Janet Woodington, Helene Miller, Cleora Stanger, Sadie Boyd, Jean Guyan, Leel Kerber, Lorain Ulrich, Anna McFarland, Jack Williams, Fred Lessing, J. F. Dalton, Lena Olsen, Clemma Watson, Hazel Fossum, Bertha Mueller and Mrs. Moore.

Legion Auxiliary Annual Carnival Saturday Evening

Outstanding in the week's social activities is the American Legion Auxiliary's annual dance and carnival, which will be held in the Legion hall on Carson street, Saturday evening, Oct. 9. Graffie's Ingelwood Orchestra, which scored such a hit on its last visit to this city will furnish dance music.

An additional feature will be the appearance of George Hounslow, noted psychic in special readings. For those who do not care to dance there will be game play, amusement booths and an attractive dining room, where choice eats will be served at moderate prices. Tickets may be secured from auxiliary members or at the entrance.

Mrs. Herbert Robinson, chairman for the affair will be assisted by some 20 ladies of the organization.

Business Meeting
The regular meeting of the Bert S. Crossland American Legion Auxiliary will be held in the Legion hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 12.

Doings of Women of the Moose

Torrance Women of the Moose Drill Team will go to Culver City Monday evening to assist in the opening of the new home of the Culver City lodge. It will be visitation night for officers of the Southern division Women of the Moose. A class of 25 candidates will be initiated.

A number of women of Torrance lodge attended the opening of the new hall by lodge 860 in Los Angeles, Monday evening.

A regular social meeting is planned for Friday (tomorrow) at 7:45 p. m. in the hall at 1526 Cravens avenue.

A baked ham dinner and card party sponsored by Women of the Moose will be held in the hall, 1526 Cravens avenue, Thursday evening, Oct. 28. The public is invited.

MRS. McEWAN SERVES TURKEY DINNER
Mrs. Aida McEwan, Carson street, who won the turkey at the Herald Cooking school Friday entertained at dinner in her home that evening. Covers were placed for her mother, Mrs. Ada Munsie, Mrs. Mary Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Don Condon and children, Margaret and Marshall and Mrs. McEwan.

Evalyn Warrington Feted at Birthday Party
The birthday of Evalyn Warrington furnished the incentive for a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Mary Schroeder, 1016 Arlington avenue, Monday evening. Guests were Mmes. Annie Woodbourne, Loretta Miller, Vincent Vuellinave, Thelma Keller, Marie Benson, Wm. Ruppel.

Bridge furnished entertainment. Prizes were captured by Mmes. Keller, Benson and Ruppel.

Paris Styles by MARY FENTRESS

PARIS, (U.P.)—Your choice of buttons may be an index to your personality during the coming winter—for they have ceased to be utilitarian fasteners following conventional designs and may be simple or elaborate, humorous or symbolic, according to the whim of the individual.

Simple, dark bone buttons that another season would be tucked away out of sight, parade up the backs of simple sports dresses. Large wooden buttons are made into flowers and animals for the blouses of soft woolsens.

Schiaparelli features—wooden buttons in the form of flowers. Violins are another of her button types that serve as the only trim for severely cut frocks.

There are fur buttons for double-breasted coats and suits, and Jenny uses large gold buttons on a black afternoon dress and trims the neckline of a white evening gown with small circles of the metal.

Chanel trims a black velvet strapless evening gown with a flower design in shell-like buttons.

Double-breasted jackets fasten with large wooden buttons at many fashion houses and others show jackets buttoned to high, round necklines. Louiseboulangere uses buttons on the side-seams of a straight black wool dress with square collar and yoke edged in white.

Buttons are featured as trim on a gold wool dress worn with a grayish beige double-breasted coat trimmed in lynx at Jenny's. Mainbocher uses large gold and black ones on the front of a black broadcloth coat. Lanvin buttons back the revers of a dark green suit trimmed in light green with big gold buttons and repeats the trim on the orange blouse of the suit.

Today's Fashion Tip
Leather belts and matching buttons are shown on woolen sports frocks for winter.

JUNIOR GIRLS FORM CLUB IN CHURCH
Junior high school girls at St. Andrew's Episcopal church under the leadership of Mrs. James Howe have been organized into a club. The group met for the first time last week at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall. A pot-luck supper and meeting will be held tonight in the parish hall.

The local group may affiliate with the Girl's Friendly society which is a national organization in the Episcopal church. Many interesting plans for the future are being made by the girls and Mrs. Howe.

