PLAN RELIGIOUS CONFERENCE SERIES

Talks for Students Open to Public at H. S. Next Month

A community conference series on the theme of "Wholesome Living" has been arranged for presentation here next month by the Torrance high school faculty, student body and Torrance Ministerial Union. This series, to be held every Wednesday afternoon and evening during March in the high school assembly hall will be entirely non-sectarian and open to the public. Religion as an asset in life will be discussed in detail. The talks will be presented in terms of the average student, parent or resident and be based on the fact that religion is a universal concern.

The speakers will be outstanding educators and youth workers of Southern California. The afternoon sessions are planned to encourage the local students to ask questions and leaders will be ready to answer them either by the "question box" method of written queries or oral responses. No adult will be expected to speak during the afternoon meetings until all students who desire to participate have had their opportunity.

Evening speakers will direct their addresses more to adults but all will be urged to attend.

Five Patients Enter Hospital

Five patients, including a four-year-old Torrance girl and an 83-year-old Redondo man, were received at Torrance Memorial hospital during the past week. The little girl was Bette Moore, daughter of Mrs. Helen Moore of 18683 South Western avenue. Mrs. Moore is employed at the Cardena postoffice. Bette underwent an appendectomy Saturday.

Charles Wheeler, aged Redondo Beach resident, entered Monday for medical care. Other patients were: Mrs. Irene Butler, 2468 Torrance boulevard, Monday for pneumonia treatment; William McKenzie, Redondo Beach, Sunday for an appendectomy; and Mrs. Carrie McElmurray, 74, of Herrifosa Beach, Saturday for medical care.

Knopf speaking on "Your Mind and Your Religion." At 7:30 p. m.: Prof. Weiss of Metropolitan high school, Los Angeles.

March 29 at 1:45 p. m.: Gale Seaman, student adviser of the Rogers Williams club at U. S. C., speaking on "What Difference Does Religion Make?" At 7:30 p. m.: Seaman, Baptist Young People's group at Westwood and representative students.

Windstorm Gives City Heavy Dusting Would Rewrite Constitution

Southern California's three-day windstorm that blew itself out last Friday after claiming three lives, causing thousands of dollars damage and forcing housewives to do their spring cleaning earlier than usual, gave Torrance a good dusting but caused little damage within city limits. Velocities up to 67 miles an hour were reported while the storm was at its roaring height Thursday afternoon and night. Street department crews were busy Friday cleaning up the debris of broken tree branches and shattered signs but actual loss was almost negligible.

The 50-foot flagpole in front of the Torrance Elementary school crashed to the lawn Thursday afternoon, narrowly missing some boys standing near by. One of the small front windows at the Star Department store blew in and the banners suspended over El Prado and Sartori avenue to advertise the opening of the new Safeway market blew down Thursday night.

No oil derricks were toppled here also five in Redondo Beach and the county strip adjoining Torrance crashed to earth. The toll off Torrance boulevard, the

Tourists Leave Plenty Cash in S. C. Registers

Buying the golden glamour of a Southern California vacation, 1,638,534 tourists deposited $194,684,112 in southland cash registers during 1938.

This happy sale of climate and scenery was announced this week by Don Thomas, managing director of the All-Year Club before directors of the southland's official tourist attracting organization at their annual meeting in Los Angeles.

"Tourists arrived during the year at the rate of one every 13 seconds," Thomas revealed, "and they paid an average of $22.24 an hour for their fun. If they had all been here at one time they would have populated a city larger than Los Angeles, Pasadena and Long Beach combined."

WPA TO TAKE CENSUS All WPA workers are to be withdrawn from construction projects July 1 to begin the 1940 census, according to reports from Washington.

Would Rewrite Constitution

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 23 (U.P.) On the contention that California's 80-year-old constitution is outmoded, three bills are before the legislature to call a constitutional convention to rewrite the document. Authority to call such a convention was granted the legislature in a constitutional amendment approved by the people at the November, 1954, general election, but bills on the subject were defeated by the 1955 and 1957 legislative sessions.

The bills this year were: AB 896, by Jeanette Daley, San Diego, and Frederick F. Houser, Alhambra, calling for a convention to meet Oct. 1, 1940. AB, by Fred Reeves, San Pedro, setting the time as the first Monday in February, 1940. AB 882, by Joseph P. Gilmore, San Francisco, providing for the convention to start on the first Monday following the constitutional recess of the legislature in 1941.

Each of the bills provides for election of 120 delegates—one from each assembly and senatorial district—and requires ratification of the convention's work by a majority vote of the people.
