Coming Up Next Sunday Afternoon At Municipal Park

Baseball games at the municipal park were called off last Sunday and Monday, because of the death of Charles Morris, father of Manager Walter Morris of the Lomita Merchants...

Both games will be league games, and will be smartly contested as the teams are pretty well matched as to ability and baseball strategy.

Manager Morris has a string of three good pitchers to take care of the mound duty Sunday and either Hamilton or Patalano will get the assignment...

Nixon, infielder, the star second baseman for the Columbia Steel soft ball team, will join

Here's A Letter On "BOOING" and "Sesssing"

September 2, 1936, Torrance, Calif.

In response to the request for constructive criticism on the subject of "booing" baseball tournaments:

There are certain athletic contests that if improperly conducted, bring out the ulterior emotions of any sportsman desirous of witnessing the game;

In any kind of a performance, it is customary that the observers show their approval of their champions by applause; likewise, their disapproval should be registered by stony silence;

however, this method of showing disapproval has a great flaw; in observing the silence, the players might think they have inspired awe, thusly arriving at the conclusion that they are good, or even mediocre;

To avoid these false illusions the "boo" was born;

If one looks at the "boo" as merely a bit of adverse criticism, he does not think so badly of it;

It would be highly impractical to organize a BOOING SECTION, for in the first place, one "boo" well directed, with sufficient volume (and staccato), is more efficient than many in unison; in the second place, one does not go to "boo" . . . if one does, one is no gentleman;

The matter of the admission fee is immaterial;

I always say, "Why not aim a few hoos, a couple of Bronx cheers, or horse-birds, and three or four hisses at the sports-writer that brought this up?"

Yours for advice, JAMES G. SHIDLER. Thanks James Shidler, maybe this writer does need some good "booing."

A Few Comments On The California Freshman Team.

A survey of this week's football sign-up on the Berkeley campus shows the average frosh griddler to weigh 141.79 pounds, to be 18 years 6 months old and 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Furthermore there is only one chance out of 20 that he is from out-of-state and if he is a California boy the chances are almost two to one that his home is in the northern part of the state.

A check of the home towns of freshman aspirants for the football team also shows that they come from several counties in the state. Outside of California they come from Connecticut, New York, Minnesota and Michigan.

Stiffest competition will be for the halfback berths with 25 of the 81 candidates signing up for that position. Six frosh are prospective quarterbacks with but two signing up for fullback posts.

In the line there are four centers, 17 guards, eight tackles and 19 ends. Head Coach Leonard B. "Stub" Allison expects

Bruins Are Boomed As Standout Contenders for 1936 Coast Title

By RONALD WAGONER United Press Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—University of California at Los Angeles, whose football team last year tied with Stanford and California for the Pacific Coast championship, is boomed this fall as one of the standout contenders for west coast honors.

Coach William H. "Bill" Spaulding, who came to U. C. L. A. from the University of Minnesota in 1925—when the Uclans were a football setup for almost any rival, lost only three regulars and two substitutes from the 1935 championship squad.

The big blow was the graduation of Charles Cheshire, triple-threat left halfback, who was high scorer on the coast last fall.

Spaulding hopes to replace Cheshire with Hal Hirschon, a sparkling sophomore, or Young Bill Spaulding, his 188-pound namesake.

More Material Last year the Bruins won a share of the conference crown with only 18 top players. This fall Coach Spaulding probably will have from two to four capable players available for each position.

In fact, Spaulding has been heard to say that he can see more material on his practice field this season than he has had since his palmy days at Minnesota.

Sherman Chavoor, veteran center, is regarded as the best bet in a strong line. Chavoor, who was named by Southern Methodist players as the best center they faced last season, will be flanked by Bob Barr, and Earl Sargent, senior guards; Captain George Dickerson and Pete Barber, tackles, and Bob Schroeder and George Robinson, highly rated ends.

Barber, the only newcomer to the line, is touted as the best tackle ever seen at U. C. L. A. Spaulding himself says the huge tackle may turn out to be the outstanding man in that position on the coast, where linesmen come big and tough.

Speedy Backfield Behind a line averaging more than 190 pounds, Spaulding expects to place a backfield scaling slightly heavier and selected not for its weight, but for its speed and power.

Fred Funk, 215-pound right halfback may crash the All-American this fall if he improves on his spectacular 1935 exhibition. Funk played better than 50 minutes in every contest last season. He excels at passing, punting, blocking, pass-catching, and can crack the line or run the open field.

William (Billy Bob) Williams, who played with Funk at Los Angeles high school, will have first call at fullback. Williams weighs more than 200 pounds. Unlike Funk he is not multi-talented, but he can hit the line and back it up on defense along with most fullbacks on the coast.

Texas Sparkplug Quarterback will go to the 210 pound Earle Harris who played prep football in Abilene, Texas, before he completed his high school career.

Deer Derby At Red Bluff Will Draw Hunters

Prizes Up to $1,000 Offered For Largest Mule and Black Tail

A grand prize up to $1,000 for the largest mule deer and a grand prize of $1,000 for the largest black tail, with many other $400 prizes, are being offered by the Red Bluff Chamber of Commerce to the hunters of northern California, according to information received by the National Automobile Club outing department.

A $1.00 entry fee entitles the hunter to participate in the contest which is open to all holders of hunting licenses. It is hoped that the attractive prizes for the large deer will divert hunters from killing yearlings and two and three-year-old bucks which constitute the breeding stock of the herd, thus leading to a larger crop of fawns for the future.

Following are the rules under which the contest will be conducted:

1. Deer must be legally taken in districts 1, 1 1/2, 1 3/4, 2 3/4 or 25.

2. Deer must be weighed at Red Bluff by certified public weighmaster who will be available free of charge.

3. Deer must be dressed with all internal organs removed; head and hide allowed.

4. Date on deer tag must be one full day later than date on entry.

5. Entry blank and hunting license must be presented and compared before deer will be weighed in.

6. Deer must be presented for weighing by person killing deer and signatures on hunting license, deer tag and entry must agree.

Each entrant will be eligible for only one prize.

8. In the event of a tie the prizes for both places will be equally divided.

9. Entries close Oct. 14, 1936; contest closes Oct. 18, 1936.

10. The committee reserves the right to disqualify any entrant for violation of the state game laws.

COAST LEAGUE GAMES Games played this week-end in the Pacific Coast League will be: Seattle at Portland; Oakland at Sacramento; San Diego at San Francisco; Mission at Los Angeles.
