Pinch-hitting for Bob Lewellen (now vacationing)

I am making my debut as a sports columnist this week while I am pinch-hitting for our friend and sports editor, Bob Lewellen, who is now vacationing in the immediate vicinity of Stockton, California. No doubt the prestige that Bob has built up for this column cannot be augmented by an amateur such as I am. However, I hope that the column this week is interesting enough so as not to detract from its prestige. Here goes—

Within the walls of Troy, in the field of sports for next year, we find—

GRID PROSPECTS
"Tiny" Schupbach, latest sensation fanned into the freshmen football line, is a little boy from Sanderson high school, Texas, where he was reputed as an "all state" tackle in 1934. Tiny is now 20 years old, stands six feet five inches and weighs in the neighborhood of 255 pounds. In basketball Tiny has five years' experience at center and guard positions; his best playing weight is 235 pounds. At this weight he has been timed in a 100-yds. under 11 seconds, which is exceptional time for a man his size. They tell me he has never thrown a shot before and doesn't know anything about it now, but last spring, while standing flat-footed in a shot ring, he dropped the 16-pound iron pellet off his shoulder and it fell 44 feet away from him. It is also rumored that he can punt about 70 yards. Not bad, for a little boy.

Providing plenty of competition for the Texas (Baby Face) Terror, will be Jack Young, last year's Freshman shot putter of about 45 feet, who stands six feet two inches and weighs about 230 pounds. Young is formerly of Riis high school.

Another contender for the tackle position will be Mr. Moe, from Black Foxe Military Academy. Moe stands six feet three inches and weighs 205 pounds. Coming in as an end, we find John Bogue, Redondo high school graduate who was outstanding in the Bay League last year. Bogue stands six feet two and one-half inches and weighs about 185 pounds.

Winner to Play Supply for City Championship

Tied up tighter than a skin on a grape for the second-half championship, Sandy & Scotty and the Smith Brothers' City League nightball teams will clash next Monday night, Aug. 16, at the city park diamond. The outcome of that game will determine which of the two clubs will win the right to play the National Supply, victor of the first round, for the city title.

A five-game play-off is scheduled to determine that honor. The starting date for this wind-up attraction has not been fixed as yet by the City League powers.

If the Sandy & Scotty youngsters continue playing the brand of nightball they have displayed in their last two encounters, then the Smiths are in for a lot of trouble. But, on the other hand, the Smiths have demonstrated that they know how to climb out of holes and buck stiff competition until the last man is out.

400 Fans Cheer Teams
Last Thursday night a pitchers' battle that really lived up to that name was played between the National Supply and the S. & S. squad. Moser pitched a no-hit game for the S. & S. boys until the ninth inning. Then he walked one Supplyman and the next one up rapped out a home run. The Supply team won, 2 to 0.

Monday evening the S. & S. team defeated their arch-rivals, the Smiths, in a 10-inning encounter that had more than 400 fans sitting on the edges of their seats and yelling themselves hoarse. The Smiths led until the eighth canto when the S. & S. youngsters tied the score 8 to 8. Then the younger team scored the winning tally in the tenth, 9 to 8.

Moser and Hall, pitching for the S. & S., allowed the Smiths nine hits, while Barnhardt and Foster were touched for 10 hits by the Sandys. Hall was credited with winning the game. Trezise and Hall each poled out homers.

Challenge Series Due
After the City League championship is decided, the victors must still answer a challenge flung down several weeks ago by the teams in the Twilight League.

They propose to form an "All-Star" team to meet the city champs in a three-game series to determine the 1937 Torrance all-city title.

Here is the box score of last Monday night's game which tied up the Smiths and Sandy & Scotty:

Baseball On Moon Is Described

The mysteries of the moon and that pale, beautiful light that it reflects from the sun to dissipate the darkness; its changing form and its rapid motion among the stars will be the subject of the August demonstration at the Griffith Park Planetarium.

"The moon has been called an astronomer's paradise in spite of the fact that it would be a very unpleasant place to live. As in the planetarium sky, the stars and planets shine by day as well as by night. And they shine in a black sky with far greater splendor than we can imagine," Dr. Dinsmore Alter, director of the institution, declared.

"For instance, a baseball game on the moon would be a very interesting sight to watch. The outfielders would stand more than a quarter of a mile from the home plate to catch the long hits which would be possible with gravity only one-sixth that on the earth. There would be plenty of hits, for the lack of air would prevent the pitcher from throwing any curves. So a game might last a long time, but would seldom be called on account of darkness, because each day is half a month long."

Free Classes Offered Here

A different plan of arts and crafts instruction is being followed now at the local WPA park, according to Cecil Dow. Instead of basketry, painting and artificial flower-making, those enrolled in the free classes are being taught the manufacture of rings, bracelets, hairbands, tapestries and other useful and decorative articles. Charles Fritter is in charge of the handicraft section.

