ACTION FOR SLANDER by Mary Borden

If you want a readable narrative, you can't beat a good courtroom scene. "This is a man's quarrel, the party was a man's party, and the fate of a man hangs in the balance," thus spoke counsel for the plaintiff. But was it purely a man's quarrel? Read this engrossing narrative and discover for yourself the story behind the evidence.

AND SO VICTORIA by Vaughn Wilkins

Here is a story abounding with excitement and action from start to finish, combining romance, adventure and history. Covering the two decades before Victoria's accession to the throne of England, a time of plots and counterplots, of royal scandal and shame, its scene ranges over the world. Two appealing characters are the center of all the vastly exciting intrigues. The author's style has been compared to "combination of the romance of Alexandre Dumas with the cunning of Sherlock Holmes."

THE ANNOYED by Clyde B. Davis

This unusual book, ranking among the first five in the best seller class, is entirely original, fresh and alive. It is the story of a boy, written with simplicity and ease and excitement. The boy is called by one critic, "a slightly 'cuckoo' Tom Sawyer."

TO WALK THE NIGHT by William Sloane

This is a really superior mystery story. The story of a woman, strange and beautiful who complicates the lives of four men. There is no detective in it, only an absorbing and impenetrable problem, a group of finely developed characters and a terrifying solution.

Proceeds from Nov. 27 Dance to Aid Afflicted Youth

Realizing that he needs special medical treatment that neither he nor his family can afford, a group of young friends of likeable Johnny Selby decided last week to stage a benefit dance for him at the Civic Auditorium. They had no idea that their good work would receive such community-wide approbation and support.

This week it appears that the "Johnny Selby Dance," to be held Saturday night, Nov. 27, at the Civic Auditorium will be thronged with merry-makers, many of whom do not even know the young fellow who now suffers a serious nervous disorder.

All of the proceeds from the dance—the tickets are selling for $1 per couple—above some relatively small expenses will go into a fund that will send Johnny to the famed Loma Linda Sanatorium, near Redlands, where he will receive the specialized diagnosis and treatment that he urgently needs.

Prizes Between Dances. Originally planned by a group of about 20 young people, headed by Ladeene Banks, chairman; Betty Stevenson, Bee Christensen, John Schroeder, William Shawyer and Vernon Col, the benefit has received the endorsement of the Rotary, Kiwanis, 20-30, National Business and Professional Women's and Torrance Woman's clubs and representatives of those groups will serve as patrons.

One of the features of the dance will be the distribution of a number of valuable gifts—all donated to make the event the success it deserves to be—between every dance. These will include merchandise and jewelry from local firms, orders for various types of goods, and one friend of Johnny has promised to bake a special cake for the prize array.

Was Tartar Grid Star. The object of these charitable intentions has been unable to work for more than a month because of his affliction. How he became ill is unknown, but less than a year ago he was a healthy, active young man of 22 looking forward to taking his place in the industrial world. Johnny graduated from Torrance high school with the class of 1935. He was a star football player here four years and has a host of friends who deeply regret his present illness.

They intend that he shall receive the treatment that Loma Linda specialists can provide and that he

Two-year-old Philip Piner is shown at left after physicians at Children's Hospital in San Francisco finally succeeded in locating and extracting an open safety pin which moved around inside him for a week. At right is an X-ray shot of the pin after it finally became impaled on stomach tissue and remained stationary.

PATSY IS SIX YEARS OLD

A gala time was enjoyed by those children who on Friday gathered at the McCall home, 2114 Arlington avenue, to help Patsy McCall celebrate her sixth birthday.

Games known to the children as turtle race and pin the tail on the donkey furnished plenty of fun after which the conventional birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream and candy at a table decorated in pink and blue.

Attractive figures were placed for Juanita Ritchie, Betsy Morgan, Joan Summers, Emma Jean Summers, Betty Lou Summers, Nancy Ann Whyte, Marilyn Haarer, Janice Haarer, Ann Galimore, Lois Severns, Shirley Severns, Nell Hocott and Patsy.

Demonstration, Free Towels at Sam Levy Store

An interesting demonstration of the new 1938 model G-E automatic flatbed ironer will be conducted by Miss Clarice Tulp, General Electric home laundry counselor, at the Sam Levy Department Store, all day Friday, Nov. 12, it is announced by Levy.

Every woman who comes into the store Friday to watch the demonstration will be given a towel as a souvenir, Levy states. The new 1938 model G-E automatic flatbed ironer is an exclusive General Electric development which is destined to revolutionize the job of home laundrying, according to the local merchant.

"You sit down—before this ironer and relax. Smooth the material over the large ironing surface. Then draw the control bar gently toward you. That's all you do. Automatically, the ironing board rises to meet the shoe. It irons everything beautifully—shirts, dresses, fine embroidery and ruffles. It is so simple to operate that a child can use it. Heat and pressure together do a superior ironing job, and the money it saves in pressing bills will pay for it," states Levy.

Miss Tulp will be at the Sam Levy Department Store all day Friday, Nov. 12, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. to demonstrate the new G-E ironer and distribute free towels to those who watch the demonstration.
