

Kiwanis Essay Contest Won By Robert Kirkland; Trophy Now On Display In High School Cabinet

A new trophy cup was added to the high school's collection of achievement awards recently when the Kiwanis club's bronze prize was placed on display with the name of Robert Kirkland being the first to be engraved upon it. Kirkland won the service club's first annual essay contest with his work on "School as a Preparation for Life."

He also received a cash award as did Virginia Smith, winner of second place. More than 40 students were entered in the writing event.

Dean Sears, chairman of the essay contest committee, announced and presented the two winners at a recent Kiwanis meeting. The essays were judged for value of ideas, clarity and effectiveness of expression, neatness grammatical construction and had to be 500 words in length. The contest was open to juniors and seniors only. Kirkland's winning essay follows:

"Whether school is a good preparation for life or not, one thing is certain: the subject cannot be handled lightly and requires some thought. In some of its phases school is very beneficial preparation and in some others it is not. It is necessary therefore, to take up and discuss these phases and find out if school does contribute materially as a preparation for life.

Not Responsibility
"School as a society is very good preparation for life. The art of meeting people is, unfortunately, lacking in many of us; we sometimes are actually afraid to meet people singly or in groups. This can determine our success or failure in any vocation. If we become afraid to meet people, we will become introverts with inferior complexes. School takes this out of us. We are forced into an association where, if we are afraid to meet people, our standings will drop proportionately. Therefore, schooling in a social sense, school is a very good preparation for life. It will teach us how to meet people and to have pleasant associations with them.

"A trait very necessary in life is having the ability to assume responsibility. School must certainly be a poor preparation for this, judging from the way some of us carry responsibility. The main trouble with our present school system is: it doesn't teach responsibility. The teacher keeps after us for our lessons, almost dragging them by force from some of us. In college the lessons aren't required to be handed in. If we hand them in, we pass. If we don't, we fail. It all rests with us. It would be a very good system for the higher grades in school to set as an example. It would give us early in life a valuable asset, instead of our learning it later in life by bitter experience. Picnic Date Is Changed

A change in dates for the St. Andrew's Episcopal church Sunday school picnic was announced this week. Instead of being held Friday, June 25, the outing program will be staged Friday, July 2, at the city park, beginning at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. George Shidler is in charge of the arrangements.

Isn't a very good preparation in this phase.

"In following our vocation in life we find it necessary to be good workers. In school we are taught to work well and do a good job. If we are at all intelligent we soon find it is to our advantage to do the work well and neatly, thus forming a habit which may last for a lifetime. It will become a valuable asset as there aren't enough good workers in our world. All of the great men in industry have had to work hard to obtain their posts and to hold them and who are we to deviate from so excellent an example? As school is especially good in developing work habits it is, therefore, in this phase a very good preparation for life.

Selection of Vocation
"Character is very necessary in life and school will quickly bring out the type of character we have. Schools frequently change characters for the better, for if there is any good in us it will come to the fore in schools. Character training is very necessary as a preparation for life, but some of us are slow in realizing this and wonder why we don't succeed in our ambitions. A good character therefore is a very vital necessity in life and it is often trained in school by athletics, vocational activities and class activities. School will mold a character and therefore on this point school is a fine preparation.

"Talent and liking of a vocation are very necessary for success. In school if a pupil among us is very good in sciences and has a natural trend towards a scientific career, he won't be happy in studying any other vocation. School will determine the inclination of our desires and will give us a course which suits us. In this phase school is very good as a preparation as it measures us well, so to speak, and finds the proper place for us.

"The five necessities for success have just been mentioned with school as a preparation for them. Except for a slight deficiency in responsibility, school as a whole is a very fine preparation for life and the farther we progress in school the farther we will go towards success.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

The words of Isaiah "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea," are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" on Sunday. All branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Lesson-Sermon includes these verses from Matthew: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of diseases among the people. . . . And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him: and he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying. . . . Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill."

Among the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the words: "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is, and what He does for man."

Electric Organ Recital Sunday

A recital of classic and other organ compositions will be presented Sunday evening at the Central Evangelical church by Joseph R. Wayne, prominent Los Angeles organist, upon a new Hammond electric organ.

Rev. E. W. Matz announced this week. The public is invited to attend and there will be no charge. Wayne will also play the organ at the regular morning service Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Aside from the cultural appeal to music lovers, the pastor said, the recital will furnish an opportunity to the people of Torrance to see and hear this new instrument, which already has gained widespread use in place of the conventional pipe organ in churches and assembly auditoriums. The tones of the Hammond organ, are generated electrically and its range of tone variety exceeds that of the most elaborate pipe organ, yet it has no pipes or reeds; no air pressure system or vibrating parts and it can never get out of tune. The console fits in a four foot square and weighs barely 300 pounds. It may be installed wherever there is floor space by merely connecting to an electric outlet.

Alonge expects the 1937 tomato pack to set a new record. He anticipates that 15,000 tons will be processed from July 1 to Sept. 15. The tomatoes will be peeled and made into puree, tomato sauce and paste. One hundred and fifty women and 50 men are to be employed, the wages for women being 37½ cents an hour and for men, 40 cents, an increase of five cents an hour for women and seven
