A PURITAN IN BABYLON
by William Allen White: Against the background of his era, a marching screen of events and personalities, is portrayed in detail the life of Calvin Coolidge. Only such a veteran journalist with the skill, balance of mind and searching analysis such as William Allen White possesses could have written the story. One reviewer says that "an uneasy attraction between them makes a small town Western Republican try to explain a Vermont." Every phase of Coolidge's career is studied against the parallel development of the larger historical scene and in a thoughtful style is given the history of an era of tremendous economic and social change.

THE PADEREWSKI MEMOIRS
by Paderewski and Mary Lawton: For the first time in the life story of a "great pianist, a great patriot and a great man" comes to the reader intimately and given with a great wealth of previously untold stories and anecdotes of boyhood, early discouragements and rise to fame. The personality of the man is alive in every page and the whole story is told with integrity and interest in a writing which characterizes Paderewski's playing.

MILLBROOK by Della Lutes: Here is the vivid and warm-hearted story of a country town (in Southern Michigan in the 1880s) told as only the author of "The Country Kitchen" could tell it. "Millbrook" will please those who have fond memories of childhood and who remember the vivid pictures painted for them when older people began "Well I remember when..."

Crash Fatal for Aged Man Here

Injuries suffered by C. W. Bagwill, 74, of Long Beach in an automobile-truck collision last Wednesday at Hawthorne boulevard and Spencer street proved fatal about 24 hours after the accident. He succumbed at Torrance Memorial hospital.

A coroner's jury investigating the crash blamed negligence on the part of the victim's son, William Lloyd Bagwill, who was driving the passenger car, for the smashup that involved a truck operated by E. M. Cadwell of Los Angeles.

The latter testified that he was following the Bagwills and when the son made a signal to turn right, he proceeded to pass on the right. Then Bagwill turned right and the collision occurred. Police learned from an attorney representing young Bagwill that he intended to use the truck company owning the machine driven by his father for damages despite the inquest verdict.

SHOP TALK

THINGS YOU PROBABLY WON'T GIVE A WHOO! TO HEAR ABOUT....
That Harriet Leech made a lucky purchase at the flower market the other 4 a. m., is able this week-end to sell Ranunculus for the infinitesimal sum of 10¢ a dozen.... while they last! Last Dollar Day Madame Leech advertised the same flowers, had customers storming the place, sold out twice!
That Art Woodcock, Torrance High student body prexy, unlimbered his tomahawk before a radio mike last Saturday. Told the world about THIS - THIS - THIS! Rahl! Rahl! Rahl! The program was an Al Jarvis "Swingaroo" what ever that is.

FOUR BABIES BORN HERE

Four babies were born at Torrance Memorial hospital during the past week. Mrs. Virginia Turner, 18-year-old wife of J. R. Turner of 1801 Sepulveda boulevard, gave Caesarian birth to a seven-pound six-ounce son last Thursday. She and the baby are now reported making splendid progress. Father Turner is employed at the Lomita Home Dairy.

A son was born to Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Woods of 2104 Redondo-Wilmington boulevard, last Sunday.
A son arrived to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barnett of Manhattan Beach last Friday—but he has not been named Patrick after the saint's day.
A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wilson of 1225½ Cota avenue. Wilson is employed at the National Supply plant.

Oil Men Paying for Damage to Intersection

Three of the eight oil development firms held responsible for damage to city streets at 24th and Walnut have paid their contributions to the fund for repair of that intersection, according to Police Chief John Stroth. Several others are expected to present their checks later today—the deadline for voluntary settlement of the city's damage claim.

Those who have contributed are the H.R.H. Petroleum Corporation, Garner and Johnson, and Anderson Associates. Chief Stroth last week offered to let the firms whose sump holes overflowed into the intersection divide the cost of repairing the street rather than hale them into court on a civil damage charge.

Two More Join Local Chamber

Two more members were received by the Chamber of Commerce during the past week. Secretary L. J. Gilmette informed the board of directors Tuesday. They were Dr. Clifford Easley and George H. Moore of Moore's hardware store.

N. Emmett, prop. of the El Prado establishment from the same name, has just recently been appointed as another Torrance dealer for the famed O'Keefe & Merritt line of gas ranges. Four beautiful models (ranging from $100 to $200) are now on hand. Emmett plans to expand soon, take over larger quarters. Starting from scratch only shortly after a year ago, this young man, former steel mill employee, has done right smart, now has a store full of odds & ends, furniture, beds & mattresses. Good as gold. It is to browse thru a store like that, Emmett, invites all browsers to browse blissfully without being bothered, wishes them happy browsing.

That Ethel Husbands, wife of that camera hound Bill Husbands, and Mildred Corder, spouse of that handy man Eddie Corder, got together a pound of sugar, a sack of beans, and a few odds & ends, and last week opened a restaurant on Carson St., a few hops east of Western. Known as the C & H Restaurant (do not confuse with the bran of sugar of the same moniker), Mildred & Ethel feature home grown pies, chili, tamales, etc. Stuffed plumb to the suppers was Shop Talk after a delicious lunch of chili & tamales, topped by a goodly slice of peach cobbler pie with whipped cream. Success to the C & H!

Judges Scan Essay Entries

Nearly 300 entries submitted by Torrance school children in the 1939 "Fide" essay contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary are now being studied by a committee of judges. The papers, each 1,500 words or less in length, are on the subject of "Queen Marie of Roumania, Ambassador" of International Goodwill.

The winners of first, second and third prizes in the contest will receive cash awards of $5, $3 and $2. The best essay will be sent for the California Department elimination contest and the national winners will receive scholarships valued at $200, $150 and $100, it is announced by Mrs. Ethel Sears, who is in charge of the local event.

County Food Crops Decline

Total value of crops produced in Los Angeles county during 1938 showed a decrease in value from the previous year of $12,400,000 and was less than any year since 1935, according to the annual report of Harold J. Ryan, county agricultural commissioner. The figure for 1938 was $44,980,000.
