

Big League Scout Working In Torrance

Johnny Angel of Cincinnati Reds Is Advance Man for Baseball Camp

Guess who's working over at the National Supply, that is, he's working there when he isn't on a leave of absence to look over the sandlot baseball talent in these parts. None other than Johnny Angel, scout for the Cincinnati Reds.

What do you think of that, you Torrance baseball boys with pro-league bugs in your veins? Who knows but what Johnny has had his eye on you already.

Well, anyway, what this is all about is the news Johnny spilled in here this week, that the Durham Club of the Class B Piedmont League owned and operated as a farm by the Cincinnati Reds, is conducting a baseball school up and down the coast this fall and any lad with aspirations is welcome to attend. Provided, that he pays his own expenses and furnishes his own equipment. Tuition is free, and the instruction is handled by such big league shots as Bobby Wallace, one of the two greatest shortstops in the business, Tom Sheehan, Angel and, later on, Micky Shuler and George Kelly.

Camps, or schools, as you may prefer to call them started at Medford, Ore., September 28, and are moving down the coast. The nearest camp will be at San Bernardino, held October 22-23, to which all the budding pros of this section are invited.

This offers a good chance to the young players to get some fine points of the game whether they make the grade into the big leagues or not. If not this year, then the instruction they receive will be useful another time when they go up for a second try.

Twenty-five innings of ball will be played every day, in games of four or five innings each. Arrangements to go to the camp can be made through Angel or Walt Morris, manager of the Lomita Merchants, Catcher League and Outfielder Polka, are among the local talent to be invited to train at San Bernardino.

Morris attributes the loss of the game to the absence of Rowe who had to work, which made it necessary to shift the infield a bit and five errors resulted, four of them chalked up to the infield, which paved the way for two of the Whippet runs.

played, outfought and outcharged the big front line defense of the local lads. Time and time again the Torrance tangles were pushed back into the faces of their own backfield, breaking up play after play before the ball carriers were able to get into motion. Time and time again the Leuzinger ends and center rushed the passing and kicking of little Jim Amman, and smeared him for losses, because of very poor blocking in the backfield. But give these boys a chance, a little more experience, and they will go high wide and handsome.

Coach Donahue, was pleased in his team, and says watch us go next year, as the Tartars only lose three of their players for next season, and will have plenty of real stuff next year. Many of the boys on the local team were playing their first varsity football game against Leuzinger last week.

A Few Comments About Outstanding Players of Game

The outstanding players of the game last week, were Lloyd Freeburg, 135 pound quarterback and John Dowd, right half of Leuzinger. Freeburg moved the entire Torrance line on several occasions, and dragged the local boys for five and ten yard gains. Where he gets his drive, is a mystery to this writer as he had only five scales at 135, but he has what it takes. John Dowd was plenty good at blocking, and converted both times after touchdowns. Other Hawthorne boys who looked plenty good and played heads-up ball were Don Trust (best end on the field); Bob Hardisty, fullback who intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for second score; and C. Koeller, big 215 pound center, who looks like all-league material.

Torrance high's best players were Leo Rossett, and Gerald Grubb, both guards, and what a combination of "watch charm" fighters. Rossett played his usual game of stopping everything thrown at him, and making many beautiful tackles, this boy should go far into the world of football; Gerald Grubb, playing his first league game on the varsity team, was plenty hard to move, and looks like a future all-league guard. Torrance certainly has a great pair of guards in Rossett and Grubb. Other Tartars who showed plenty of class, and played well were Jack Kent, big, fast left end, who fights all the way, watch him tomorrow; Ray Richard, who will probably be the best center to ever wear the uniform of Torrance, in another season; and triple-threat Jim Amman, left half, who was the best blocker in the Tartar back field last Friday. This boy can play on my team anytime.

Barefoot Boys Get Ready For Football Play

Hawaiian Teams Limber Up Their Toes For 1936 Season

HONOLULU, (U.P.)—Football takes its shoes off in Hawaii, and 1,376 players in the 55 teams of the barefoot leagues are limbering up their toes for the 1936 season in the islands.

The players in these shoeless leagues punt 50, 60 and even 70 yards. They dropkick and placekick accurately with their bare feet. Aside from the absence of shoes, the games are conducted in accordance with all the standard football rules.

The interscholastic and senior league players wear shoes, of course, and every season the University of Hawaii brings several intercollegiate teams from continental U. S. for games in Honolulu. The climax of the season comes with the contests on Christmas and New Year's Day, the guest team this year being the University of Washington.

