Nat'l. Supply Leads El Segundo Tracksters Competing Here in City League Play This Afternoon Against THS Tartars

NITE GAMES HOLD FANS

Tonight: Smith Bros. vs. Paxman & Arnold.
Monday, May 24: Nat'l Supply vs. Smith Bros.
Thursday, May 27: S & S vs. Paxman & Arnold.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Nat'l Supply	2	0	1.000
Smith Bros.	1	0	1.000
P & A	0	1	.000
S & S	0	2	.000

Opening their campaign for the city nightball championship with a rhythmic crescendo of base hits, the National Supply team now stands at the top of the list of four squads in the race. Fans are attending the games in sizable numbers.

Last Thursday night the Supplymen defeated Paxman & Arnold 8 to 6. They collected 11 hits off Luvano while the P & A team was nicking Stanavich for four scattered bingles.

Monday night Sandy and Scott's juniors were crushed by the Nationals 13 to 1, the Olsen, shortstop for the Nationals, poled out a home run, while Pitcher Stanavich was credited with a three-base hit.

Collection to Start
Tonight, Smith Brothers, who defeated the S & S team in the opening game of the nightball season, will be seen in action against the P & A squad. Dale Riley, the "Judge Landis" of the city league, announces that starting tonight a collection will be taken up to defray expenses of the games.

Tickets are to be issued those donating and a $5 merchandise order is to be presented some fortunate fan attending the games.

Here is the box scores of games May 14 to 17: clothers getting their only marker in the seventh inning. The Nationals rapped out a tattoo of 12 hits off Moser and the S & S squad collected three base knocks from Stanavich.

• THE HABITS of ball players are many and varied. Here are some of them:

Buddy Hassett, Brooklyn first baseman—Never yells anything in the field but, "You can do it."

Burgess Whitehead, Giants' second baseman—Throws his legs around like a frog when he's fielding a grounder and making the throw.

Buddy Myer, Washington second baseman—Always dives at the grounders hit past him in an effort to knock them down and prevent extra base hits.

Mel Ott, Giants' outfielder—After the pitcher makes his delivery and there's no play, he always punches the grass several times with his foot.

Joe Medwick, Cardinals' outfielder—When he camps under a high fly, he always pounds his fist into his glove several times while waiting for the ball to come down.

Jimmy Bucher, Brooklyn third baseman—When he's at the bat and has to fall down dodging a pitch, he always lies long enough to pick up a handful of dirt and throw it down. Sometimes it flies right back into his eyes.

Lefty Gomez, Yankees' pitcher—Hitches his pants up 50 to 100 times a game when he's pitching.

Lou Gehrig, Yankees' first baseman—Holds bat on shoulder and bends knees in jack-knife fashion when he's at plate waiting for a pitch.

Dick Bartell, Giants' shortstop—Straddles legs, hitches up trousers and wipes off his right hand all at the same time.

Peaches Davis, Cincinnati pitcher—Only pitcher in majors who doesn't use a windup.

Kiki Cuyler, Cincinnati outfielder—Touches visor continuously in outfield and at bat.

Red Lucas, Pittsburgh pitcher—Never steps on foul lines when going to and from the dugout.

Leo Durocher, Cardinals' shortstop—Always moves other shortstop's glove when he takes his place in the field.

Carl Hubbell, Giants' pitcher—Wears pants half-way down legs like a pair of knickers.

Rogers Hornsby, Brown's manager—Always knocking "mud" off heels of shoes with his bat even on a dry day when there's no mud.

Sam Leslie, Giants' infielder—Never yells anything but, "Shake 'Em Up."

Fred Fitzsimmons, Giants' pitcher—Wheels around and turns his back to batter before delivering a pitch.

MARINE LEAGUE PRELIMS AT LEUZINGER MAY 28

With their first Marine League track victory still as far away as it was at the beginning of the season a month ago, the Torrance Tartars were engaged this afternoon in the final dual meet of the year. They are running, jumping and tossing weights against El Segundo high school's tracksters on the local field.

Unless the Tartars are badly crippled, they should give the Tartars the same kind of treatment Coach Bert Merrill's charges have received at the hands of Leuzinger, San Pedro and Narbonne athletes.

Next Tuesday the Marine league track preliminaries will be held at Leuzinger's field and the finals are scheduled to be run off on Friday, May 28. No observer of the Tartars' track performances is willing to predict how the local school will come out in league competition.

Obstacle Still Present
Last Friday at Gardena, all three teams lost to Gardena's athletes—the varsity 59 to 45, the B's 50 to 45 and the C's 50 to 27. The Torrance boys generally showed up better than they did against Narbonne's Gauchos but the main obstacle to a Torrance victory—lack of material—continued to blast local hopes.

This was never more clearly shown than in the shot-put event. No Tartar weight-heaver showed up to compete so Gardena's tossers scored a grand slam—the only one in the varsity meet. Torrance scored five firsts and won the relay in the varsity division, three firsts and the relay in the B meet, and Hata took first in the 50 yard dash and the 120 low hurdles to score the only lead positions in the C event.
