"There is not in this wide world a valley so sweet As that vale in whose bosom the bright waters meet. Oh! the last rays of feeling and life must depart Ere the bloom of that valley shall fade from my heart!" —Moore.

That beautiful valley, the vale of Avoca where the rivers Avon and Avoca meet, is in County Wicklow, Ireland.

QUESTIONS
How long has shorthand been in existence?

Who was Mother Goose? Why is grapefruit called grapefruit?

TODAY'S PROVERB
"Said the monkey to the bear, 'It's as easy to grin as to growl.'"
Our good old friend Shakespeare, tells us that "a light heart lives long," which is also good propaganda for smiles.

ANSWERS
Shorthand was invented in ancient times. Cicero's amanuensis, Tyro, used a system of shorthand. The oldest system still in existence, the Ars Scribendi—Characteris—was written in the early 15th century. The first English book on shorthand was written by Timothy Bright in 1588 and was quaintly named "Characterie, or the art of short, swift and secret writing."
Well, children, Mother Goose or Elizabeth Goose was the mother-in-law of T. Fleet, who published "Mother Goose's Melodies," a collection of nursery rhymes, in Boston, in 1719.
The grapefruit is so called because it grows in bunches.

'SNOW WHITE' APPEALS TO ALL

"SNOW WHITE" sings with her tiny companions, Grumpy, Dopey, Sneezy, Bashful, Sleepy, Happy and Doc, in one of the many surprising sequences of Walt Disney's full-length Technicolor production, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

"Grimm's Fairy Tales were not written especially for children," says Walt Disney. "Few children, if any, could read or write when Grimm wrote his famous book. The 'Tales' were intended for adult entertainment. It was inevitable that the illustrated editions should eventually be classified for juveniles, but many older people today will probably find 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs' and the other 'tales' just as fascinating as did the mature readers of 'Grimm's first printing.'"

That this theory is well founded may be verified by the adult interest in Disney's full-length RKO release of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in Multiplex Technicolor. Judging from record-breaking audiences at the Carthay Circle Theatre in Los Angeles, "Snow White" cannot be rated as a "children's picture." The children come in droves, of course, but boxoffice statements show the adult attendance is outnumbering children's admissions by a striking percentage.

It was Disney's contention when he started work on the film in 1934, that adult curiosity and adult memory of the famous "Snow White" story would mean a preponderance of adult patrons wherever the picture played.
"The obvious secret of a successful show," says Disney, "is the element

Stars Shine in Bright Comedy

Teaming Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell for the third time, with Robert Benchley featured in one of his funniest characterizations and with Helen Vinson as the "other woman," the new M-G-M romantic comedy, "Live, Love and Learn," opening tonight at the Torrance theatre.

Placed largely in the colorful atmosphere of Greenwich Village's Bohemian art colony, "Live, Love and Learn" develops a sparkling story of the married life of a penniless artist and the girl who forsakes wealth and society to marry him.

The role of "Julie," Montgomery's wife, is said to offer Rosalind Russell a telling opportunity to display her talents. Entailing a lavishness seldom before matched in pictures of this type, magnificent salons contrast with shabby artists' quarters in "Live, Love and Learn," providing a perfect background for the comedy and melodrama of the picture.

San Pedran Seeks Congress Post

Dr. F. McLean Campbell of San Pedro this week announced his intention to become a Republican candidate for Congressional representative from the 17th district. He said he felt his experience with labor and industry in the district qualified him to "work intelligently for a program to stabilize labor and industry."

Drum Dance Is Film Highlight

Sixteen drums formed a stairway from the ground. Each drum was about a foot higher than the next. Perched atop the highest drum was Eleanor Powell, about to do her most elaborate number for "Rosalie," the ultra lavish new musical, opening Sunday at the Plaza theatre in Hawthorne with Nelson Eddy co-starred with Eleanor Powell for the first time.

Director W. S. Van Dyke II arranged his thousand-and-more extras in line along a row of fountains in the background. Electricians flooded the night with their 250 arc flood lights, the music started and Miss Powell commenced her number.
"Down the drums she came, her feet tapping a fast tempo. The 24-manpower camera boom swung with her movements, descending to ground level, then moving back up as the dancer started the return journey to her perch. Suddenly, on the twelfth drum, she slipped and nearly tumbled. The dancing star stopped in the middle of a step and said, 'It's wet and slippery.'"

