What makes a happy home? Those who attended the meeting of Torrance high school Parent Teachers Association held in the school music room Monday afternoon have a very definite idea.

The theme for the meeting "Peace and Understanding in The Home" was interpreted by students of the school in a most interesting and amusing manner. Students of B-7 junior high classes interpreted the part music plays in the home. Social Arts classes under Miss Helen Collier gave two short skits illustrating the atmosphere in the well-mannered home and vice versa. Miss Doris Kresse spoke on the subject "What Makes a Happy Home?" Miss Muriel Duncan, a new member on the school faculty, who is girls physical training instructor spoke of healthful living. In no uncertain manner did she tell parents what their young folks expect of them as parents and what they, in turn, have a right to expect of their children.

BRIDEGROOM RATES A SHOWER

"At last, at last," said the society reporter, "there's something new to write about, a surprise shower for a prospective bridegroom. Well, why not, it's about time the groom got a break and some of the limelight."

Gilbert Derouin, who is soon to lead Miss Ethel Ward to the altar, was the honoree and the place, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sweetser in Los Angeles, with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jordan as co-hosts. The time, Saturday evening, Nov. 6, Derouin was showered with, should we say lovely or hand-some? gifts, which he received with becoming modesty and appropriate thanks. The invited guests were Derouin, his fiancée Miss Ward, Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Zuber, Arthur Thistle, Von Bergen, Phillip Tepper, Calvin Thomas, Swanton Dalton, Mrs. Belle Sweetzer and Dick Jordan.

M. E. LADIES PLAN

Say Luncheon With Soup!

It's open season for soup—so why not start right now to prepare some for tomorrow's luncheon? Both men and boys are converts to soups of lentils, split peas and black beans—so delicious, nourishing and agreeably inexpensive. And did you ever try any of the foreign recipes? Italian minestrone composed of dried and fresh vegetables with large macaroni needs only the addition of grated Parmesan cheese.

When the contents of the soup kettle simmer over a top burner of a modern gas range, very little heat is needed; for tiny beads of flame maintain the boiling gently while the food elements are extracted. Long slow cooking is thrifty because so little fuel is consumed.

Soup may be made in the oven too and it will continue to cook on heat retained in an insulated oven after the burner is turned off.

PARIS (U.P.)—Girls who like to wear fussy, ultra-feminine clothes for evening wear will have every opportunity to do so this winter. It's the time for glistening and slinky satins, ruffled taffetas and soft, feminine nets.

Feminine gowns are styled with full, flowing skirts. Some affect tight bodices and a tiny suggestion of hoops in the flared skirt. Others cling to the Empire silhouette idea, with close-fitting lines molded to the figure.

Many of the gowns fashioned of net show skirts which are completely ruffled. A few feature the pannier extension at the hipline, a flattering departure for those with slim hips. Black and white are especially effective color choices in this material, with pastels also good.

For those who like to glisten and sparkle in their party finery alluring brocades in dusty pinks and turquoise blues are available. Gold and silver laces, when used to form the bodice of the dress, will gladden any young thing with a sophisticated trend.

Taffetas are almost entirely shown in silhouettes. They usually have narrow belts, caught at a high waistline, and embroidered with gay, brilliant stones. White is the popular trend in taffeta evening gowns. Dull pinks and soft blues follow in order.

Speaking of brilliant stones, a new wrinkle is to have rhinestone shoulderstraps. Of course, this is not true of dresses in lame, which are showy enough. If you like, there are evening dresses which show sequin-embroidered flowers against a black background.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP
Glistening laces and slinky satins are favorites for evening dresses.
