ANCHOR OF HOPE

By Rev. E. W. Matz
Central Evangelical Church

With the awakening of a new nature around us, the glorious Eastertide again is at hand. With the coming of Easter there comes a renewed faith and confidence, and a quickened interest in the abiding realities of life.

Easter is one of the great days of the year. Its greatness lies not in fact that we know that when Easter comes, spring is not far away. Easter has a far deeper significance than that. Its message is spiritual. It means that Christ broke the power of death; and that because He lives, we too shall live. Over every tomb and the flashing waves of the seven seas the resurrection angel shall stand again, and shall say of us: "He is not here." Easter takes the sting out of death, and gives assurance of a new life beyond the grave. It makes this life meaningful, and anchors our hope in Immortality.

Clerk Counts Steps

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (U.P.)—R. I. Smith has walked 30,387 miles during his 14 years as a clerk for a drug store.

Competent art critics, art patrons and others who worship at the shrine of brush and palette, have been unanimous in their acclaim of "Immortality" (shown above) by Colonel H. Stanley Todd who had previously received international recognition thru his "Nazarene."

Unstinted praise of Immortality have been expressed by notable art critics, pastors, religious, educational and civic personages.

Primarily to create a better understanding and appreciation of American artists and to spread the inspiration of this painting to everyone in Southern California, arrangements have been made to exhibit it without charge while it remains in Los Angeles.

For this showing a suitable and conveniently located auditorium has been obtained at 6000 Santa Monica boulevard, Hollywood.

Famed Choir to Present Concerts

Rev. Frank D. Meehling, pastor of the First Lutheran church here, calls attention to the concert by St. Olaf's Lutheran choir from St. Olaf's Lutheran College at Northfield, Minn., at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, April 9 and at the Polytechnic Auditorium, Long Beach, on April 10. The internationally famous F. Mellus Christiansen will direct the choir.

REBIRTH OF HOPES

Rev. H. W. Ezell
Grace Tabernacle

In the days of simple faith—our fathers directed their thoughts during Eastertide to Christ's Resurrection. To this great Bible event they adhered as indubitable proof of a future life. They had had their dreams of a Paradise, but knowledge of such things is outside the confines of the cradle to grave pilgrimage. Therefore, in order to entertain more than mere superstition, our fathers must needs have sought a higher source of knowledge than their own for facts about this much envisioned subject.

For this reason they began to cherish the Bible account of Christ's resurrection, for in it they found God's revelation of how a future life might be obtained. And because of this revelation, Easter's true meaning to them was a rebirth of long cherished hopes of eternal life thru Christ.

God grant that Easter's true meaning in 1937 will continue as in the days of simple faith.