A short time later she tried her dangerous routine again, after stagehands had mopped things up. But the night air was heavy with dew, and before she could get well under way again, the same thing happened. The director then called for carpenters to mount sixteen non-slip surfaces for the various-sized drums. Miss Powell tapped her way up and down them and the dance clicked off without further mishap.

TORRANCE HIGH LIGHTS . . . by Madalyn Pinkham

"HOLLYWOOD MARCH" . . . Hollywood came to Torrance High last Thursday, thru the courtesy of "Duckies," when the "Hollywood March" was broadcast at a pay-and-call Richard (Dick Powell) Miller officiated as master of ceremonies and introduced Mildred (Rosemary Lane) Higgins and Donna (Friselene McCutcheon) and many others. The students are eagerly looking forward to another such "broadcast."

"TORRANCE BEGINNINGS" . . . At their graduation yesterday afternoon members of the A9 English class staged an original play entitled "Torrance Beginnings." As the title suggests, the play depicted the founding of Torrance. Members of the class gathered material for the play from a talk given by Harry Delley and from the Torrance public library.

G.A.A. PROGRAM . . . Miss Muriel Duncan, sponsor, and Lorain Hill, new president, are busily working on the program for the G.A.A. next semester. Among the things that are being planned are: the dedication of the girls' new field; a play-day entertaining several neighboring schools; a week-end camping trip at Griffith Park; and a banquet in May to finish up the season. The next meeting will be Feb. 11. Principal Thomas Elsen will speak on "The Place of Recreation."

GUILD CONVENTION . . . Nineteen girls from Torrance high attended the World-Wide Guild convention at the University of Redlands last week. Miss Muriel Duncan, one of the speakers talked on "An Innocent Abroad."

THELMA WINS . . . First place in the typing contest, sponsored by the Commercial club, went to Thelma Hogberg when she typed 58 words a minute for 15 minutes. Her prize is a silver cup with her name engraved on it. The trophy will be left at the school.

THEY RHYME 'ROMANCE' With 'DANCE'

Here's the two bright stars of screenland's super-super musical, "Rosalie" which opens Sunday at the Plaza theatre, Hawthorne. They are Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell.

TRIO SETS FAST COMEDY PACE

Robert Montgomery, Monty Woolley and Robert Benchley go in for some hilarious barbering in "Live, Love and Learn," opening tonight at the Torrance theatre on a double-feature program.

Congressman Colden at the Capitol

By CHARLES J. COLDEN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (Special to The Herald)—The House has passed a Naval appropriation of approximately $53 million dollars, and a slight increase over last year's amount. At first thought, it appears rather inconsistent for Congress to talk peace and vote larger Naval appropriations, but members of Congress feel that the Navy is the first line of defense and is our best insurance for peace.

As long as this country maintains an efficient Army and Navy it is practically free from aggression, and under the Monroe Doctrine our neighbors share our safety. To fail to support the Army and Navy in the present world situation would be as big a piece of folly as disbanding the police force in Los Angeles or New York City.

ANGELENOS AT SHIP HEARING

Big delegations from the Pacific Coast have appeared in Washington before the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee of which I am a member. Their mission was in support of the subsidy for inter-coastal ships so as to continue the passenger service that has existed from New York to San Francisco. Not only Los Angeles, but San Francisco, Oakland and Portland were represented.

resented. Among our old friends we noted General Morehead, John R. Quinn, Mayor Frank Shaw, Arthur Eldridge, Los Angeles Port manager, Stanley Olafson of the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and Waldo Drake, live wire from San Pedro, our home town. Drake gave our committee real information of much importance, the value of inter-coastal ships as a naval auxiliary and in the development of foreign trade is so evident that it seems to me we should win in this battle for Pacific Coast ship service. When we compare the merchant ships of Japan suitable for naval auxiliary purposes with our own meager supply, the situation becomes one of alarm.

Letters to the Editor

IN APPRECIATION
Jan. 24, 1938

Editor,
The Torrance Herald:
I have received copies of The Torrance Herald containing the splendid publicity in behalf of the "Fight Infantele-Paralysis" campaign.
This letter is to express my appreciation for your cooperation. I am sure that because of your efforts and the efforts of other newspaper editors throughout the country our campaign is going to break all records.

With best regards, yours for the success of the fight against infantile paralysis,
TOM WIGLEY,
Director of Publicity,
New York City.