Not only is the new activity expected to provide greater interest than in the past, Dale Riley, Recreation supervisor, said this week, but those engaged in the making of the articles will be learning worthwhile trades which may lead to employment.

All ball teams of the Recreation department, including baseball, midget and softball, played at Gardena throughout the current week, Riley announced.

Enlarged Range Opened By 18 Pistoleers

Eighteen members of the Torrance Revolver and Pistol club assembled at their improved range off Plaza del Amo last Sunday and fired 2,010 shots in 67 strings to re-dedicate the outdoor gallery. They had just completed enlarging the range with the assistance of funds supplied by the city council.

The present improvement is not the last, according to Capt. John H. Stroh, president of the club. He said that the grounds will be landscaped and beautified with shrubbery and trees to make it one of the city's outstanding recreational centers. Following are the scores made on the opening day of the enlarged range:

PHIL LIEB ON GAUCHO GRID STAFF

There will be great rejoicing a month from tomorrow when Lomita boys and girls throng back to Narbonne high school and learn, that, in addition to the sagacious Ben Comrada, the Gauchos football coaching staff has gained Phil Lieb, brother of the famed Tom Lieb, mentor of the Loyola University Lions. Miss Clementina de Forest Griffin, principal of Narbonne high, revealed this week that young Lieb will assist Comrada in developing the 1937 Gauchos squad. The new mentor will take Bill Thurman's place on the Narbonne faculty.

Has Tough Schedule
It is believed that the Lomita assignment is Lieb's first venture into coaching football. That he will be a worthy addition to the Gauchos "brain-trusters" is certain because of his older brother's high rank in the football world.

Tom Lieb's Loyola schedule next fall will include 11 games—Caltech, Redlands, Hardin-Simmons and Baylor of Texas, St. Mary's, Santa Clara, University of San Francisco, Arizona, Centenary, Villanova and Gonzaga. Lieb has 24 returning lettermen from a team that defeated six out of nine opponents last year.

They Dream of Vanquishing the Mighty Seabiscuit

Owners of Sobriety take no chances on their temperamental steed having had dreams and suffering injuries in rolling around his stable at nights before he meets the mighty Seabiscuit in the near future at Longueurs, Cal. Roy (Doc) Wilder has been assigned to sleep in the stall with Sobriety to quiet him at nights while training him in the daytime for an attempt to break the winning streak of Mrs. C. S. Howard's great horse, winner of seven handicaps in a row on Eastern tracks.

LOMITANS BLANKED BY SAN PEDRO, 6 TO 0

Shutout pitching and eight grievous errors were responsible for the Lomita Merchants' defeat 6 to 0 last Sunday at the hands of the San Pedro Merchants at Navy field in the port city. Hec Carroll, crack Navy pitcher, limited Walt Morris' crew to three hits and he struck out nine in a fine performance. Pat Malone of the invaders did some good tossing himself, yielding only five bingles and fanning two.

Errors figured in all the Pedrans' tallies. The San Pedro club scored four times in the third on chargeable mistakes and one hit and once in the fourth and eighth.

Next Sunday the Lomitans

return to play at the city park diamond with the Follies theatre nine of Los Angeles furnishing the opposition. The invaders won from the San Pedro Merchants two weeks ago by a score of 7 to 2. Malone and

Old Voter Not Citizen
DURANT, Okla. (U.P.)—W. J. Stonehouse, who has been voting the Democratic ticket for 64 years, discovered he was not a legal citizen of the United States, not entitled to vote and not eligible to receive an old age pension. He did not apply for American citizenship when he came to the United States from Ontario, Canada, when he was 18.

Foster will be the Lomita battery.

FOX HUNTING IN HILLS DUE THIS FALL

"Tally-ho! Yoicks and a View-Halloo!"

The baying of hounds will resound thru the Palos Verdes Hills this fall as red-coated horsemen and horsewomen streak over hill and dale on the hurricane decks of their spirited steeds.

The Palos Verdesians have taken up fox-hunting in a big way. Mrs. Phyllis French, noted horsewoman who brought a pack of hounds to her Farmstead estate last spring, plans to inaugurate the hunts early in October.

Right now there's a bustle of activity in training and grooming for that great day in the social annals of the Southland. The hunting clique will be known as the Rolling Hills Hunt club. Masters of the first hunt will be Adrian Roark, noted polo player, and Bert-ran Gough.

Leonards On Trip To Northwest

City Engineer Frank R. Leonard and Mrs. Leonard are enjoying a month's vacation, touring Yellowstone and Glacier National parks and visiting other scenic attractions in the Pacific Northwest. Leonard did not take his two-weeks' vacation last year.
