Evening High Studies Start

Enrollment in the Torrance Evening high school is progressing very satisfactorily, according to Principal Guy Mowry.

Several of the classes have nearly reached their capacity and those interested in the courses offered should enroll at once in order to receive benefit of the early lessons, he said.

Mr. Merrill, who taught four years at Manual Arts Evening high school, has replaced Mrs. Padelbord as typing instructor here and is giving lessons in that subject Monday and Wednesday nights.

A shop teacher has not yet been assigned here although one is in prospect. Oscar Trygg is serving as substitute until a regular instructor is named.

Tonight a class in cosmetology is to be formed for classes one night each week taught by Mrs. Canine. Miss Blake, who spent the summer in China, has resumed directing the women's gym class on Monday nights.

The Columbia Steel classes will begin work next Monday evening. There will be five classes, two in metallurgy, one in shop mathematics of the steel industry.

Mixed Blessing
DANVILLE, O. (U.P.)—Relighting of the city's streets, darkened since July because of unpaid municipal bills now just straightened out, was a mixed blessing. A plague of moths has appeared.

FOUR SPORTS SPONSORED AT THIS TIME

The South Bay Recreation association, of which the Torrance Recreation department is a member, held a meeting Monday night to determine fall and winter activities among boys and girls of this district. It was decided to sponsor a midge softball tournament for boys under 13 years old, paddle tennis for boys and girls, touch football for boys and volleyball for girls.

Torrance has yet to form a volleyball team among its girls and any who are in the eighth grade or under are eligible to join such a squad at the Recreation headquarters in the city park. Courts are to be set up back of the ball park there. No equipment has been received here as yet but the recreation leaders hope to have some next week.

For Boys Under 17
Lawndale, who has entered a volleyball team, won the league tournament last year. Gardena has entered two teams.

All boys who are not playing football and would like to engage in the gridiron sport may do so by turning out for touch-football games that will begin Friday afternoon after school, under direction of the local Recreation department. A team will be formed to compete in the South Bay tournament which already has three squads entered, Raymond, St. Andrews of Gardena and Jefferson school of Lennox.

Games will be played beginning the first week in October. Boys under 17 are eligible to participate and Ray Chambers, who is in charge of the athletic department, will serve as coach.

Boys Win Gifts
One of the features of last Saturday's auction was the spirited bidding for the set of Goodrich wheels and axles to equip a Soap Box Derby car.

Eleven-year-old George Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Winters of 1210 El Prado, won the prize of a Soap Box Derby car.

Other prizes won by the boys were a set of Goodrich wheels and axles to equip a Soap Box Derby car.

avenue and Marcelina to traffic and the Torrance Fire department illuminated the auction area with two huge flood lamps. Displayed for sale were a brand-new Ford truck which Schultz and Peckham, Ford dealers, generously allowed the Merchants' association to use for the collection of the gifts.

President Alden Smith of the sponsoring association was kept busy counting Share Shekels and certifying that the amounts offered tallied with the "selling knock-down price" obtained by Auctioneer Ray Brooks.

The Mixmasters, valued at $20.50 each, were "purchased" by Peter Colombo of 1342 Encarnacion avenue, who recently became a proud father, and Mrs. Tom Perkins, wife of the city police officer who lives at 2306 Torrance boulevard. Colombo obtained his Mixmaster for 65,000 Share Shekels while Mrs. Perkins was forced to bid 90,000 for hers.
