ITHACA, N. Y. (U.P.)—Modern girls don't want careers—they want jobs. So says Miss Esther Stocks, head of vocational placement at the New York State College of Agriculture.

Ohioan, 85, Weds Fifth

Hollow Tree as Bank Good to the Last Coin

SAUGUS, Mass. (U.P.)—Several years ago Thomas P. McCarrier began using a hollow tree as a bank, depositing loose change in the cavity.

Last year a limb broke from the weight of the coins, and McCarrier retrieved most of his savings. But recently a gale toppled the tree and at the roots was the last half-dollar of the bank's capital.

Legion To Present Fireworks Pageant In Coliseum July 4th

Above: One of the many thrilling pyrotechnic displays which the American Legion will present as part of its mammoth Fourth of July Pageant in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Approximately 25,000 seats in the big stadium have been sacrificed in order to provide space for the fireworks "set pieces" which will depict in vivid, fiery colors many historical and patriotic scenes.

Left: Trained elephants which will perform in the huge circus being staged by the Legion as one of the features of its Independence Day spectacle. Other circus acts include world renowned aerialists, cyclists, tumblers, trained Bengal tigers and a whole Congress of Clowns. The show will open with a parade featuring, in addition to Legion-sponsored youth groups, the pick of the Legion's drum and bugle corps and the Auxiliary drill teams.

Cabrillo Home is Open for Inspection

Yielding to many requests for a chance to inspect a completed home, J. A. Rovenstine, the owner, and F. L. Marvin, the builder of the home at 2029 Cabrillo avenue, announced today that the residence would be open to the public from Saturday noon thru Sunday.

The Rovenstine home, as built by Marvin, is a notable example of modern craftsmanship. Those desiring to see its appointments and room design should see it this week-end.

Parade Day Is Tag Day, Too
YOUNGSTOWN, O. (U.P.)—Police decided that there had been too many missing children—lost or strayed from their parents—at parades here. So they tried out during a parade the system of "tagging" all Youngstons. It succeeded.

Garlic Crop Weaker
SAN JOSE, Cal. (U.P.)—California's "strongest" crop is to be weakened some this year. Owing to poor prices, realized last year as a result of overproduction, the state will reduce its garlic acreage this year by 200.

Judge Monroe, 20 Years on Bench, Seeks Re-election to Justice Court

JUDGE A. F. MONROE
... knows human foibles

A kindly veteran of the bench who believes in the humanities first and interprets the law in the light of human need, is Judge A. F. Monroe of the Inglewood Township Justice Court, office No. 2. As a candidate for re-election at the forth-coming election, Judge Monroe brings to the bench over 20 years' experience as Justice of the Peace of Inglewood Township. He was appointed to the justice court Nov. 1, 1915, and elected to that bench in November of 1918. The first civil case in the township court was filed Dec. 21, 1915; the first criminal case filed 15 days later.

At the primary election of four years ago, he led the field by approximately 2,000 votes, testifying to his popularity throughout this district, which includes eight municipalities with a combined population in excess of 100,000. He has presided over a large portion of the civil cases brought in this area.

Patched Broken Homes
A great many failure-to-provide cases are filed, due to the depression and consequent financial strains that have parted families. By the kindly understanding of these problems and the foibles of human nature when harassed by money troubles, all too often due to the fault of the distressed husband and father, but directly due to economic conditions that have thrown him out of work, Judge Monroe has very frequently reunited families and saved children from the perils so often besetting the child of the broken home.

On the other hand, Judge Monroe takes no middle course in his decisions when it comes to upholding the law. "Heaven it is declared that he has made enemies among those who would like to see a more 'liberal' policy pursued instead of an uncompromising stand taken in cooperating with county authorities.

Has Wide Experience
Judge Monroe is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington, Illinois, with a post-graduate course in law at the University of Illinois.

In addition to his long service on the Inglewood municipal bench where he tried his first case March 20, 1911, and from which he resigned Dec. 1, 1930, after a service of a score of years, and as justice of the peace he also at various times has sat on the Los Angeles Municipal bench by appointment of the presiding judge and the judicial council of the state of California.
