SCHOLARS . . .

NEW START . . .

After a mad week of rearranging programs, finding new class rooms, and receiving books, everyone has settled down to start the new semester studying hard and keeping their records high. New officers for the Madrigal singers chosen Monday were: President, Kenneth Hull; vice-president, Gerald Templeton; secretary, Margaret Hague; treasurer, Carl Gilbert; historian, Dorothy Jean Craig; librarian, Eileen Babcock; wardrobe mistress, Georgina Tiffany; wardrobe manager, Albert Winkler; publicity manager, Jack Disario; business manager, Jack Kent. ASSISTANCE . . .

Because there are so many students who wish to attend college and yet must work part of the time, the University College has been started as a part-time division of the University of Southern California. To acquaint students with this plan, ten scholarships have been offered to high school and junior college graduates. Those with especially high records may apply. A. C.

PLEA TO ALLOW MARBLE GAMES TURNED DOWN

All marble-game tables are contrary to state law because anything automatic that accepts money or pays out money or gifts is gambling. That was the opinion given by City Attorney C. T. Rippey to the city council Tuesday night when a petition signed by 17 business men and others asking that marble tables for token pay-outs be allowed to operate here "the same as in other cities."

The petitioners declared that operation of the gaming devices "was essential to our business and we are losing revenue to other cities because we do not have them." Members of the council pointed out that the city did not stop the alleged gambling machines, that the state and county ruled them out and it was up to the people of the state to legalize gambling before the city can do anything about it. The petition was ordered filed.

Police Chief G. M. Calder said today that the ban on all marble or pin-ball games becomes effective here tonight, the ordinance under which they were licensed having been rescinded by the city council.

Torrance People to Build Ranches in Rolling Hills

Suburban estate development at Rolling Hills, the picturesque harbor district rapidly becoming dotted with miniature ranches, is expected to take on additional stimulus within the next 60 days with the start of construction on a group of nine new home places there to represent an aggregate investment of approximately $107,000.

This was the word received this week from A. E. Hanson, prominent real estate broker, in charge of the Rolling Hills project, said to be one of the fastest growing exclusive suburban areas in the West. Figuring prominently in the new construction activity announced for Rolling Hills are three residences to rise for Torrance residents, it was announced.

Dr. Alden W. Smith has ordered a three-bedroom house to be built on his two-acre site; H. Braden Whittington also has launched plans for a three-bedroom home on a two-acre plot, and Guy K. Claire is to build a four-bedroom dwelling on his Rolling Hills two-acre rancho.

PEEPER MAKES REGULAR TOURS

A prowler, described as a large, heavy man about six feet tall and middle-aged, was reported to police Wednesday as making frequent attempts at window-peeping in the alley between Torrance boulevard and Arlington avenue west of Saratoga avenue. Oscar Carter, 1008 Cravens avenue, told officers that the man is there "almost every night." Patrol officers were instructed to be on the look-out for such a man.

Rules for Living . . .

Do not worry, eat three square meals a day, say your prayers, be courteous to your creditors, keep your digestion good, steer clear of billiousness, exercise, go slow and easy; maybe there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy, but, my friend, these I reckon will give you a good lift.
