

Townsend Club Activities

By BETH PAIGE

At our last club meeting we were given a fine exhibition by Troop 218 of Boy Scout training under the supervision of Scoutmaster Joe Bay. They had a large audience which was keenly interested in their work, as evidenced by the questions that were asked the Scoutmaster.

We understand that this Troop with a membership of 22 is one out of seven in the Torrance District, and is sponsored by the Rotary club. Two of the boys, James Daniels and Richard Pierson, gave several harmonica duets.

Fred Wagner headed a caravan of athletes and later made a fine speech during which he enlightened his audience as to the real truth of what is being inspired and carried out by powerful factions arrayed against Dr. Townsend. Delicious refreshments were served to the boys, guests and members.

Our club was invited to the monthly Birthday Spread at "7611" Saturday evening, Torrance sent up its April member, Mrs. Vernon Glidden.

Delicious home-made cakes and ice cream were served to all. Those from Torrance were: Mr. and Mrs. Vern Glidden, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Laura Davis, Mrs. C. Williams; at the Sunday club in addition to those mentioned, were Mrs. Rena Pruitt, Charles Morford, Mrs. Ella Quigley, Mrs. Beth Paige who accompanied Tom Daugherty in his chalk-talk by piano selections appropriate for his scenes and drawings.

"TOWNSEND PARTY" SAID UNDER WAY

Followers of the Townsend old-age pension plan now are registering as voters under that name to the tune of several hundred a week, it was disclosed this week by W. M. Kerr, registrar of voters.

Kerr said that 23,610 names would be required by June 16 to enable the party to run candidates at the August primary election. Townsend followers started to register only a couple of weeks ago, Kerr said, and by April 10, 2821 names were on record.

DINNER MEETING IN L. A. APRIL 23

Records disclosed that the new Townsend party already has more followers than the Socialist, Progressive, Communist and Commonwealth parties, and is rapidly overtaking the Prohibitionist party. Two or three of the minor parties are expected to be dropped after this year's elections.

Dr. F. E. Townsend, father of the pension plan, is expected to greet those present and give information on the formation of plans for the national convention of Townsend clubs that will be held in Los Angeles, June 19-21.

FEED YOUR TURKEYS FEDCO

"In finding Fedco to my turkeys I find I can raise better turkeys at less cost and lower mortality than any other feeds I have ever used. My birds this year were 90% Prime. I also noted the more even growth all the way through, thanks to Fedco Company for a well balanced ration. My production costs per pound were between 10 and 12 cents."

Flower-Vegetable Combination is Fine for Garden

There are more delights in the vegetable patch than are appreciated in the dining room, as much fun growing your own beans as your own bouquets.

To get the full pleasures from vegetable growing, consider how beautiful the garden can be made, and how decorative in form and color are carrot tops, spinach leaves, the slender green onion and the fruits of the squash pumpkin and egg plant. The cucumber vine is a fit background on a fence for the gladiolus and other tall growing flowers, and a row of leaf lettuce, with its delicate shades of green has a beauty which many flowering plants cannot equal.

Colorful Borders

Combining flowers and vegetables in the garden is a hobby with advantages which few other hobbies have—it gives great satisfaction to the grower and at the same time provides the finest quality and most healthful food.

The idea of flowers and vegetables can be carried out in many ways. The simplest and least expensive is to make a border or one or more rows of flowers. This border may entirely or partly surround the plot, depending upon the quantity desired.

Where more flowers are wanted, the border may be used, and flowers also planted in rows with or between the vegetables. The surprising thing about such a layout is that the vegetables themselves, if cultivated cleanly, are as attractive as the flowers. Many gardeners whose space is limited, confine much of their gardening efforts to the vegetable plot.

Supervisors Deny Hog Ranch Permit

There will be no new hog ranches on Emerald street in the Lomita district, by action of the board of supervisors this week in denying the application of E. L. Grigsby for a permit from the county Regional Planning commission.

Slough Purchase Plan Proposed

Purchase of 400 acres of the old Laguna Dominguez area, formerly known as Nigger Slough, was proposed yesterday by Supervisor Leland M. Ford, who asked that it be included in the 1938-39 county budget. Price it is proposed to pay for the slough area was given as $125,000 by Ford. The 400 acres would have five miles of shore line, and the area it is proposed to buy would extend north as far as 182nd street.

Near Completion on 'Eye of the Sky'

Scientists at the California Institute of Technology currently report "steady progress" on the grinding of a 200-inch telescope mirror to be erected soon atop Mt. Palomar. In one of the greatest forward strides in the history of astronomy, the picture above shows Dr. John A. Anderson operating a model of the larger telescope. He was too busy with his experiments to look up when his picture was taken.

Thief Dresses Up in Loot

VANCOUVER, B. C. (U.P.)—A thief who broke into a hotel room here selected a number of garments from a tenant's wardrobe, donned them, and left his own clothing behind.

Letter Makes Postman Guess

LORAIN, O. (U.P.)—The envelope was addressed: "Five steps west of the filling station." Postmaster William Morlarty delivered the letter promptly to a business man here.

THE HURRICANE CHILDREN by Carl Carmichael
Those who enjoyed the author's earlier books, "Stars Fell on Alabama" and "Listen for a Lonesome Drum" will want to read the latest collection of folk tales. These are from various parts of the United States and the locale amazingly mapped on the end papers by Mrs. Carmichael. From New Hampshire to Alabama, to Nebraska, "this is a book of short tales but these short tales are also tall," and the reason Carmichael explains in his introduction.

Mr. Lippman's much talked of new book, THE GOOD SOCIETY, presents a problem to the reviewer in that any resume of the author's philosophy can be presented from one angle. It is a wise, useful and well followed essay in persuasion. But in order to persuade men to take a certain course, effective reasoning must be translated into another and more spicy language.

In the past liberalism stood for government not by men but by laws. Lippman feels that liberalism lost its appeal when it began to argue that these laws ought always to be a particular set, and took certain laws so much for granted that they forgot these laws could be changed in the public interest. The problem is not so much how to change our economic system as how to adjust our social system to it. If this adjustment is to preserve the virtues of the economic system it must be made not by the arbitrary decrees of men but by progressive changes in the laws governing the relations of men.

NOTES ON A DRUM—Travel Sketches in Guatemala by Joseph Henry Jackson:
This author having found his travel account, "Mexican Interlude," stimulating both to himself and a large audience has responded to the lure of fresher pastures South of Mexico, and sojourning in Guatemala. As one reviewer writes: "He has the kind of professional competence that one expects in a doctor or lawyer but not in a travel writer. He knows what to look for and how to look for it, and where he has found what he is after he knows how to put it down in writing so that one would not change a word." He has besides an unflinching sense of humor. This seems a perfect recipe for an entertaining travel book for the stay-at-home reader.