MYERS HOSTS AT DINNER PARTY
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers, 1230 Cravens avenue, were hosts when they entertained at a venison dinner in their home Saturday evening. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lewellen, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Babbitt and the hosts.

After the dinner contract bridge furnished diversion. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lewellen and Mr. Babbitt.

NOW FOLKS—

I wish that you would just take a glance at my window and see what the modern trend is in the new colors for Interior Decorating for your bathroom and kitchen.

Of Course, its SW Paints that bring out the lovely colors.

It was suggested that the president of the Troop 219 auxiliary consult with other auxiliary troop presidents and perhaps with the home mother group.

Working together the auxiliaries should command the co-operation of the entire community. If Scouting is to go ahead in Torrance there must be a place for the boys to meet.

Donna Jean Weber Celebrates Her Fourth Birthday

The fourth birthday of Donna Jean Weber furnished the incentive for one of the loveliest children's parties, when her mother, Mrs. G. D. Weber, 2032 Gramercy avenue, invited a group of little folks to help celebrate the event. Games were played in the front of the house. Refreshments were served.

Cunning favors marked places for Doris Lee and Marlene Quaglin, Ann Marie Bishop, Geraldine Deterich, Betty Lou and Lois McKee, Helen and Eddie Fortner, Bernmah and Kenneth Cramer, Donald Fetherolf, Donnie Lee Evans, Johnnie Gasco, David Babcock, Mmes. William Phillips, Ethel McKee, C. B. Comer, Misses Virginia Zampelini, Vera Mae and Dorothy Weber.

Ask for these at the Library

A list of modern fiction on America as interpreted by Americans has proved interesting to many libraries and friends of libraries. Several lists have been made, but one that has been chosen within certain limitations such as acuteness of observation, correct perspective, and artistic expression of the author (plus the usual criteria demanded of novels and other books of literary quality) has many titles which the Torrance public library hopes readers have not missed.

In the section devoted to southern states, do you know?

THREE HEADED ANGEL, a collection of plantation stories by Roark Bradford; HAPPY MOUNTAIN, (1928) and HOME PLACE, (1929), both by Marjorie Chapman.

The charm of these stories of Tennessee mountain people lies in character studies and the poetic language.

VEIN OF IRON (1935) by Ellen Glasgow, a fine study of Scotch-Irish folk in Virginia.

ROMANTIC COMEDIANS

(1929) by Ellen Glasgow, amusing, penetrating novel of changing standards in Virginia society.

LAMB IN HIS BOSOM

(1936) by Caroline Miller, a story of pioneering life in Georgia back-country pre-Civil War days written with charm and sincerity.

GONE WITH THE WIND

Margaret Mitchell—No description needed.

SCARLET SISTER MARY

(1929) by Julia Peterkin, a colorful story revealing the fineness as well as the weakness and superstition of the Negro of South Carolina.

SOUTH MOON UNDER

(1933) by M. K. Rawlings, a simple story of life in the Florida backwoods, in the scrub country where pioneer life still exists.

MADAME TOUSSAINT'S WEDDING DAY

(1936) by Thad St. Martin, a remarkably vivid picture of a remote Cajun community on a delta of the Mississippi.

GREEN MARGINS

(1936) by E. P. O'Donnell, a study of Cajun and Slavs on the Mississippi delta.

THE FORGE

(1932) and THE CATHEDRAL, (1934) all by T. S. Stripling, a first hand report and study of the lower social levels of the South today.

SO RED THE ROSE

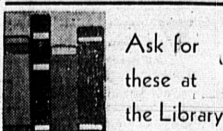

(1934) by Stark Young, a slow moving tale but a massive impression of Louisiana Planters in Civil War days.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS AT WEGNER HOME

Mrs. Gilbert Wegner, 1603 Post avenue, entertained members of her bridge club in her home Thursday. Included were Mmes. Baker Smith, L. H. Deinger, J. C. Snow, L. G. Barkdull, Nick Cucci, Robt. Ashley, R. A. Bingham, and the hostess. Prizes for high scores were awarded Mmes. Snow and Barkdull.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY TO ELECT OFFICERS

Mrs. Mildred Hopson, president of the unit, has announced that the Lomita V. F. W. Auxiliary will hold its annual election of officers tonight (Thursday) at the V. F. W. hall. All members are urged to attend.
