stage play, which had its origin in the timeless novel "Vanity Fair". It will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Torrance Theatre.

Thackeray wrote into his character that magnetic spark that is found in few humans. Miss Hopkins is conceded to have it, and it comes vividly to the screen in all her portrayals.

"Becky Sharp" as Thackeray's "Vanity Fair" was a satire aimed at the follies, vices and meanness of London society, but the vividly human qualities of its characters has endowed it with a great significance. Change the costumes of Pioneer Pictures' "Becky Sharp," and modern life will be recognized keenly.

Lew Ayres Has Exciting Role

Bristling with action and packed with thrills, "Silk Hat Kid," Fox Film's latest production, will hold the audience at the Torrance Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, excitedly entertained throughout.

The exciting theme coupled with the dangerous and glamorous romance of Lew Ayres and Mae Clarke make "Silk Hat Kid" a film of such importance that you cannot afford to miss it.

The rapid-fire action of the film takes place in the dangerous slums of a big city. While employed as bodyguard to Paul Kelly, cafe owner, Ayres meets and falls in love with Mae Clarke, his employer's girl friend. "Daring Young Man" at Plaza, Great Fun Film

The gales of laughter that greeted "The Daring Young Man," which opens tomorrow at the Plaza Theatre, Hawthorne, were merely echoes of this reviewer's hearty roars.

Written by Claude Binyon and Sidney Skolowsky, of newspaper fame, "The Daring Young Man" shouldn't be missed. It is the hilarious story of a New York newspaperman (James Dunn) who never tires of expressing his sarcastic views of marriage until he meets Mae Clarke, a reporter on a rival paper. A rapid-fire courtship is followed by plans for a quick marriage. On the same bill at the Plaza Theatre Friday and Saturday this week is Guy Kibbee and Zasu Pitts in "Going Highbrow."

Take 'em Off Says Director

"Be yourself," seems to be the favorite advice of Robert Florey, director of Warner Bros. comedy, "Going Highbrow," which comes to the Torrance Theatre on Wednesday only. And in Zasu Pitts, famous hand-wringing comedienne who is playing the leading feminine role in the picture, he has a trouper who believes in following the admonition. With the weather turned suddenly warm, Miss Pitts complained that her shoes were hurting her.

"Take 'em off," suggested Florey. Miss Pitts blinked a bit and looked around. There were no visitors on the set. "Why not," she smiled. Off came the offending shoes and, stocking-footed in a series of clogs, Miss Pitts went through her part in real comfort. Companion picture for Wednesday will be "Orchids to You," starring John Boles and Jean Muir.

Circuit Smash Clinches Title For L. B. Angels

Visitors Hammer Brissinger of Junior Kiwanis For Sixteen Bows

The Long Beach Angels won the deciding game in the Inter-city League over the Kiwanis Juniors and are champions without doubt in any minds. The Kiwanians were the only team in the league who were able to even measure up to the Angels but when it came to putting on the pressure there was no doubt as to which was the better team. In the same Saturday night, for seven innings it was nip and tuck and anybody's game but a homer by Mismar with the bases filled broke up the game and sent the Angels far out in front. For the Kiwanis the catching of Walker who had been out nearly all season with a broken leg was easily the feature.

FREE SPAGHETTI and street dance AT SMITH'S

"Toll all the folks that I am giving another big free spaghetti feed down here tomorrow night," said Charles M. Smith, of Smith's Cafe, "and all those who were here on my opening night and their friends will be welcome to come back again and fill up on this famous Italian dish prepared as my chef can prepare it." Charlie's opening night drew several thousand people to his place of business at the corner of Narbonne avenue and Lomita boulevard in Lomita several weeks ago, where a big free street dance added to the gaiety of the occasion. Tomorrow night the affair will be repeated with free spaghetti, free dancing to the music of Dick Powers' orchestra. Smith's Cafe will serve other things besides spaghetti, such as lunches, beer, wine and mixed drinks, but don't get any wrong impressions, only the spaghetti will be free.
