LOMITA OIL AREA TAKING LEAD IN PRODUCTION HERE

Long Oil has staked location for its Von Trik-Lyons No. 2 at the southeast corner at 235th and Pennsylvania.

Week's New Projects

Fifteen new sites for wells were staked during the past week. The owners and locations of their projects are: Young and Bryan of Los Angeles will drill three wells at 2231 239th, 2471 239th and 2455 239th; Dresco Oil Inc., of Los Angeles also announced three sites—at 2470 239th, 2456 236th and 23717 Pennsylvania; Frank C. Billman of Long Beach will drill two holes at 2342 239th and 2070 238th.

Security Holding company, Ltd., of Los Angeles is building a derrick at 2378 236th; Louisiana Oil company of Long Beach at 2022 236th; J. E. Pettijohn of San Diego at 2455 236th; Neal H. Anderson of Torrance at 2462 235th; Eyer Oil company of Lomita at 23914 Pennsylvania; Kerber Oil company of Torrance at 2329 235th, and the Benker Oil company of Torrance is rigging at 2342 229th.

DRILLING ACTIVITY JUMPS, BUSH REPORTS

R. D. Bush, state oil supervisor, reported late last week that drillers have filed notice of starts on 34 new wells as compared with 22 in the preceding week. The notices covered 12 in the Torrance field. So far this year notices have been filed for 752 oil wells in the Los Angeles basin, compared to 989 in this date last year. In addition there have been 511 redrilling jobs,

Carrell's Record Held Impressive

Torrance friends of Judge Frank Carrell in rallying to his support for reelection to Office No. 1, Justice of the Peace of Inglewood township (which includes this community) declare that his record is one of the most impressive in the county. His local supporters also point out that Judge Carrell's cooperation has made possible the branch court in Torrance, with resultant savings to many local people who have occasion to use its facilities.

As the first elected judge of the enlarged Inglewood township he has served the people in an exceptional manner and his nine years' successful judicial training and experience (including three years on the Los Angeles Municipal bench), have given him a background of proven value to the entire area.

Avoids Technicalities

Unanimously endorsed for reelection by mayors and police chiefs of the eight cities within the township, Judge Carrell has received wide-spread support from many other citizens and groups. His reputation for being fair, humane and courteous has found expression in his leniency for first offenders and delving into the merits of each case to come before him rather than depend on legal technicalities.

Only seven appeals have been taken from his decisions in more than 7,300 cases to come before his court—a record, his friends point out, that is indicative of his notable career. Judge Carrell has been a resident of Inglewood township for more than 35 years, is a World War veteran and is a native of Los Angeles county.

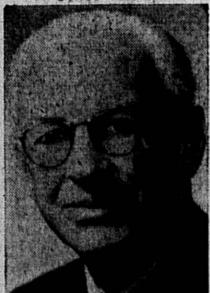

Engineers' Group Tours Transmitter

More than 100 members of the Los Angeles section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers were guests of James Middlebrooks, liaison engineer for Columbia Broadcasting System, at the new KNX-CBS transmitter here yesterday. They held their regular monthly meeting at the broadcasting plant, and inspected the functional aspects of design incorporated in the structure.

M'Quarrie Urges Pension Reform

More than 165 people attended a political rally under the auspices of the Democratic Service club of the 66th Assembly District at the home of Mrs. Clara Conlon, at 1207 West 71st street, last Saturday night. Dr. Charles W. McQuarrie, Congressional chairman and democratic candidate for Congress in the 17th district, delivered the main address. James J. O'Toole, candidate for assembly was introduced.

In his speech Dr. McQuarrie stressed the need of an adequate old age pension system to provide opportunity for the youth of the nation to obtain employment as well as to guarantee security to those too old to work. "Only by maintaining the purchasing power of those who, because of age and infirmities, are unable to work, can we be sure there will be sufficient demand for goods and services to insure full employment for our young people," McQuarrie declared.

Our monetary system will have to be reformed to take care of the prosperity secured by this new pensioning program, McQuarrie pointed out. He stated that unless money circulates freely there can be no prosperity. The Bunderup Bill, calling for taking the power of printing money away from banks and returning it to the government through a government owned central bank, was praised by McQuarrie. He averred that passage of this bill would immediately create a credit reserve of over six billion dollars, or enough to start payments on a national pension of $80 per month without increasing the tax load. The contemplated two percent gross income tax, called for in the General Welfare Act, would be the logical method of financing this national pension system, he stated.

Guests from widely separated sections of the Congressional district gave glowing reports of the progress of McQuarrie's candidacy in their localities.

Nation Toured In 1904 Model

CARSON CITY, Nev. (U.P.)—When it comes to "crates," George C. Green of Lambertville, N. J., insists that he is doing by land what Douglas C. Corrigan did by air, when the latter flew his "crate" from New York to Dublin.

Green arrived here in a single cylinder, curved dash Oldsmobile, 1904 model, which he bought for $165 in 1907 when he was 3 years' old. He is touring the United States in it.

The machine is one of three Oldsmobiles of the same vintage which recently passed the rigid New Jersey state inspection. The car is 34 years old and Green has had it in his possession since he was 21. He is now 52.

Green, who is the proprietor of a small machine shop at Lambertville, gave his "crate" a complete overhauling early this year, and together with his wife started out to see America.

