WRONG WAY SUNDAY

Ingenious Mrs. Mary Alcorn, Co-Prop. of Alcorn's Drug on Torrance Blvd., is now serving on Corrigan Wrong-Way Sunday, the which is a mystery until you get it. Mrs. Alcorn says it looks like an airplane; at first we thought that when you ordered a sundae you were served an ice cream soda!

THERBY HANGS A TALE

Proving again the old axiom that every man, if properly questioned, has an interesting story of his life to tell, Dick Richardson, Sales Manager over at Ed Thompson's Chevrolet Agency, has had some experiences that really are interesting.

Dick, a soft spoken, Southern speaking gentleman from Alabama, spent years & years in the U. S. submarine service, was only retired in 1935. He is a skilled mechanic and expert on diesel motors, the type used in subs. His best yarn is that about the sub S-5 that went down in about 100 feet of murky water off New York harbor around 1925. Dick was on this sub, spent many hours at the bottom trying to get the blooming thing to rise again. The sub sank when someone got careless opened too many valves or something, let the water in. A few men were killed before the res was managed to bring the sub's stern to the surface with the last remaining bit of power from the batteries.

Dick also tells of the sub S-4 that went down in many fathoms off the coast a little later, stayed down for three months with some thirty crew aboard. Many of Dick's friends were on the S-4 and he had the gruesome job of helping identify them when the salvagers finally towed the wreck into port.

Dick says that now he's out of the service he'll stick to Chevrolets. At least you stay out in the good old sunshine if they do no haywire... which of course Chevrolets never do. (Ed Thompson would cuss me if I ever said they did!)

P. V. RESERVOIR NEXT M. W. D. PROJECT

Big Basin Will Hold 325 Million Gallons

Bids are to be called for in the near future for the construction of the Palos Verdes reservoir, according to F. E. Weymouth, general manager of the Metropolitan Water District. Providing an emergency standby water storage for Torrance and other cities in the southern part of the Water District, as well as regulating the flow of the Palos Verdes lateral of the Metropolitan Aqueduct distributing system, the of 1,000 acre feet, or approximately 325 million gallons of water.

General Manager Weymouth said that the Board of Directors of the District had just recently authorized the purchase of the reservoir site, which is located in the Palos Verdes hills immediately south of the intersection of Palos Verdes Drive and Narbonne avenue.

To be constructed at the south end of the Palos Verdes lateral, the reservoir will guarantee uninterrupted water service for Torrance, Compton, Long Beach and the Los Angeles harbor area in case of a break in the northern section of the giant Metropolitan Aqueduct distribution system.

Known as a "cut and fill" type of reservoir, the structure will be constructed in a natural basin in the hills. Approximately 1,800,000 cubic yards of earth will be excavated and 1,000,000 cubic yards of tightly compacted earth-fill will be placed in creating the reservoir, which will require about one year to build. Water District officials also announced that bids will be opened shortly after Oct. 1 for the construction of 14 miles of the remainder of the Palos Verdes lateral which will bring Colorado River water to Torrance.

Construction is now under way on the northern section of this lateral, which extends from Eagle Rock Canyon to 98th and Wadsworth streets in Los Angeles.

Stretching clear across the state of California, the Metropolitan Aqueduct has a total length of 392 miles and has a capacity of one billion gallons of water daily. Construction of this giant water supply system was started in December, 1932, and at the present time the entire project is approximately 85 percent completed.

Enlisting Aid Against Single Tax Measure

Mrs. Jack Lowry, president of the Gateway Council of the P. T. A., was in Torrance this week interviewing a number of organization leaders to enlist their aid in defeating Proposition 20, the "single tax" issue on the November ballot. She is representing the Los Angeles Council Against the Single Tax in this city, her home community, of Gardena, Lomita, Wilmington and San Pedro.

"Two years ago our State Supreme Court ruled a similar measure off the ballot but this year California must fight the Single Tax dragon in a hand-to-hand encounter," Mrs. Lowry said. "Proposition 20 is deceptive and misleading because it appears to be a 'tax relief' measure that would benefit the people."

More Interest Shown Here In Toy Library

By adding 60 new members and increasing circulation of toys from 373 in July to 919 last month, the Torrance Toy Loan Library in the little house in the 1500 El Prado block gained more interest among children and parents here. This interest is expected to continue through September and the remainder of the year as the institution becomes better known in the community.

One factor which Mrs. Maude Messner, who is "toyarian," wants the parents of Torrance to understand is that the Toy Library is not limited to the use of underprivileged children. All youngsters in the city are invited to use its facilities—consisting of a large supply of toys kept immaculately clean and sanitary and to participate in the special events that are held there.

Among these events last month were two gay picnics. The first one attracted 30 youngsters to the colorfully decorated picnic tables set out near the Toy Library and the second one was attended by 50 boys and girls.

Mrs. Messner says that the Toy Library has playthings of all kinds and for every age. She invites parents to call and visit.
