Team Is Improved

Bluebirds Show More Pep and Class In Game Against Packers Friday Night

Although they lost, 8-5, the home boys put some pep into the game Friday night between the Bluebirds and the Packard Motors, who went home for the second time in a week with the long end of the score. Almost an entire new line-up took the field for the Birds. Only Speed Landroth, Ted Moot and Taylor, were left out of the original squad.

Hollywood Here Tomorrow Night For Home Game

Murphy has rebuilt his team on home product lines, and all five of the new boys did exceptionally well considering that it was the first time out for all but Leland Eider. Pete Zamperini, second baseman, covered the bag in snappy fashion, and Pete had the honor of leading off with the first hit and the first run in a rally in the first inning with two out that netted three scores.

Murphy May Spring a Dark Horse In Chucker's Box

The Torrance Bluebirds met up with a whirlwind outfit at Montebello Tuesday night and were sunk 9-2. The Montebello team got into the game as they were in the kick-around, pretty freely in the first half, but they were not so hot enough of that, so have collected an aggregation of stars who can hold their own in any company. Halladay pitched, and was effective.

Taylor chucked for the Birds. Joe walked several and was hit too freely in the first half. However, Murphy is not crying over the game as he says Montebello with that kind of a team could take anybody.

With the aggregation Spud now has, and a top-notch chucker to give them the courage of their convictions, the Birds should win the flag this half. No foolin' in spite of two defeats they still have better than an even chance if they get hold of somebody who can toss that apple. Taylor and Van Vliet are good men up to a certain point but both of them are liable to wobble at the crucial moment. This leads to uncertainty on the part of the rest of the team, which should function like a machine but can't because of lack of confidence. Let a good chucker get in the box and there will be a different story.

Double Main Event Is Billed For Westside Aud. Tomorrow

Basking in the prosperity of four straight sell-outs, the Westside Auditorium, 645 West Anaheim street, Long Beach, offers this Friday night the greatest double main event ever billed anywhere in Southern California.

Westside brings to its ring both of the main events that in the past two weeks have individually turned away over 1,000 fans unable to obtain standing room. Man-killer Sailor "Wild" Bill Boyd, U. S. S. Idaho's K. O. king, will meet Louie Cohn, Honolulu Jewish heavyweight, who claims never to have been knocked to the canvas in 39 battles.

Westside in selecting an opponent that could go the limit with Boyd and really give the fans an idea of his ability, finally settled on Cohn after a week's search. Expert opinion of a week's search. Expert opinion of a week's search.

However, in addition to the bout between Boyd and Cohn, Ed Holzhauser, whose main event debut last Friday resulted in a turning away of over a thousand fans, tangles with Joe Donnelly, a veteran of some 65 fights. Donnelly is a trickster from the word "go" who may give Holzhauser a licking and who will enter the ring at even money to win the fight.

Last Wednesday at Huntington Park, Donnelly boxed the cards off Al Domstad in the main event. Several other clubs have made lucrative offers to Holzhauser and Donnelly for their main event, but the Westside was fortunate in being able to grab this fight which alone will sell out the arena.

In the special event, Baby Sal Sells, conqueror of three All-Navy champions, whose terrific slugfest with Elmer Lewis stole the show in a 15-round bout, will meet a 15-0 recorder, who has won a 15-0 record in a 15-round bout.

"Wild" Bill Wana will have his hands full with Dancho Ramonov, Benny Robelko, who has gone on a K. O. rampage, meets Eddie Gorman of Huntington Park.

In all there will be eight bouts, with the certain raise going on at 8:30. For their own convenience fans are requested to get their reservations early in the week as it is a foregone conclusion that before Friday all reserved seats will be sold out.

German athletes are rounding in to shape for the coming 1936 Olympics, to be held in Berlin, Germany. A recent find for the German team was Gerhard Stocek.

In the recent University championships in the pentathlon Gerhard broke the world's record, held by Hanns-Heinz Stevert's also of Germany.

A comparison of the events are as follows: Event: Stocek, Sievert. 200 meters: 24.2, 22.6. 1,500 meters: 5:08, 5:10.

A marathon run in which the winner of the 26 1/2 miles event may be named on the American Olympic team will be run Labor Day in Philadelphia.

The first annual Torrance playground field day, held last Friday at the Municipal Park was a big success. Over 150 boys participated in the events that were on the schedule.

A few months ago the California Interscholastic Federation held a meeting and changed the age limit of their athletes from 21 years to 20 years.

High school pigskinners are asked to be on hand each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 5:30 p. m. Coach Donahue will be on hand and a touch football league will be formed for a little competition between those turning out for a little pre-season conditioning.

High school coaches take a different view. They have protested the age reduction on grounds it will eliminate the best class of schoolboy athletes and lower the reputation of Texas teams.

Pop Warner faces a bright outlook at Temple University Sept. 2 when he calls together his football squad for the 1935 season. Warner has issued invitations to different players to attend the pre-season drills at Oak Lane Country Day School.

Temple University opens its season against St. Joseph's College, Friday Sept. 28.

Jack Torrance, world champion champion, plans to enter Louisiana University again next fall and prepare for a master's degree in mathematics.
