CALL 444 FOR AD SERVICE

Gypsies Foray City from Camp

of all pockets... and confiscation of his cigarettes by a billowing-top and bottom-matriarch as she conducted him to the—shall we call it nursery?

Here the new mother was stabbing at her black hair with a musty hairbrush and consented to exhibit her latest contribution to Romany—a non-existent state that is estimated to contain less than 250,000 Gypsies throughout the world. The babe, cocoyated from a pile of very dirty blankets and comforters, might have weighed four pounds with a skinful of milk.

"Gimme Dime" Wary

It yelled lustily and the mother began nursing it while the reporter beat a retreat to where a group of men were tinkering at a 1930 model Cadillac.

"What's wrong with the bus?" More shrugs and more jargon while black-eyes snapped indignantly at this interruption. Accompanied by a dozen shrilling youngsters—incidentally dirty but happy—the Herald's observer went back to his car, shoeed out another dozen who were holding high revels in its interior and departed with the sound of "Gimme dime! Gimme dime! Gimme dime!" and the walls of the new baby ringing in his reportorial eardrums.

Townsend Club Activities

As Reported By Beth Paige

—where darkly gloom had reigned before, now all was changed to cheer. Likewise mirth. Last Thursday's meeting in the hands of its enthusiastic leaders was at first a puzzle to many who came. They expected to find us wearing sad and gloomy faces, ready to disband and go home. Not we. Before it was over they had caught the right viewpoint and were themselves vastly cheered. The song stunts were well carried out and it was amusing, how quickly even our song leader, intent on her part, fell a victim to the "fine" points outlined for others.

The program resolved itself into a symposium of funny side-lights on the happy past, but nonetheless extremely rabid election. We learned, for instance, how we had endorsed a certain "Tony" last August, how Dr. Townsend was "supporting" the incumbent D. A. A. how "we" had "endorsed" a runner-up for the assembly, and one of the funniest was that a certain candidate in the 17th district had suddenly changed his mind and "come out for us" at the 11th hour and 59th minute.

"Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears"; we are now just exactly where we planned to be, as the following story of the results of the election, as reported by the United Press attests:

Dealer Says '36 Will Be Big Tire Year

Car-Owners Becoming Aware of Casings' Importance for Safety

The current year will rank as the greatest tire year since 1930 Jack Parazette, of the Torrance Tire and Retreading Co., Good-year dealer here at 1618 Cravens avenue, predicted today. Production for the year will be approximately 52,000,000 units, the largest output in five years, with sales probably exceeding this figure by a slight margin, he said.

"The return of normal business conditions, reflected in increased buying power generally, has resulted in a great upturn in the automobile industry, with an even greater upward surge in the tire world," Mr. Parazette explained. "Great numbers of people have been able to buy new cars, and even greater numbers, not quite so affluent, have at least been able to replace worn tires in their present vehicles with new ones. The tire industry has felt the demand from both sources."

"By the end of the year probably 22,000,000 tires will have been ordered as original equipment by automobile and farm equipment manufacturers. Motor vehicles already in operation require another 29,000,000 and 1,800,000 tires are being exported."

Aged Lomitan Dies Saturday

William Boyes' Funeral Held Tuesday

A resident of Lomita at 25335 Cypress street for 24 years and the first man to plant an avocado grove in the Harbor district, William Boyes passed away Saturday at the age of 77 years. Death was attributed to a heart ailment although he had been ill only a few weeks.

After setting out his avocado orchard, Mr. Boyes turned his attention to the production of feijoas, winning many prizes at nearby fairs. He was born in Beckworth, England, and came to this country 58 years ago.

Those who survive him are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Boyes; a son, William E. Boyes, of Lomita; two daughters, Mrs. Shara Jane Cole and Mrs. Annabell Kuschel, both of Los Angeles; a brother, Robert Boyes, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Kern, both of Phoenix, Ariz. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the A. M. Gamby Mortuary with Rev. Rothgeb of Calvary Evangelical church officiating. Interment followed at Inglewood Park cemetery.

