The flamingo has a nice big bill. That's quite bent in the middle. In color it is red or pink. Now here's an unsolved riddle—Why does this very tallish bird, I wonder, oh I wonder, sit on a little nest of mud with legs all doubled under? You worry about daffy little things when the thermometer begins to climb. Guess that's how we happened to write about the flamingo today. Hope you don't mind.

QUESTIONS
What well known fictional character tried to use a flamingo as a croquet mallet?

Who made the first successful flight in an airplane? Where was the flight made?

How many of the following are real words you will find in a dictionary? Mimicker, colt, perille, mizzzen, mobocracy.

TODAY'S PROVERB
"What a dust have I raised," quoth the fly on the coach.

ANSWERS
It was our old friend, Alice in Wonderland, who tried to use the flamingo as a croquet mallet.

Orville Wright made the first successful airplane flight in 1903. He stayed in the air 12 seconds that first time and attained a height of 850 feet. The flight was made at a place called Kitty Hawk, in North Carolina.

Mimicker, colt, perille, mizzzen, and mobocracy are all real, honest-to-goodness words, and you will find them in the dictionary.

ADIOS
"Vessels large may venture more, But little boats should keep near shore."

—Franklin.

The Lesson-Sermon includes also these words of Jesus, from Matthew: "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it:" and these statements of the Psalmist: "The LORD is my light and my salvation: whom shall I fear? the LORD is the strength of my life: of whom shall I be afraid?" Among the selections from "Believe and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the passages: "If the disciple is advancing spiritually, he is striving to enter in. He constantly turns away from material sense, and looks towards the imperishable things of Spirit. If honest, he will be in earnest from the start, and gain a living each day in the right direction, till at last he finishes his course with joy."
