

THIS WAS '37 WINNER . . .
The attractive holiday decorations shown above won for Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bartlett of 1618 Annapolis the first prize last Yuletide in the Christmas home decoration and illumination contest. The Bartletts worked mighty hard to frame their residence in its novel setting, but it was the idea that counted most, in the opinion of the judges.

This year another Christmas decoration contest will be held, sponsored by the National Business and Professional Woman's club. It is open to anyone living in Torrance who fills out the entry blank published below and sends or brings it to Mrs. Bettina Miller, 1217 Cota avenue, president of the sponsoring club; The Herald office or the Chamber of Commerce.

Just remember—you don't have to go to great expense to design and illuminate your home exterior or a portion of it for the Yuletide. But you must send your entry blank in at once in order that your effort receives

Gas Tax to Pay for Eight Street Improvements

An agreement with the state department of public works pertaining to expenditure of the three quarter-cent gasoline tax due the city for the improvement of streets of major importance other than state highways during 1939 was authorized by the city council in a resolution adopted Tuesday night.

This agreement provides for the following eight improvements: Cavers from Carson to Torrance boulevard, $147.85; Marcolina from Carson to Cabrillo, $794.38; Carson from Western to Madrid, $2,498.64; Carson from Madrid to Cedar, $448.40; Carson from Cedar to Flower, $867; Carson from Flower to Madrona, proper inspection by the judges who will be announced next week. It is from the entry blanks that the judges will make out their itinerary for their tour about the city some night during the Christmas holidays. Fill out this blank right now and start planning your decoration:

EXTRA P. O. SERVICE

All windows at the postoffice will be open for business all day Saturday, Dec. 17 and 24. Postmaster Earl Conner again urges residents to "Mail Early" for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott recently moved to 1827 Gramercy from Los Angeles in time to celebrate their four-year-old daughter's birthday here on Dec. 11. She is Mary Beth Scott. Her father is employed in the U. S. Customs office at San Pedro.

A dog tick can live comfortably for three years without anything to eat or drink.

People

what they're doing

Jack Hutchins, son of Mrs. James Nelsb, arrived home from Honolulu last week to spend the Christmas holidays.

Paul Watson, 1607 Cota avenue, is in Sharon, Pennsylvania, where Tuesday he attended the 50th wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Watson.

Mrs. Dean L. Sears attended a tea at Lindbrook Hall on the U.C.L.A. campus Sunday. Miss Jeanne Sears resides at the hall.
