TAX CLAIM ACTION INDEFINITE

1933-34 LEVY BEFORE LEGISLATURE

There is no indication as yet when action will be taken on claims for refunds of a portion of the 1933 Los Angeles county taxes, according to a statement this week from W. W. Nier, chief clerk of the division of special claims for the county auditor's office.

"All claims are being held up pending the determination of the question of the legality of the tax rate and until such time the tax receipts must remain attached to the claims," Nier stated.

"At the present time, the question of the legality of the 1933-34 tax levy is now under consideration by the state legislature and we might add that the decision rendered by the superior court has been appealed to the supreme court. We are unable to give you any definite information as to when a final decision will be reached."

Thousands of taxpayers throughout the county who filed claims last November and December, many of whom stood in line for hours, are concerned in the outcome of their claims. The county will be compelled to levy a special tax to raise the funds for payment of the refund, county officials have stated.

Stone Offers Reserves to Sheriff

SHERIFF EUGENE W. BISCAILUZ' major disaster forces were further augmented this week when Col. Lewis S. Stone (left), noted actor and commander of the Los Angeles county reserve, offered the sheriff the aid of his organization. The reserve is composed of 70 civic-spirited horsemen who volunteered to act at their own expense as escorts, mounted guards and patrolmen in the event of a catastrophe.

County Firemen Save Woman At Lomita

For the second time in less than a month, Mrs. Lillian M. Lee, 42, of Harbor City, was revived by the Lomita county fire department respirator squad last night following another sudden heart attack at 2459 26th street, Lomita. She recovered after Capt. Frank Laski and Engineer Carl Schulz and H. W. Nansel had worked over her for an hour and 10 minutes.

Her physician, Dr. J. G. Norman, of San Pedro, was summoned after her heart had repeatedly stopped during the firemen's ministrations but she finally recovered consciousness and today is reported out of danger. The firemen used the Sylvester method of artificial

BLINDS MAY BE EASILY OPERATED

The renewed popularity of Venetian blinds brings up the question of why ordinary window blinds or shutters have fallen from their useful beginnings to the pointlessness of decorations. It is probable that the difficulties presented by the universal use of screens account for their lapse into disuse. Blind operators worked from the inside observe this objection.

respiration, Capt. Laski reported. The same aid was given Mrs. Lee on Jan. 25 for 40 minutes when she suffered the first attack.

Earth's Longest Highway Gains Impetus

Thirteen thousand miles of motor thrills on the great International Pacific Highway, to stretch from Fairbanks, Alaska to Buenos Aires, Argentina.

This is the dream now approaching realization, says news brought from Mexico by Fred C. Davies, sales manager of the Southern division of General Petroleum Corporation, marketers of Mobilgas and Mobiloil.

Davies, who recently made a trip into romantic Mexico, over a portion of the area this "longest highway on earth" will cover, returned with the report that the energies of 10,000 men and 20 million Mexican pesos are now being expended in constructing 381 miles of standard-width, oil macadam road from Toluca north to Guadalajara, along the proposed route.

He also brought news of revived interest in this land of scenic wonders and prehistoric lore, where far-sighted Mexican officials and citizens are preparing to invite the huge motorist traffic now converging on the Pacific Coast of the United States. Recent highway improvements in British Columbia, to tie in with the route through Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona . . . plus appropriations made by Congress for road surveys in Alaska . . . give further evidence that this highway, which will span two continents, is receiving impetus enough to make its completion possible within a few years.

Converging like the lines of a great funnel, the present splendid highways of the Pacific Coast and Mountain states, will feed from Nogales, Arizona, into the Mexican Republic. Here exploration caravans of the Automobile Club of So. California have blazed the trail for 2,800 miles through fertile valleys, with superb scenery and ancient ruins that have inspired many a writer and painter.

