

TO HAVE and TO HOLD

Clear, precise, unobstructed VISION... not too costly to have, nor too impossible to hold... is a matter of vigilant watchfulness and frequent examinations. Lessening of visual powers, eye strain, etc., may occur overnight, and he who appreciates the importance of perfect vision, heads telltale symptoms and contacts a reliable optometrist immediately. Delays are costly. Don't wait. See Dr. Alden Smith today for an examination. No appointment is necessary.

He is considered one of the foremost authorities in the state of California on real estate values and was principally responsible for the downward revaluation of real estate in Los Angeles county in 1932.

Do You Own Property In L. A. Strip?

Owners of property in the Los Angeles shoeing district, east of Torrance, should heed this call if they desire relief from the almost confiscatory assessments under the Mattoon Act. Petitions asking that the county take over a large share of the tax burden are now being signed by goodly numbers of these property owners, but before the petition may be acted upon by the board of supervisors it must be signed by owners of at least 62 percent of the property in the district. If you have not already signed a petition, you are advised to do so at once, said J. C. Smith of the Torrance Investment Company, who is leading the movement for reduction of the assessments.

Petitions may be signed at the office of the Torrance Investment Company, the Chamber of Commerce, or the law offices of C. T. Ripley at the Torrance Mutual Building & Loan Association.

ENDORSED

JUDGE GEORGE A. DOCKWEILER, who received the Los Angeles Bar Association endorsement by more than twice the number of votes given his nearest competitor, is aggressively campaigning for Superior Court, Office No. 9, under the sponsorship of an active directing committee of 500 representative attorneys. And the judge is insisting that the main issue involved is purely that of the respective official records of the candidates.

"A judicial office is solely concerned with the administration of justice according to the law," Judge Dockweiler has told his committee, "so that the only platform of my campaign will be my official record and the fact that I have very seldom been reversed in my judicial decisions."

Breakwater To Be Finished

Work is expected to be started by August 15 on the construction of the remaining gap of nearly a mile in the Long Beach Los Angeles breakwater, according to Major Theodore Wyman, Jr., U. S. district engineer. The contract has been awarded to the Rohl-Connelly Company, who constructed the 6200 feet just completed under two previous contracts. The Rohl-Connelly company was the lone bidder on the last link, which is 4887 feet long.

Total cost of the last link will be approximately $2,273,000 it was computed, the company being paid so much per cubic yard for the rock placed in the breakwater.

Maritime Group Endorses Reaves For Re-election

At the last meeting of the San Pedro branch of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, Assemblyman Fred Reaves received the unanimous endorsement of that body for his re-election as a member of the state legislature from this district. With the exception of three small unions, this endorsement gives Mr. Reaves the backing of a large portion of the labor organizations in the San Pedro area.

The Maritime Federation, San Pedro branch, district No. 4, comprises the Longshoremen's Union; Sailors' Union; Marine Cooks and Stewards; Firemen, Oilers and Water Tenders; Marine Engineers; Shipyard Workers; Masters, Mates and Pilots; and the Ferry Boatsmen's Union.

Mr. Chritofinson of the sailors' union in addressing the federation pointed out that Assemblyman Reaves had been a member of organized labor for 30 years, had been a voluntary organizer for the American Federation of Labor and that Mr. Reaves had understood the labor movement from the inside out, with a 100 percent labor record in the last session of the legislature.

Labor unions in this district, stated Chritofinson, could not afford to send someone to the legislature that had not been tried. We cannot afford to experiment. Assemblyman Reaves' efforts in the interest of commercial fishermen and the fishing industry are well known and all organizations connected with this great industry are behind his candidacy for re-election to the assembly from this district, Chritofinson said.

In response to the endorsement, Mr. Reaves stated, "If I am returned to the assembly from this district, I shall pursue the same policies as in the past, representing all the people in matters pertaining to the district as a whole and against the special interests whose representatives infest the halls of the capitol seeking advantages for their particular group."