Game of Endurance

Back in the 1890s, before Hawaii learned football, tug-of-war—or huli huli kaua—held a position in island sporting circles comparable to football today. The 20-minute endurance contests were as popular as today's football heroes are today. George Harris, coach of one of Honolulu's old-time championship tug-of-war teams, plans to revive the sport, with inter-island competition, this fall.

Other old-time Hawaiian pastimes, some of which also may be revived, include riding down the grassy slope of a steep mountain, broomstick style, on a stalk of ti leaves; lele kawa (jumping off a high cliff into the ocean), and shooting mice with a bow and arrow.

Fair Association Protests Track

Protest of the Los Angeles County Fair Association was added today to the proposal of the Hollywood Turf Club to establish a second horse racing plant in Southern California, for summer racing.

The protest, from Jack Afflerbaugh, secretary, stated that the association desired to enter a "vigorous protest" to the proposal, should the club desire to locate within the Los Angeles city limits.

"We believe that public sentiment is strongly opposed to the expansion of commercial racing in Southern California," the fair association's letter stated. "If any further racing is permitted, we feel that sentiment will crystallize into action to eliminate racing entirely in California. The proposed plant would compete with summer fair dates for agriculture, horticulture and livestock fairs."

failed to gain. Schmidt tried for a gain over center and failed. The quarter ended with the ball in the center of the field in Torrance's possession.

Amman tossed a pass to Kent. The ball bounced up in the air and dropped back into Kent's hands, bounced up again and was snatched by Hardesty who ran 45 yards for Leuzinger's second score. Dowd made the conversion.

Leuzinger kicked to Schmidt who returned the ball ten yards. Amman broke away for a 60 yard run, but on the next play Schmidt fumbled and recovered. Amman failed to gain. Pupikoff lost five yards. Amman passed to Kent for a first down. Amman made one yard over center. Leuzinger was penalized five yards for off side. Schmidt failed to gain. Amman lost five yards and on the next play fumbled the ball which was recovered by Leuzinger. Radford came in for Schmidt. Leuzinger completed a lateral pass, and the runner was forced out of bounds after a gain of 20 yards. On the next play Leuzinger made eight yards and on the next play fumbled the ball which was recovered by Leuzinger. Radford came in for Schmidt. Leuzinger completed a lateral pass, and the runner was forced out of bounds after a gain of 20 yards. On the next play Leuzinger fumbled and Pupikoff recovered on the 50 yard line. A pass from Amman to Kent was incomplete. Thompson went in for Harris at tackle. Amman tried a pass but Pupikoff failed to block the Leuzinger man out and Amman was smeared for a loss. Another pass was incomplete. Leuzinger took the ball and made one yard. On the next play Leuzinger fumbles and Torrance recovered on the 50 yard line. A pass from Amman to Kent was completed for 15 yards. Another pass fell incomplete. Richardson made four yards but failed to gain on the next play. Amman made five yards as the game ended with Torrance on the Leuzinger 15 yard line.

Torrance attempted 12 passes, with four completed and one intercepted. Leuzinger tried eight passes, completing three. Each team made four first downs. Torrance was weak on punts, getting away three for an average of 30 yards, Leuzinger made four, averaging 40 yards. Each team had four fumbles chalked up against them.

About 2000 people attended the game, about 800 of them from Torrance.

Tomorrow the Tartars play San Pedro at the port city.

Zamperini Is Pledged

With his pleasing personality and his background of athletic fame, Louie should be one of the most popular men on the campus.

Dreadful Carnage Among Master Minds Saturday

Old Master Lewellen Picks U.S.C. Score and Climbs a Notch

Carnage among the master minds of the Torrance Herald was terrific last Saturday, with every picker on the squad thrown for a loss except the Old Master Bob Lewellen, who moved up a notch on the strength of his picking U. S. C. to win over Illinois by not less than 18 points which they did.

The Torrance high school put the pickers in a hole right off the reel by losing to Leuzinger. Champion Hinds backed the wrong horses in Illinois and Ohio State and lost most of his minus points, and all the pickers went into the red on the Stanford-Oregon tie.

This week the percentage will go up as the list of games has been raised to 12 with some dark horses entered to make the selections tougher.

Standing for the week:

	W.	L.	Plus	Minus
Lewellen	7	3	—	5

Only one point separated the teams of the sheriff's civil department and the Torrance Revolver Club team in the match last week, but that point was on the sheriff's side of the scoreboard. Shooters for Torrance were Freeman, 268; Stanger, 264; DeBra, 264; March, 259; and Bennett, 255, for a total of 1310. The sheriff's men scored 1311.
