when your home is equipped with modern gas appliances

Enjoy more leisure hours—let modern gas appliances help you save time and trouble!

You'll do away with needless watching and waiting—and you'll find that the cleanliness of the new appliances lightens many a chore.

When you cook, the modern, improved burners help to eliminate boil-overs and excess vapors from foods. Broiling, too, is clean because it is now smokeless. Curtains and walls stay fresher. And the clear blue flame of natural gas leaves pan bottoms bright as new.

Why not learn more about gas in all its uses? It brings you refrigeration that is permanently silent; water heating that is quick and dependable; warmth that is automatic and the last word in comfort. A dealer or your gas company will be glad to give you details.

Grocer's Trade Waits On Fun

BUFFALO, N. Y. (U.P.)—The word "unusual" hardly does justice to Albert Pinkel's grocery. It's amazing.

A potential Gertrude Stein, musician, artist, imitator and "what-not," Pinkel would rather, it seems, entertain his customers than wait on them.

The unpredictable Pinkel has his show-window filled with hand-printed poems which in themselves indicate what lies ahead for the customer who crosses the threshold of the little store. An example of Pinkel's poetic ability is this one:

"It's coming true
A nation
Is going to give everybody
a suit
then you won't have anymore home You won't need any we all will go to Boston Hill."
Just as puzzling, if not more so, is Pinkel's conversation. Asked how long he had had the store, the grocer, wearing a red cellophane hat, replied:

"Sixty minutes after 12 o'clock. I was very lucky—I 1 o'clock. This morning I had a wonderful appetite—at 40 minutes after 7 o'clock I 8 o'clock."

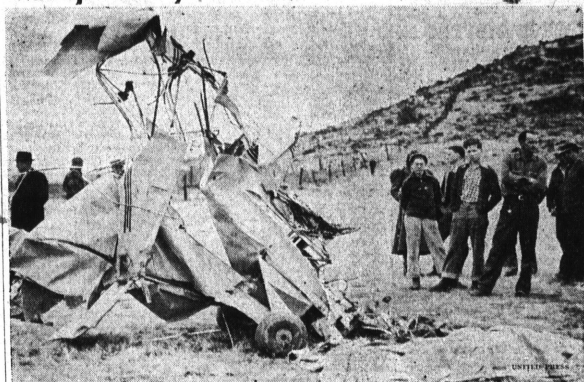

The walls of the store are covered with more poems and plenty of pencil sketches, drawn by the versatile Pinkel.

A typical Pinkel reception was afforded one customer who had picked up a box of crackers and was waiting for the storekeeper to appear. A sharp bark caused the customer to drop the crackers, but it wasn't a dog barking, it was Pinkel doing one of his imitations.

A yodeler, too, Pinkel is always willing to put on a show which usually attracts a large crowd. Customers come in to get groceries—but no one waits on them—so they usually content themselves by listening to the grocer strum on a well-worn banjo, hum, whistle, yodel and occasionally insert a barnyard imitation.

Vallejo Newlywed Dies in Yreka Plane Crash Six Babies Born at Hospital Here

Elmer Scott, a 25-year-old Vallejo, Cal., newlywed, was killed when the small plane he was piloting crashed near Yreka, Cal. He was the sole occupant of the plane. Scott's body is under blanket in foreground.

Six babies, four of them boys, were born at Torrance Memorial hospital during the past week. They were:

A son, John Hugh Sherley III, to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherley of 1230 Cravens, Saturday afternoon. Sherley is a mortician at Stone and Myers and this is his first child.

A daughter, Gail Anne, to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Campbell of Manhattan Beach, Sunday morning.

A son, Francis Clay, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Becker of 815 Beech, last Thursday afternoon. Becker is a Columbia Steel worker.

A daughter, Barbara Jane, to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wagner of 802 Sartori, last Thursday. Wagner is a laboratory technician at the Columbia Steel plant and Barbara is his second child.

A son, Lee Wayne, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zuer of 1609 219th street, Saturday afternoon. Zuer is employed at the National Supply plant.

A son, as yet unnamed, to Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lewis of 1917 222nd street, Sunday morning.

Baby Teeth Out at 90
MT. VERNON, O. (U.P.)—A dentist at Danville, near here, was astonished when he extracted the teeth of 90-year-old Samuel Conkle. Two of the molars taken out, the dentist believed, were Conkle's baby teeth.

Swept into Last War, We May Repeat Folly, Warns Stuart Chase

AMERICA had better plan now how to keep us out of war, or we may be swept into the next European conflagration against our will, just as we were dragged into the last war, warns Stuart Chase, noted economist, in the March Cosmopolitan.

In his challenging article, "Keep Your Powder Dry!" Mr. Chase reviews how in 1917 we drifted into a position where we had to fight, even though no one wanted to fight, except the few who saw an opportunity to acquire wealth and power out of war, and those who were bored to death by peace. What Chase fears is that we will repeat our folly and go blundering off to war again without reason.

A recent survey by the George Gallup Institute revealed that 69% of the people want the country to remain neutral in the event of war; and that 73% believe war is inevitable. These figures puzzle Mr. Chase. Why, he asks, is the government doing so little to prevent our becoming enmeshed again when the majority of us want no part of war. The Neutrality Act of 1935 was a step in the right direction, but it didn't go far enough. It is foolish to think we are now safe because of the Act, he challenges Washington.

The best program yet seen by Mr. Chase to keep us out of war, is "The Maintenance of American Neutrality," prepared by a group of experts. The following are the terms:

1. When war comes, restrict exports to belligerents by government quotas, the quotas to be based on the average of actual exports to these countries during the last three peacetime years. (The Neutrality Act of 1935 only restricts exports of munitions; this provision restricts all exports.)

2. Shut off all credit to belligerents. Make them come and get their goods in their own ships and pay cash. Thus, if the ships are bombed, our citizens will not be aboard, and our exporters will not suffer any losses.

As for our defense, Mr. Chase believes we should be thoroughly equipped to make an invasion by a foreign country unthinkable. In his estimation Germany, Italy and Japan are the only countries likely to cause trouble; therefore, we should be strong enough to defend ourselves against one or all of them.

Further, he advises shying away from any military alliances with European powers, and to shut our ears when we hear of any proposal to make the world safe for something.

Philippines Send Fair Band
MANILA, P. I. (U.P.)—The Philippine Army band, 110 men and a famed conductor, will represent the Philippine Commonwealth at the Golden Gate exposition.

U. S. A.

They May March Again, says Chase.

In Chase's eyes it is the third of the groups which would welcome war—the disillusioned who are bored by peace—which is most dangerous. Ten million unemployed potentially make for ten million soldiers, especially the younger generation, who see nothing ahead for them and would accept war as a drug to kill the aimlessness of their lives.

Chase adds a final thought to his peace program, perhaps the most important of his suggestions; if we really want to stay out of war, we must provide jobs for the jobless, security for the insecure and hope for those who have no hope.

Wife Divorces Husband Over Strings as Checkup

MEDIA, Pa. (U.P.)—Mrs. Margaret S. Holz was granted a divorce after she described the novel method her husband used to "check up" on her.

"He was so jealous," she testified, "that when he worked at night he hung strings all over the front and back porches before he left for work and then checked the strings when he came home in the morning."

"If any were broken he accused me of having someone in the house."
