

SPORT SHOTS

that is my hobby, and most people do not accept money for a hobby that they love. . . . So you young men of Torrance, who think that you would like to learn something about the boxing game. . . . Look Steve 'Kid' Carter up, and he will be glad to help you along the trail.

Marine League Baseball In Full Swing; Tartars vs Gardena

Last week the Mighty Tartars of Torrance won a close nod over their rivals, Narbonne, the final score, 2-1. Tomorrow Bernie Donahue and his 'nine' journey to San Pedro, hoping to win over the bold Pirates of the league. . . . But they must play better ball than last week to take them thru the season, and the championship of their class. Last Friday's game proved to the fans (all 35 of them) that the local lads have a fine team, providing they are able to click before the season is too far gone. Well, here's luck to the boys tomorrow afternoon in San Pedro. Last Friday Jordan (Watts) won over Banning; Leuzinger pulled the surprise of the league by beating Rils, while San Pedro beat Gardena. Tomorrow Narbonne entertains Leuzinger high on Griffin field.

Trojan Track Team Hits Hard Luck Snag for '37 Season

If Coach Dean Cromwell, of U.S.C. continues having as much hard luck for the balance of the coming season, as he has had to date, the teams of the United States may be able to win at least one first place from the 'Mighty Trojans' this year. Here are a few of his misfortunes: Phil Cope, great hurdler, decided to accept a position as a coach in the Philippine Islands, and will not return to school this year; Harold Smallwood, national quarter-mile champion, is through running, and is now fighting for his life in the hospital, an after effect of the flu. Smallwood will be missed this year not only in the 440, but also in the 4-man relay team, Cromwell's hobby event; Kenneth Carpenter, discus champion, recently returned from a tour of the world, but has used his three years of varsity track competition and will try out for the football team. He expects to go out for spring practice.

Owen Hansen, shot-putter, always good for a few points, in the average meet, and who is just beginning to hit his stride, announced that he would not compete this year, but would save a year of eligibility. Loring Day, 14-foot pole vaulter plans to do the same as Hansen, also waiting until Meadows and Sefton are through, before he 'flies through the air'. . . . and now comes the report (according to the Daily Trojan) that LeRoy Kirkpatrick, great high and low hurdler, holder of the interscholastic world's records in both of these events, may be ineligible to compete this year for the Trojan team. . . . and people wonder why coaches become old in their youth!

Your rent money will buy a home.

Two Residents Report Autos Stolen Monday

Two cars owned by local residents were reported stolen Monday.

C. E. Jacobs, 17815 Cypress avenue, had his 1927 Chevrolet sedan taken from 116th and Vermont avenue about noon.

William Parke, 2007 Andree avenue reported his 1934 Chevrolet coupe missing from where he had parked it on Post avenue in front of the Mayfair creamery between 1 and 6 p. m.

Arnold Berg, manager of the A. & P. store here, recovered his car late last week. It was stolen from a parking lot in Los Angeles the night of Feb. 14 and found in front of the Hall of Justice, where Berg learned it had been parked for several days before Los Angeles police checked its ownership.

California's honey industry is beginning to come back after one of the most difficult winter seasons in years.