City Improving Lots in Rear of Library

Street department workers under Superintendent William Gascoigne graded the two city lots in the rear of the public library building this week, preparatory to the landscaping of the plot. The lots, 60 feet fronting on Cravens avenue, were graded down to a level with the library plot. A sprinkling system is to be installed and an attractive plan of shrubbery and flowers will be laid out at once, according to City Engineer Frank R. Leonard.

The city council approved the expenditure of approximately $500 for this work at the meeting Tuesday night, the money to come from the unexpended library building fund. Leonard announced then that he plans to have a wall built on the west boundary and possibly a fountain installed.

Compton, one of the oldest towns in Los Angeles county, began as a "Methodist church enterprise," pledged from its inception to "teetotalism." In 1855 Temple & Gibson, Los Angeles merchants who owned a large part of the original Rancho San Pedro, sold 4,000 acres to G. D. Compton for 35 cents an acre. There was a choice bit in the acreage for which Compton paid $5 an acre.

On this land the Comptonville community started, sponsored by the Methodist church. At this period the terms "wet" and "dry" had not come to their euphemistic meanings. One had to be a "teetotaler" to build his home in Comptonville, according to old records found by the Federal Writers' Project.

Compton Founded By 'Teetotalers'

RANCHOS GOOD FOR LOANS

In the early days of Los Angeles the great ranchos near the city were often put up as pledges for loans when their owners got hard up and needed cash. Old records unearthed by the Federal Writers' Project reveal that in 1849 Pedro Dominguez wanted $5,000 to pay some pressing debts. With a brother, he was owner of the 45,000-acre Rancho San Pedro. He borrowed 350 ounces of gold dust from John Temple, Los Angeles merchant, pledging his share of the property as security. Dominguez, soon after, paid back the loan in money received for cattle and hides.

The number of tires being bought for vehicles already in operation is a healthy indication he pointed out, inasmuch as every old tire retired from active use is one less potential accident source on the country's highways.

"We here on the firing line are very conscious of the replacement program being undertaken by car-owners, a program that is reflected day after day in the increased new tire sales on our books. To us it is an indication that car-owners are becoming aware of the importance of tires from the safety standpoint. They realize that worn tires are the ones that blow out and have no grip on the road for quick stops; further they realize that the continued use of such tires is a bad gamble when the lives of their families are at stake."

Torrance Grid Star And Angeleno Take Over G. P. Station

Associated with a former Angeleno, Johnny Selby, Torrance High school graduate, with the class of 1934 and a Tartar grid star, has taken over the lease on the General Petroleum service station at Carson and El Prado across from the High school. His partner is Cliff Watson, who operated a G. P. station at Robertson boulevard and Pico for several years.

Selby, who was picked on the second all-time, all-Torrance grid squad by popular vote two years ago, and Watson succeed Dick Fullman, who previously managed the motorists' lubrication center. They are now giving the same efficient service that marked Fullman's term there and are specializing in correct lubrication and car washing. Friends of the young men are wishing them success in their new business venture.

SENT TO JAIL

Charged with driving while intoxicated Howard Lewellyn, 43, of 1021 Cravens avenue, was arrested on Marcella avenue by Sergeant Schumacher and taken before City Judge Robert F. Lessing Monday morning. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 25 days in the county jail.

Buick Production Stepped Up to Meet Demand

Production of Buick motor cars during October totaled 19,525 units, the largest month's output this year, according to word received by Manager Bardwell of the Lewis Motor Sales, local agents.

The company entered November with approximately 30,000 unfilled orders on hand at the factory and an additional 20,000 on file in zone points, Bardwell has been informed by the factory at Flint, Mich. This was the largest bank of new business in the recent history of the company.

To meet demand for the new cars, which were announced Oct. 24, schedules for November and December have been stepped up heavily, with output for the current month placed at 25,292 cars, including 22,341 domestic and export production at the Flint factories and 2,951 in the Los Angeles assembly plant of General Motors. Schedules for December, Bardwell said, call for 27,328 units of which 24,520 will be produced for domestic and export sales at the home plants and 2,808 in California.

The above schedules represent an increase in production for the last two months of the year of 7,192 cars over the volume originally scheduled on Oct. 16. Total Buick 1937 model production to the first of the year will be 76,645 cars with the schedules now established, the local manager said. Current rate of output is 1,264 cars a day.
