Mrs. Roosevelt Urges Farm Careers For Youth

YOUNG people who are emerging into our crowded economic life would do well to look toward the farm as a means of livelihood and a full and satisfactory way of life, according to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. When depressions come, hundreds of citizens leave the cities and go back to rural areas in order to live. This must fact seems to indicate that the stability of the farm is preferable, in the time of disaster, to the insecurity of a wage-earner in the city.

Cleanor Roosevelt, America's much-traveled first lady, analyzes the problem in the May issue of Cosmopolitan magazine in an article entitled "Security Begins Beyond the City Limits." She adds a plea for education along cultural and regional lines which will compensate farm dwellers for the lack of ready-made entertainment offered by cities. Mrs. Roosevelt also discusses opportunities for financial success in farming, cites developments in agricultural methods, new markets and experiments in the industrial use of farm products which will provide year-around employment and new avenues of profit for agriculturists.

"It is possible to have as much culture in the country as in any city and more wholesome community life and amusement, but it requires more personal effort and better training," Mrs. Roosevelt declares. "We must see that education is interpreted in a broader way than in the past. It is absolutely vital that people living in rural areas have access to books of all kinds and learn to enjoy reading. With the radio there is now the possibility of teaching appreciation of good music and of developing participation in community music projects. Federal art projects, music projects, theatre projects, murals and sculptures all over the country have laid foundations for varied enjoyments which can be built up in rural areas."

Mrs. Roosevelt does not hesitate to touch on the aspects of rural life which are definitely in need of change. Chief among these is the problem of health and nourishment. The high mortality rate among country mothers and babies due to the lack of competent medical attention, is marked. Education regarding health and diet habits for growing children needs widespread dissemination. In the country where it lives.

Mrs. Roosevelt does not suggest in "Security Lies Beyond the City Limits" that we merely go back to the farm. Instead she insists that we bring the farm forward where it can compete with the city as a way of life.

"We also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement." These words of Paul to the Romans are the Golden Text in the Lesson Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ Scientist.

One of the Scriptural selections includes these verses about Jesus from Matthew: "And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee. And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth. And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether I desire to say, thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk; but that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then said he to the sick of the palsy) Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house."

The Lesson Sermon presents also this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycle of divine light."
