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Harmar Davis, of Berkeley, Calif.

BRIEF VACATIONS IN MOUNTAINS

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lee, 1923 Arlington avenue, are vacationing this week at Sequoia National park.

Mrs. Olive Lee, Mrs. Sylvia Nelson and Mrs. Bernice Guy with their families spent the week-end at Arrow-Bear lake.

Miss Ruth Banks and Miss Dorothy Reddington were guests of Miss Margory Huber at the Huber cabin in Arrowhead over the week-end and Monday.

MISS WHEATON AT SCHOOL IN BERKELEY

Miss Jeanne Wheaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wheaton, 1228 Arlington avenue, left Torrance Friday to resume her studies at University of California in Berkeley. Miss Wheaton is a junior and while attending the university makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Harmar Davis.

ASK FOR THESE BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

"Old Jules," by Mari Sandoz, is the story of Jules Sandoz, Swiss pioneer to Nebraska, part madman and part genius, who conquered the violent and treacherous frontier with a greater violence and deceit. He fought tooth and nail against the cattlemen for the settler's right to occupy this land; he met all comers at his doorway, gun in hand. He stalked claims; delivered babies; established postoffices; and had four wives. One he drove insane; two ran away; but the fourth learned to endure him. In 40 years of labor and strife Old Jules saw the Nebraska sandhills converted into land for homes.

"Death Valley Men," by Bourke Lee, is an uproarious biography of Death Valley Scotty with the story of other Death Valley characters. Many are the tales that have been told about Scotty, his mystery, his mine, his castle, but in this book is the story of Death Valley Scotty written by his friend Buck Lee and approved by Scotty himself.

Adventures in life don't happen only to men. "Tempest Over Mexico," by Rosa E. King, is a fascinating account of an English woman's experiences in the Mexican revolution. Her experiences told along with those of other foreigners in Mexico at the time, make an interesting story.

Last and perhaps most of all we recommend "The Gambler's Wife," by Malinda Jenkins. No one can fully do justice to Malinda Jenkins' life except Malinda. Not to read her story of life on three frontiers; of the zest for new adventure; of the odyssey to Alaska in the gold rush with her daughter and tiny grandson for companions—is to miss a thrilling and amusing true story of a real person.

WASHINGTON VISITOR FETED AT LUNCHEONS

Mrs. Mary Hinds, of Everett, Wash., who for the past month has been the house guest of Mrs. Mary Schroeder, 1018 Arlington avenue, left Tuesday to visit with friends in Venice and Hollywood, before returning to her home.

Barbecued steaks and spare ribs prepared by Anthony Zamperini, were the highlights of the big dinner served in the yard, and by careful measuring each guest received enough champagne out of one of the quart bottles brought home by the Olympic Games hero to drink a toast to Louis.

From Torrance those present were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Zamperini, Louis, Sylvia and Virginia, Mayor and Mrs. W. H. Stanger, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wellen, Bobby and Janet, Mrs. Lon Ralston, Miss Aggie Lou Ripley and Miss Lute Fraser.

STAG DINNER AT KEEFER HOME

Mrs. Jack Keefer and Mrs. Leslie Templeton entertained for Paul Kasper, Jr., at a stag dinner party in the Keefer home, Tuesday evening. Paul leaves Saturday to join his parents in Arizona and expects to enter high school there Sept. 14.

The group attending are all high school seniors and have been pals since they were fifth graders at Torrance elementary school. Included were Paul Kasper, Bob Sleeth, Gerald Templeton, Bob Trezise and Wayne Kaufman, who last year entered Alexander Hamilton high school in Los Angeles. The affair was a complete surprise to Paul and the group presented him with a gift.

ADA CHASE TO TALK ON MEXICO

Popular Couple Wed In Lomita

Meadows-Williams

Marriage Vows Are Exchanged In Veterans Hall Sunday

Autumn blossoms in gold and yellow, mixed with fernery, decorated the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Lomita for the wedding Sunday at 9 p. m. in which Miss Winnifred Meadows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Blagg, of Redondo Beach, became the bride of Phillip L. Williams, son of Mrs. A. L. Williams, widow of a pioneer rancher of Palos Verdes hills. Judge Frank Carroll, of Gardena, officiated. One hundred friends and relatives attended.

The bride, an attractive brunette, wore a four-piece suit of rust brown with matching accessories and corsage of gardenias. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Joe Frisno, wore a gown of taupe crepe and corsage of gardenias. Mr. Frisno served as best man. Mrs. Percy Hamilton, pianist, played "Traumerei" while the guests assembled, and "Lohengrin" as the bridal party marched in. Messrs. Morgan Williams and Meade Gardiner served as ushers.

Reception

A reception in the hall followed the wedding. The bride cut the wedding cake, which was served with ice cream by the mother of the bride, the mother of the groom, Mrs. W. B. Haslam and Mrs. Norman Gardiner.

Affiliations

The bride is a graduate of Redondo Beach high school and is secretary of the Rolling Hills Rancho Corporation. The groom was graduated from Narbonne high school, was an active member of Wilmington chapter De Molay and has lived the greater part of his life in Palos Verdes hills. They are spending their honeymoon at the Grand Canyon. On their return they will reside in Redondo Beach.