Funeral Bills Eliminated By New Policy

The high cost of dying has been the subject of discussion for many years. Costs of funerals have been lowered in recent years, yet funeral bills are still a burdensome expense. Oftentimes money left for the future security of the family is expended for a funeral and the widow has nothing on which to live. Still more frequently, relatives have to mortgage their whole future to pay the cost of the service.

Funeral bills can now be eliminated through the Funeral Service Policy. It provides for complete payment of the service in time of need, at the mortuary selected by the family. There is no cost to the family, no matter how little has been paid in premiums on the policy. Oftentimes complete services are conducted where less than $10 has been paid in premiums. There is no age limit and no medical examination. A postcard sent to Funeral Service Dept. K, 3142 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, will bring full details. Or call Fitzroy 2538—(Adv.)

OIL ACTIVITY BRINGS MANY NEW INDUSTRIES TO CITY

State Sets New Voter Record

By UNITED PRESS
The final California registration figures for the August 30 primaries credit Democrats with a sizeable gain of 528,615 voters while Republicans lost ground to the number of 174,404, based on the primary registration in 1934.

The grand total of 3,437,242 is the greatest registration in the history of California. The total registration in Torrance—4,687—and in Lomita—3,290—are also new local records.

Democrats now have a total of 2,022,726, more than seven percent higher than two years ago and a margin of 779,324 over the Republican total of 1,243,402 voters. The Republicans lost only 105 over the G.O.P. figure of two years ago but lagged an additional 140,712 voters behind the Democrats in a comparison with 1934 figures.

California now ranks fifth among the states in total registration, being topped only by New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. The most amazing fact was the almost 145 percent gain in the Progressive party, which jumped from 4,128 in 1934 to almost 12,000 this year. The boost was directly attributable to the contest between Raymond L. Haight and Culbert L. Olson for the party nomination. Haight is a registered Progressive and figured to get on the November ballot regardless of his vote as a Republican and Democrat. But Olson slipped his name on the Progressive ticket at the last minute and hopes to win that vote as well as that of his own Democratic party, thus eliminating a third major candidate in the finals.

New Narbonne Principal Moving to Lomita Home

For two days this week John Abbott, successor to Miss Clementina de Forest Griffin as principal of Narbonne high school in Lomita, was at the school getting acquainted with his new educational plant and some of the Narbonne P.T.A. members. Abbott, with his wife and three children, intend to move to a home on 247th street next week.

The new Narbonne principal said that the board of education had not announced who will be the new vice-principal at Lomita. Ben Comrada, who has been serving in that capacity, will be transferred to another school—possibly San Fernando high—because a woman will be given that position since the principal is a man.

"There are also about 12 changes in the faculty," Abbott said, "but I have not learned definitely who they are or what positions they will hold."

Abbott was born in Minnesota but was brought to Orange county by his parents when he was but four years old. He was educated in Orange county schools and received his B. A. at U. S. C. in 1921. He obtained his Master's degree there in 1922. Abbott has been with the Los Angeles city school system since 1921, his first position being that of an attendance officer.

Then he served as instructor in special schools for two years and was a member of the faculty of Central Junior high school.

History does repeat itself—as any local residents can realize from a tour thru the great industrial and oil producing sections of Torrance. Because of the great activity in the South Torrance field, the "boom" aspects of 1922-24 are being revived as new oil companies, new oil well supply warehouses and allied industries are taking space for shops and equipment.

One of the newest of the new firms is the Crown Oil and Refining company which is building the first $3,500 unit of an oil cleaning and topping plant south of Carson street near the eastern edge of the oil field. E. E. Peveo, president of the company, in conferences with Leonard Young, acting city engineer, revealed his firm's plans of erecting a complete oil and gas refining plant here in the near future.

Local drillers, who previously have had to send outside the city for testing equipment for their samples taken from deep underground, will shortly be able to have the work done right here in Torrance when McDonald and Burns complete their test laboratory now building at 2327 231st street.

Other recent entries to the Torrance industrial group because of the revived oil interest include the Howard Supply company with a warehouse at 23601 Narbonne avenue and the Woolner Oil company warehouse at 2422 227th street. Added to these are about a score of cafes, leasing offices, first aid station and other facilities which are following on the heels of the local oil rush.

MARLENE HOSTESS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY
The seventh birthday of Marlene Quaggin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quaggin, 1609 Anapola avenue, furnished the incentive for one of the month's loveliest children's parties, when Mrs. Quaggin entertained for Marlene and 17 playmates last Thursday.

Dwarf faces were strung around the living room and since each child present wanted the popular Dopey face it was necessary to blindfold each before allowing them to select. The honoree and Barbara Lou Kelley were lucky pickers.

The table, where birthday and ice-cream was served was decorated with a large figure of Snow White in the center with lolly-pops dressed as Snow White for place cards.

Party guests included Doris Lee Quaggin, Shirley Jean Gruenthal, Sunny June Meacham, Joan Threuhause, Barbara Lou Kelley, Jane Scott, Frances Barrington, Dolores Ulbright, Beverly Hopkins, Patty Lou Rojo, Joan, Janet and Susie Cheesman, Lois and Shirley Severn, Sue Collier and Marlene.
