4 STEEL FACTS in one minute

Steel Mills Produce Cattle Food
A fattening food for livestock, consisting of iron shavings soaked with edible palm oil, is produced by steel mills as a by-product of the plate manufacture.

Who Uses American Steel?
Almost 94 per cent of the steel made in this country during the first half of 1937 was used here.

It Takes Water to Make Steel
The steel industry needs four billion gallons of water per day to make steel, cool machinery, etc. New York City uses only one-fourth as much per day.

American Steel Wages Highest in World
Steel workers in America earn 140 per cent more per hour than those in foreign countries.

Sisters Reunited After 33 Years

Meeting again for the first time in 33 years was a thrilling and tearful experience for Mrs. V. H. Haworth of North Torrance and Mrs. Lulu Fletcher of Indianapolis, Ind. The tears were happy ones and since the reunion the two sisters have enjoyed many visits with friends in the Southland and Mrs. Fletcher has been conducted on a route of trips to interesting points.

The Iowa visitor came here to attend the wedding of her niece—not her granddaughter, as incorrectly reported in last week's Herald—Mrs. John Rogers, who with her new husband returned from a honeymoon to Boulder Dam late last week.
