Referees Race

Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., who will officiate as referee at Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, Memorial Day.

This will be the second time that the vice-president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company has served in this capacity, having officiated as referee in 1932, according to word received by Don Miller, manager of the local Firestone Auto Supply and Service store.

As referee Mr. Firestone, with two other stewards will have control over the entire race, supervising the carrying out of the official competition rules of the American Automobile Association. This includes final judgment upon protests, conduct of contestants, arrangements, and approval of the number of starters, finishing order and awarding of prizes.

"Besides being one of the world's most brilliant sporting spectacles, the Indianapolis race has been of great practical value in the development of the automobile and tires," said Firestone. "From its very beginning it has provided one of the most effective research laboratories. It gives our own staff of engineers an exceptional opportunity to analyze the terrific stresses and strains to which tires are subjected and provides information which enables us to build tires that anticipate the constantly increasing demands of modern motor-cars for better service and stamina. Many mechanical improvements in automobiles have resulted from the Indianapolis races."

COUNCIL MEETS JUNE 6

DETOUR

Col'm Under Construction
By BETSY BYRNES

"Remember down the years
With reverence and tears
Young lads caught fast, who died

In war's most cruel tide,"
Although Memorial Day is a day for commemorating the soldiers and sailors who died in the Civil War, to us it is a time to think of all others who have perished for war.

QUESTIONS

Iowa is the most westerly state to have produced a President of the United States. Do you know which President was born in Iowa?

The next question is for you who like long words: What is trinitrotoluene?

Let's have a spelling contest. How many of the following words are correctly spelled? Heroin, grievous, believe, seizure, receive, retriever.

TODAY'S PROVERB

"Women are extreme; they are either better or worse than men,"—French.

ANSWERS
Herbert Hoover was born, not in California, but in Iowa.

Trinitrotoluene is a very high explosive, commonly called TNT. Three of the words are spelled correctly. We shouldn't tell you which ones, but we will, anyway. They are heroin, seizure, receive. The other three words should be spelled grievous, believe and retriever.

ADIOS

"What though success will not attend on all?
Who bravely dares must sometimes risk a fall."

—Smollet

Air Mail Week Well Supported

While the postal business anticipated during the local observance last week of National Air Mail Week did not come up to the high expectations of Postmaster Earl Conner and his staff, nevertheless the Torrance office enjoyed an increase of approximately 250 percent over the average air mail revenue.

At Lomita Postmaster Birda Paddock reported a greater gain, declared her office had an increase of "better than 400 percent" over the average in weekly returns. Both postmasters expressed their sincere appreciation to the public for the support given the observance of National Air Mail Week. Each has a small supply of special enclaved envelopes which they will be glad to give anyone who calls at their respective offices.

Postmaster Conner learned today that there were 4,441,098 letters and 3,198 parcels sent air mail during the week. This is about two million more than any previous week, thus giving California a 100 percent increase. There were 90 air mail flights and 132 auxiliary pick-ups during the celebration period for the 20th anniversary of the first air mail flight in the U.S. and 343 cities and communities had special cachets on envelopes similar to the ones used by Torrance, Lomita and Rolling Hills.

Scouts Benefit From 20-30 Dance

THESE ARE the Boy Scouts of Troop 211, sponsored by the 20-30 club, who are hoping with all their might that the young men's service club's Sport Dance on Saturday night, June 4, will be a smashing success. If it is, they'll go to the Boy Scout summer camp for two weeks. The benefit affair, for which tickets are now being sold by 20-30 members at $1 per couple, will be held in the Civic Auditorium with Johnny Hughes and His Music.

After the regular opening, Mrs. Paige introduced Orven Barnard who gave two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. George Mershon. Here was a young student of orchestra who never dreamed he could sing but who once and deciding that there was a "find," coached him a little with the result that the audience also liked his singing. Mrs. Pauline McCullough of Long Beach sang a group of picturesque ballads playing her own guitar accompaniment.

Miss Ethel Stevens, daughter of Leroy O. Stevens of the city hall staff, has resided here among us for many months, but has consistently "hidden her light under a bushel." That evening she consented to let it sparkle in a group of readings that were "tops." Barnard later gave two trombone solos, well rendered and well received.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagner, accompanied by a number of club members from outside club, were present, the former giving a fine resume of the program for the opening day of the Townsend national convention, June 19, in the L. A. Coliseum. Members and their friends should now be making up parties to attend as ticket prices are with in the reach of all, $1.40 and 25 cents.

Those at the May birthday table were: Mrs. Cooper, Harry Nelson, Leroy Pucor, Mrs. Ella Quigley and James Holly Brown, all receiving mementos or gifts, and all having to be "cross-examined." Later a cake contributed by Mrs. Bertha Mueller, was auctioned off and brought a tidy sum.

State to Defend Its Oil Rights

To defend California's oil lands, Governor Merriam has dispatched to Washington a representative of the state government. This action follows the governor's telegram to Chairman Hutton W. Summers of the House Judiciary committee, declaring that California is prepared and will protect her rights to lands held by the state for more than 50 years. Merriam cited that there is no shortage of oil, that the federal government already holds one-third of the total area of the state and that many regard the move as a scheme to socialize oil deposits.

Vassar Professor Says Love Won't Find Way

TROY, N. Y. (U.P.)—The old adage "love will find a way" is a delusion, Prof. J. Howard Hobson, of Vassar College, says. He warned Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute students, "If marital difficulties arise, don't expect 'love will find a way' because that romantic belief is just a square and a delusion. These difficulties need a practical shoulder-to-shoulder attitude."

The Herald—50¢ for three months.

School Nurse Service Told

"The school nurse's greatest desire is to assist each child attending Torrance Elementary school to attain manhood and womanhood with a healthy body and a sound mind," Principal Merle L. Helbach said this week.

"With this objective she visits the classrooms frequently and keeps a watchful eye for signs of contagion, infectious skin diseases, acute, colds, defective vision and hearing, and any deviation from the normal."

The nurse assists the school physician in his examination and invites a parent to be present if there has been a special request for his child to be examined.

When a child returns from an absence of five days or more, due to illness, he is sent to the nurse for re-admission or exclusion. The nurse cares for all first aid cases that occur on her day at the school and inspects all children who have had serious accidents, and those for whom accident reports have previously been made.

County Seeking Lower Milk Price For Indigents

County Purchasing Agent Wayne Allen and Superintendent of Charities Rex Thomson are to confer this week seeking to agree on a plan whereby the county may effect a saving of from $1,000 to $2,000 a month on the purchase of milk for indigent families.

Thomson told Allen that many relief clients had complained that since the new milk price agreement went into effect recently, the quality of the milk they received had been lowered. After investigation Allen reported that, so far as could be determined, county indigents are receiving the same milk that is delivered to regular customers.