"Practical assurance that motorists may mobilize within a comparatively few years for a drive over the Pacific Coast route from the Arctic Circle to the tropic regions, and hundreds of miles below the equator, is now indicated," says the Mobilgas official. "In so doing, they will traverse two continents. The highways will be of incalculable benefit to the entire West, luring motorists from all countries of the civilized world."

PAINTED FLOORS SUIT REMODELED HOUSES

In refinishing old houses, a return of the old type of painted floor is being noticed. In many cases the owner doesn't wish to go to the expense of laying a new floor, and the old one can be satisfactorily scraped, cracks filled, and painted with a good quality paint.

Dark red, black, or yellow are once again the favorites for this type of finish.

To Prevent Strikes The contracts signed last night in Pittsburgh, Pa., by the Lewis organization and the steelmasters are reported to provide that differences arising between now and next March 1, date of the contract's expiration, should be taken up with out cessation of work, with the final decision, if an agreement was not reached, to rest with an impartial umpire named by the company and union.

The companies agreed to recognize seniority rights in all cases of promotion, or increase, or decrease, of forces, with brief reservations; granted a week's vacation with pay for all employees with five or more years' service, and promised to reinstate any union member with

THS GRADS GAIN NOTE

Although the circles in which they move are widely separated, several ex-students of Torrance high school have gained notice because of their unusual success. One of these, Phil Jensen of the class of '36, envied by all undergraduates of the male variety, is enjoying a 20-week cruise in tropical waters. The voyage is part of the training course required by the nautical school which Phil attends.

A postcard received by Miss Irene Mills from Pago Pago, Samoa, states, among other things, "The tropics are just as hot as they say they are in the story books but as far as the romance—phooey!"

Another member of the '36 class has also been successful in an unusual way. Glory Zahradnick, attending L. A. Junior College, studies especially in the music department as a pianist and appears occasionally on KECA both as soloist and accompanist. Her friend and former teacher, Mrs. Marjorie Eischen, is watching with interest Glory's advancing career as a fine pianist.

Continue at Compton Beside these, fine showings have been made by Torrance students at Compton Junior College. Jayne Traller has not only a high scholastic record but holds several important offices. She wields the gavel as president of her sorority, Alpha Tau, and is secretary of the Political Science club. She also worked as a reporter on the Tartar Shiel.

Margaret Condon keeps up her high scholarship standard at Compton as she did when attending Torrance. These and the other students from this city expressed various reasons for their choice of a junior college.

Attendance at a junior college before entering a larger university by students from smaller schools like Redondo, Torrance and Gardena does not mean that the student is not qualified for university upon high school graduation.

Why Junior College? It merely means, that he wishes to make the break between a small high school of a few hundred and a large university of many thousands and a more gradual one. It is an easier adjustment for his pocketbook, living conditions, student contacts, methods of study and class work.

The student who has attended a high school where he knows everyone finds it very hard to adjust himself in a school where he knows practically no one and where his teachers often do not even know him by sight. His confusion is great, and he feels he has few chances to rate in either activities or scholarship when competition is so great.

Therefore, he welcomes with eagerness the opportunity to attend the junior college.

full pay where it has been decided an injustice was done the worker.

Three Holidays Allowed The contracts also reduced to writing the wage increase of 10 cents an hour for all workers and the payment of time and one-half for all work after eight hours in one day or 40 hours in one week, and recognized three holidays, Labor Day, Christmas and July 4.

They also called for a conference to begin next Feb. 7 to provide for contracts to renew those signed.

Fairless Signs First Benjamin F. Fairless, president of Carnegie-Illinois, which employs 120,000, signed first. Others signing were B. F. Harris, National Tube, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; J. L. Perry, Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, Birmingham; C. F. Hood, executive vice president of the American Steel and Wire Company, Cleveland, and A. N. Diehl, of San Francisco, Columbia Steel.

Negotiations with the American Bridge Company, headed by L. A. Paddock, and only other steel producing unit of U. S. Steel not signed up, will begin next week, officials said.
