A HOT DISH ON HOT DAY

Regardless of how warm the weather may be, physicians advise the inclusion of at least one hot dish in every meal, and this may well be the meat dish, since there are few other foods so nourishing, or with so tempting an aroma to sharpen the heat-dulled appetite.

Perhaps you will want to combine the meat with the season's garden-fresh vegetables; if so, there are many possibilities for perfect appetite teasers. Here is one:

Royal Ham and Corn Scallop
1 cup diced baked ham
1 cup fresh or canned corn
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon, grated onion
1/2 tablespoon paprika.
Place corn and diced ham in a greased casserole dish. Season with a little onion juice. Make a white sauce with the other ingredients and pour this over the ham and corn. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) until heated through and done, about thirty minutes. Substitute canned, dried, or fresh lima beans for the corn, and you have another delightful combination with ham. The dried limas will need to be soaked and cooked first. Also, it is necessary to pre-cook the

MEAT SALAD IDEAL FOR SUNDAY EVE

Something cool and yet substantial are the requirements for the Sunday night supper, so why not have a meat salad? This is substantial enough to satisfy the heartiest appetite, and tasty enough to tempt the most lethargic one.

As to the kinds of meat salads suitable for the Sunday night supper, there are many. The meat is finely diced and combined with a variety of other foods. Crisp celery and pickles are ingredients of a practically every meat salad, because of the crunchiness they add. Macaroni, carrots, apples, cucumbers, tomatoes, may be used in various combinations with meat.

Cut Meat Into Cubes

The meat for a salad should be cut into pieces which are not so small that they lose their identity. For most salads one-fourth to one-half inch cubes of meat are best. And for a meat salad, there should be plenty of meat. Left-over cold roast pork, veal, lamb or beef are ideal for this dish. Cold baked ham makes an excellent salad as does the ends of a pot-roast. In fact, practically any kind of already cooked meat may be used, so if there are to be guests for the Sunday night supper, perhaps you will want to have a large roast of meat for the Sunday dinner, and make the left over into salad for the supper.

Here are suggestions for hearty meat salads:

Meat and Macaroni Salad
3 cups diced meat
2 cups cooked elbow macaroni
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup diced sweet pickles
Salt and pepper
Salad dressing
Lettuce or escarole
Stuffed olives

Drives To N. Y. In 3 1/2 Days With V-8

Edna May Cooper, former co-holder of the World's airplane refueling record for women, recently drove her Ford V-8 "60" from Los Angeles to New York, a total distance of 3,156 miles, in three and one-half days.

Mrs. Cooper, accompanied by her son, Karl, drove to New York to complete plans for an airplane endurance flight in which she is slated to attempt the establishment of a record shattering the present one of 287 hours 42 minutes. The existing record was established by Frances Marsalis and Helen Richey at Miami, Florida, in 1933.

And speaking of records, Mrs. Cooper makes the claim that her driving time to New York sets a cross-country driving record for women. She credits Ford V-8 roadability and comfort with making the feat possible. The aviatix said, "The performance of the V-8, 60 horsepower engine was satisfactory in every respect. It was one of the most economical trips I have ever taken."

In recounting her experiences of the journey, Mrs. Cooper pointed out that the pickup of her Ford V-8 made it possible to avoid being wrecked by two bandits who attempted to stop her outside of Peru, Illinois, by shooting at the car's tires. According to the aviatix, the entire cost of the trip for gasoline, change of oil and lubrication jobs was only thirty-one dollars. The Ford V-8's average gasoline mileage was 24 miles per gallon.
