TORRANCE HIGH LIGHTS... by Vida Jones

YOUNG GENIUS... Jacquelyn Duke, 14-year-old violin genius, appeared before the student body Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2. Her numbers were greatly applauded and music-loving students expressed the hope that the young musician would return in the future and repeat her splendid performance.

SPEECH FETE... The Latin Club's Christmas celebration was held Tuesday. Members played games, sang traditional carols in Latin and even gave vent to several yells in the ancient language. These innovations prove that the Latin instructor, Mrs. Grace Morse, evidently believes that even the speech of the Romans can be made interesting to modern students.

NO BASKETS... This year the Girls' League will dispense with their former custom of making up baskets of food for needy families. Instead they will use the proceeds from their annual Tag Day as a donation to the Community Chest.

BLONDE ANGELS... Will any blonde angels who happen to be hiding in the nooks and crannies of Torrance high please come out and take a load off Mrs. Marjorie Eischen's mind? She has searched high and low for two blonde girls measuring five feet seven or over and has unearthed only one so far. Height is a necessary requirement because the only wings available are too long for girls of lesser height. The angels will have a part in the Christmas program, Dec. 16, at the civic auditorium.

SWEATER DANCE... Donna Toler of the senior B's is the one whose bright idea resulted in the sweater dance planned for Saturday evening at Casino Gardens in Venice. All students are invited, but seniors, both A's and B's, must wear their sweaters.

FINALLY HELD... Tuesday afternoon everyone able to pay the price of admission danced in the gym to the strains of a phonograph. The occasion was the oft-delayed dance sponsored by the G.A.A.

WORLD FRIENDS... Monday night saw another meeting of the World Friendship Club. Thru the efforts of the sponsors, two speakers from U.S.C. were obtained. Mary Lee, a Korean girl and president of the Y. W. C. A., spoke of religion and internationalism from the Korean standpoint. The other speaker, Gloria Kempener, who is a direct descendant of the Maraga family, founders of San Francisco, stressed the importance of individual friendships. Miss Kempener is also an expert rider and roper and was one year elected "Rose of the Rodeo" at the annual Salinas round-up.

Both speakers later took an active part in directing the general discussion. Louis Zamparini, former member, was present and added a few words concerning the good work carried on by the organization. Dec. 28 was the date scheduled for the next meeting and at that time the sponsors expect to have as guest speaker, Mrs. Justina Ghirarde, Guatemalan, who will tell of her extensive travels in the Latin American countries.

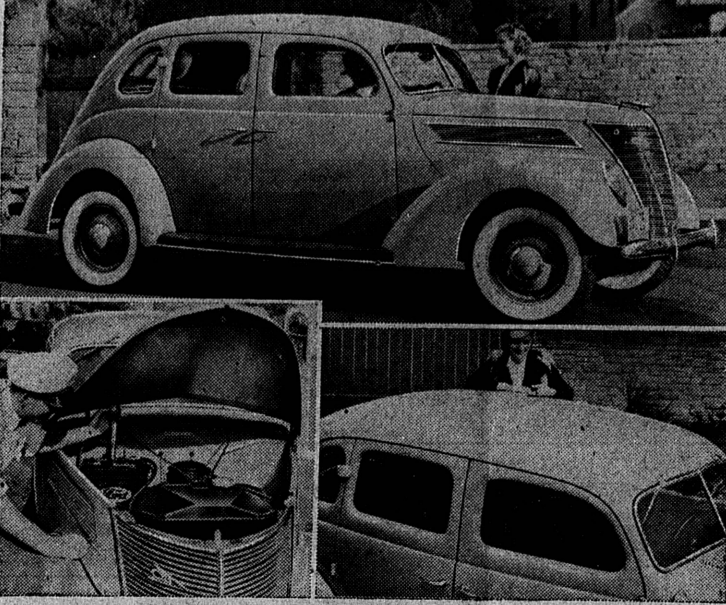

PLAYDAY RESULTS... Long after last week's playday was over, the results were tabulated and it was discovered that Torrance had won in one of two basketball games and in speedball. Narbonne in hockey, one of two volleyball games and in baseball, and Banning in basketball, volleyball and horse-shoes. San Pedro's lone victory was in tennis.

Narbonne Sidewalk Work Progressing

Although the Southern California Edison Company is not moving its power poles back on Narbonne avenue south of Sepulveda boulevard to the city limits as fast as City Engineer Frank E. Leonard expected, the installation of a sidewalk on the west side of that thoroughfare is proceeding, he told the city council Tuesday night.

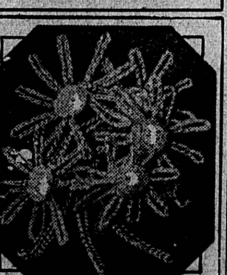

Several culverts must be installed, the engineer said, and this will call for some extra work. Leonard informed the council that he expected that about half of the sidewalk could be laid by the end of the week and the remainder will be put in as soon as the power poles are moved back.

Sweeping Improvements in 1937 Ford V-8s

Since the introduction of the 1937 Ford V-8 the middle of November, Ford dealerships have been visited by record-breaking throngs, Ford Motor Company officials report. The unusual interest aroused by the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine, the attractive new appearance of the cars and the new low prices are credited with attracting the great number of visitors. Top: Photo of the Deluxe Fordor Sedan reveals the striking advance in streamline design of the new model.
