

Electric Cooking is ECONOMICAL

A FULL-COURSE DINNER COSTS LESS THAN 1c PER PERSON

Surprising indeed is the economy of the modern electric range with its lower simmering temperatures, thrift cooker, insulated oven and other improved features. A full-course dinner costs hardly a penny per person for electricity, other meals much less. But that is not the only way you economize. You save a big portion of your food bill through elimination of shrinkage and cooking failures; you save because the construction of the electric range makes it last for years; finally you save because of the special low domestic rate to which the purchase of an electric range entitles you. Take advantage of these economies now. See the new models at your dealer's.

A Scriptural citation presents these verses about Jesus from Luke: "And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. . . . Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith? Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

One of the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy states: "In the scientific relation of God to man, we find that what ever blesses all, as Jesus showed with the loaves and the fishes, Spirit, not matter, being the source of supply."

Aftermath of Flood Brings Deluge of Varied Stories

Post-flood stories were chief topics of conversation here and elsewhere from last Thursday on. Many residents drove as near as they could to scenes of the worst damage Sunday and came home congratulating themselves they lived in a city that remained high and dry. Some of the storm-flood accounts follow:

BARRICADE-BREAKER ESCAPES DUCKING

Herman F. Clement of this city drove his car thru a barricade to the West Anacostia street bridge in Long Beach early Sunday, according to police reports from that city. He managed to stop his car in time to avoid the break in the bridge, a result of the flood.

DOG NO SAFEGUARD FROM LAWS ARM

A big police dog and locked doors to her mud-stalled car did not save Mrs. Margaret Josephine McHugh, 25, of 25834 Appian Way, Lomita, from arrest early Monday after she assertedly tried to "sneak" another car at 250th and Narbonne avenues. According to sheriff's deputies who charged her with hit-run driving and suspicion of drunk driving, the young woman sped away from the crash but her car was mired down.

When officers arrived they found her with the doors of her car locked and her big police dog, beside her. She threatened to "sue" the dog on the deputies, they reported. But one of them broke in a car window and extricated Mrs. McHugh. The dog merely wagged its tail and looked on approvingly.

FLOOD CAUSES FIRST CANCELED MEETING

Regular meeting date of the county board of supervisors was delayed for one day this week due to the absence of a quorum. This was the first time within the recollection of employees of the supervisors' offices that a meeting date had been passed, except on account of a holiday.

Chairman Roger W. Jessup and Supervisors M. C. Legg and Leland M. Ford were in the state capital for the opening of the special session of the Legislature. They were endeavoring to obtain pledge of state aid for repair of state highways in the county, and any other flood relief that might aid county citizens.

FIVE-MINUTE STUDY: TWO MILLION DAMAGE

Damage to flood control works in Los Angeles county due to last week's record storm was placed at $2,000,000 by Chief Engineer C. H. Howell of the flood control district.

Called on the telephone by Governor Frank Merriam Monday, Howell was requested to supply the information within a five minutes. The veteran engineer estimated it would cost at least $750,000 to repair breaks in levees, clean debris basins and repair protective work at the "edges of channels."

NEW OFFICIAL FINDS PLENTY OF WORK

When Samuel Kennedy took over his duties as county bridge engineer this week, he found he was literally in work up to his neck. Kennedy was named Monday by George Jones, county road commissioner, to head the bridge division, succeeding the late W. D. Armstrong, who died late last year.

Approximately 30 bridges, varying in length from 20 to 600 feet, were either destroyed or damaged by last week's flood. The task of designing new structures for these locations falls to the county bridge department, which has jurisdiction over all such work in an incorporated area of the county.

FLOOD CONTROL WINS ROSECRANS' APPROVAL

Commendation for army and flood control engineers and county officials who supervised the construction of flood control structures that proved their worth during last week's record flood conditions was voiced today by President W. S. Rosecrans of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce.

"It is unthinkable to consider what might have happened to the areas in the Los Angeles county basin if these barriers had not been constructed," Rosecrans said. "We are certain that all of these various agencies and departments having to do with the rehabilitation of the county since the heavy rains are doing all in their power to bring conditions back to normal as soon as possible."

COUNTY BUDGET MUST BE REVISED

Complete revision of the preliminary budget of the flood control district and of the county road department may be necessitated in order to reconstruct damaged flood control and highway structures, it was learned today. Preliminary budgets of most county departments had been completed.

What changes are to be made will depend upon the amount of money which the county is to receive from the state, and it was expected this would be known before the end of the week.

PEDESTRIAN VICTIMS

Of California's 3,139 traffic fatalities last year, 1,191 were pedestrians.

HITCHCOCK IN RACE AGAIN

(Continued from Page 1-A) prevented many a threatened flare-up and has been largely responsible in maintaining harmony and cooperation among city workers and officials.

Lead Developments
While spreading of employment among as many worthy workers as funds would permit was considered of primary importance by Councilman Hitchcock, every effort was made to confine this employment to constructive work of permanent benefit.

Under Hitchcock's administration of the Public Works department the city has vastly improved its yard, shops, and equipment. Old and obsolete machinery has been replaced gradually as funds permitted by modern, efficient equipment. Councilman Hitchcock also took a keen interest in developing the new civic center buildings and other important municipal developments during the past six years. In a statement today he said:

"I am offering my candidacy for re-election to the office of councilman at the coming election and if the voters see fit to return me to office, I shall continue in the future, as in the past, to give my best efforts. I believe a harmonious council is an asset to the city and that the best interests of the citizenry is served by having its officials working together in a cooperative manner as in the past years."

Crash Fatal for Lomita Mailman

(Continued from Page 1-A) held various positions with the postoffice and in 1934 became the rural carrier. He was secretary of the Lomita Kiwanis club. George Schmidt, regular substitute carrier, is delivering mail on Mr. Pedersen's route for the time being, according to Postmaster Birda Padlock. She expressed deep regret at the untimely death of her staff worker.

CLERK SEEKS FOURTH TERM

(Continued from Page 1-A) said. "The only pledge I offer voters is to continue giving all residents of Torrance the best service possible. I will use the experience I have gained as city clerk to the best interest of the city and its citizens alike; conducting the office on the same standards of trust and fairness that I have followed in the past 12 years."

GILBERT OUT FOR COUNCIL

"Our three youngest children started in the first grades of the elementary school and graduated from Torrance high. During the past several years my time has been applied to selling insurance in its various lines."

RAYMOND IS CITY CANDIDATE

(Continued from Page 1-A) Commerce should be maintained on its membership, without any subsidy from the city. City support of four-year organizations does not make for democratic or representative promotional efforts. The money being given the chamber could be used to much better advantage for more parks, playgrounds, a swimming pool and a well-equipped recreation center.
