Contest Feature of J. C. Prom

A revival of the once popular Venus-Adonis contest, presenting fashions for men as well as girls, and Don Briggs senting fashions for men as well as girls, and Don Briggs with his 12-piece orchestra in three hours of dancing, are the main attractions in store at the annual sport dance given by Achieve the Alpha Carpino Junior College at Torrance Civic Auditorium Saturday evening, April 1.

The last year's prom held at the Bithmore proved one of the school social successes to be instanced by the school social successes. The cut price will permit all students, who care to attend, to do so.

The Venus Adonis contest, omitted from last year, will be revived here Saturday evening. The contest is one in which college students choose the couple which they think best exemplifies modern youth. This, according to the committee, is not an ordinary beauty contest' because those chosen must have personality, looks and ability to de things well. Valuable prizes will be awarded winners.

Thursday was Torrance Day at the Pacific Electric Mother club in Los Angeles and local ladies distinguished themselves as actresses, when they pre-sented a play "The Dear, Dear Children."

The play dealt with children in the modern American home and was taken from the play of the same name appearing in a November magazine.

JUST THE THING . . At times it's smart not to be all dressed up. The dress above, or the dress above, or the dress above, or the dress above, or the dress and peckets, from the March Harper's Bazaar, is just the thing for a small dinner out or a party at home.
