

Ranch to Get First Auto
 LANDUSKY, Mont. (U.P.)—Isolated for 23 years, the Jim Kipp ranch in mountains here may see its first automobile this summer. At present, the only access to the ranch is by means of horse—or a three-mile hike on foot from the D-Y trail. However, surveyors have laid out a county road which they hope to complete this year.

That Was Different
 NORWALK, Conn. (U.P.)—John Evans' family always got a laugh when their daughter Catherine's kitten "Snobby" dragged home a mouse, a bird or any odds and ends he might find in the yard. Cute kitten. But when "Snobby" hauled in a 13-inch poisonous copperhead snake Mrs. Evans and Catherine hopped on the kitchen table and yelled for help.

MYSTERY GAS DISCOVERY STIRS PETROLEUM INDUSTRY

The possibility of California having a new competitor in the oil and natural gas industries is forecast by the drilling of what is perhaps the most interesting test well ever put down anywhere in the United States. The well is being sunk on the north slope of the Rattlesnake Range in Benton County, Washington, not far from the city of Yakima.

Gas Discovered
 According to information secured by S. W. Dubbins, Washington division lubricating engineer for General Petroleum Corporation, marketers of General Mobilgas and Mobiloil, and relayed to Don Dawson, Southern California division manager of the company, geologists have held, hitherto, that oil and gas could not be found in a basalt covered territory like the Rattlesnake Hills. More than 20 years ago, however, sheep herders digging for water encountered gas by accident at a depth of 750 feet. No commercial importance was attached to the discovery and it was not until 1929 that R. B. Newbern, of Wichita, Kansas, organized the Northwestern Natural Gas Corporation for its exploitation.

 LEE BURNS, Reporter
 The first combined meeting of Troop 1, Troop 3 and Troop 4, under the leadership of Commissioner Jones was held Wednesday evening, June 27. Hank Jacobs, Scoutmaster of Troop 5, assisted. There was no inspection and no dues were taken. This will be the custom during the summer months.
 Scoutmaster Dr. Ingold of Troop 3 is leaving for a vacation in Chicago.
 No meeting was held on July 4th, but there will be an outdoor meeting on July 11th.
 Registration cards for all troops were given to Scouts at last meeting.

Fifteen Wells
 Besides the deep level test well now being sunk, which the company is prepared to drill to a depth of 6000 feet if necessary, 15 shallow wells are already in operation supplying gas to the towns of Grandview, Sunnyside, Prosser, Zillah, Toppenish and Granger. If the present test well, now at 1700 feet, proves up as a big producer it is possible that the gas ultimately will be piped to Yakima, Walla Walla, Portland, Spokane and Seattle.

Mystery Field
 The field is unlike any other known gas field in the world. The entire area is overlaid with a series of basaltic flows, ranging in thickness from a few feet to more than 100 feet. The average depth of more than 2500 feet. These flows are interspersed with volcanic ashes and sedimentary deposits. The gas now being produced is found in a very porous stratum of basalt and not in the layers between the basaltic flows. Geologists think the gas flows from some deep horizon up the line of a faulted structure to where it encounters the porous basalt, which serves as a very large reservoir. The new well is being sunk in an effort to discover this mysterious gas source.

Turtle Carries Numeral "1803"
 FAIRMONT, W. Va. (U.P.)—A turtle on the farm of Jesse E. Price of Pickenpaugh Run has the words "G. W. Lydick" carved on its back together with the figures "1803." Price, who is more than 80, can remember no one in this vicinity by the name of Lydick, and also "doesn't remember" that turtles live to be 131 years old.
