

Job's Daughters to Install New Officers at Ceremonies Saturday Night

Children's Parties Mark First of Yuletide Affairs

Happy is the child, whose birthday comes with the first thrill of the yule, when Christmas decorations may be used and the joy of the festive season is in the hearts of all.

Two of the nicest children's parties of the week were those held at the Henry Ubricht home, 1434 El Prado, for Miss Dolores, who on Friday celebrated her seventh birthday and on Saturday at the J. B. Scott home, 1488 El Prado, where Miss Jane celebrated her ninth birthday.

For her table decorations Mrs. Ubricht chose silver and blue. Miniature Christmas trees filled with candy served as favors. Invited were Doris Lee and Marlene Quaglin, Jane Scott, Ann Marie Bishop, Nancy Ann Whyte, Jeanette Probert, Jackie McQuaid, Lewis Kelsey, Paul Moser, Bill Rinker, Teala Bellini, Loraine Anderson, Bobby Roberts, Barbara Lou Kelley, Beverly Hopkins and Dolores.

The conventional Christmas colors of red and green were used to decorate the table at the Scott home and Santa Claus with gifts attached to their backs served as favors.

Guests included Dolores Ubricht, Ann Marie Bishop, Doris Lee and Marlene Quaglin, Nancy Ann Whyte, Arline Atwood, Lewis Kelsey, Chester Acree, Leona Hendricks of Wilmington, Barbara Belle Burns of Palos Verdes and Marilyn Modglin of Long Beach.
