GEYER SENDS RECORDS TO LIBRARIES

Copies of The Congressional Record are being sent to the public library here and in Lomita, Monterey and Gardena by Congressman Lee Geyer, according to word received from him this week.

In announcing that these publications are now available at the libraries, Geyer said that "Democracy is based on information of the people. A people that is informed can be depended upon to do the right thing. It is hoped that as many as possible will read the Congressional Record, a report of the doings of your national House and Senate."

"Those in charge of the libraries will be very glad to see that you have access to these records if you request it. Follow the speeches and votes of your Congressman and Senators. You have a right to know. If you are unable to get the information you desire from these records, a letter addressed to Lee Geyer will receive prompt and courteous attention. Both the domestic and foreign scene is changing so fast it is your patriotic duty to keep informed."

No. 1 Country Editor Says . . .

Eating Is Exciting Adventure

Eating should be an exciting adventure, not a tedious chore, asserts William Allen White, distinguished editor of the Emporia Gazette and author of "A Puritan in Babylon," in the current Rotarian magazine. Despite a career check full of journalistic and political activities, he has noted the gastronomic interests of his contemporaries, even serving as the chairman of the menu committee of the Rotary club in Emporia, Kansas.

"The average man off the street sits down before his food and eats it like a dog, generally not knowing what he is eating, which is my idea of a culinary mistake. For food always should be an adventure, and a wide dietary range is a sign of wide culture," declares America's Number 1 country editor. Any man who eats luncheons ranging from rice and curry to rare beefsteak and fresh mushrooms, he believes, will be just a little more civilized for having varied his diet.

What Men Like

Yet the average American business or professional man kicks like a bay steer the minute he is exposed to new food—even before he tastes it. "This comes, of course, from fool women trying to doll up food—like landscaping! I mean the kind of women who put panty ruffles on mutton chops and lay silly red strips of pimento across salad and make their ice cream match their nappery. Really good food doesn't need beauty-parlor treatment."

"I never knew a woman-chasing man whose wife was a good and adventurous cook," says White, remarking that there is something in the proverb that says that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Men—both as husbands and luncheon-club members—will eat and like a beefsteak in brown gravy with onions, green peppers and carrots is it. They will learn to enjoy a New England dinner with corned beef, tongue, pigs' feet, and a fat frankfurter garnished with boiled turnips, potatoes, carrots, and onions.

Big Crowd Sees School Operetta

A capacity crowd thronged the new high school assembly hall last Friday when the Torrance Elementary school presented an unusually fine performance of an operetta, "Dawn Boy," based on Indian life, legends and customs. The cast was splendidly drilled and the lighting and scenic effects attracted much favorable comment.

urged to attend the picnic gathering to be held Saturday, Feb. 18, in Sycamore Grove Park.

Last week's issue of the pictorial magazine Life held more than usual interest for Mrs. Letha Sells, secretary to Principal Thomas Elson at the high school.

One of a series of photos depicting U. S. sailors enjoying shore leave in the Panama Canal zone showed Mrs. Sells' 15-year-old son, Clarence Banks, with some of his Navy friends.

Young Banks enlisted in the Navy at Los Angeles last May. He is now rated as a second class seaman attached to the U. S. S. Holland, a submarine repair ship.

Vivid Drama at Torrance Theatre

"The Citadel," A. J. Cronin's dramatically powerful story of a young doctor who barters his ideals for worldly riches, opens tonight at the Torrance theatre. On the same program is "There's That Woman Again," a fast-moving comedy starring Melvyn Douglas and Virginia Bruce.

With superb portrayals upon the part of Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell in the principal roles and the understanding and incisive direction of King Vidor, "The Citadel" becomes at once a tribute to its author, to the medical craft and to the art of motion pictures.

A dramatic love story is unfolded in the account of the young surgeon who struggles against the miners and marries a humble schoolmistress. There is agonizing suspense when he descends into a mine that has collapsed to amputate the arm of a man trapped beneath a fallen timber. There is drama when he deliberately dynamites a sewer that has been spreading disease but which authorities refuse to remove.

Cronin's moving story has become even more dramatic on the screen, without an alteration, but because of the added power of visible action, Donat is outstanding as the disillusioned young doctor and Miss Russell has the best role of her career as his sympathetic wife.

"Shoot It Out" a Joke

EL CENTRO (U.P.)—Hopes of the police to have a chance at last to "shoot it out" with a real bandit were shattered here. A telephone call had advised them that an armed bandit was sitting in a parked motor car. Police rushed to the scene and found a small boy with a cap pistol sitting in someone's automobile.

HOLD THIS PAGE AT ARM'S LENGTH!

THIS picture looks like a snow-storm at midnight, doesn't it? But hold it at arm's length and you can see that it's a great big eye. Look at it from across the room. Notice the soft lights and shadows, now? You can almost catch your own reflection in the pupil!

This eye belongs to a lovely photographic model. Her entire face appeared in an ad in The Torrance Herald not long ago. We've simply taken a portion of it about an inch square and magnified it to give you an idea of what a good advertising picture looks like to an engraver—the man who makes it.

He's not interested in her bewitching smile—all he cares about are the little dots, black and white—the "snowflakes" that you see.

These dots are tiny "bumps" in the metal engraving plate. They hold the ink and print the picture on paper. If they're made right— presto! You have a lovely photo. If not—it's a very different story.

Good pictures make ads interesting. They show you the things a store has to sell. They can even show you the adorable plumpness of a baby who's fed wholesome milk! So the Torrance Herald takes no chances on its advertising pictures. We buy the best. We get them every month for our advertisers in the famous Meyer Both Newspaper Advertising service.

Meyer Both pictures always "print up" right. They always tell you what the latest styles in dresses, curtains, eyeglasses and coiffures really look like.
