

HUGE DRAINAGE PROJECT UNDER STUDY

THREE UNITS OF PLAN ARE UP TO HAUGE

Supervisor Oscar Hauge of the Fourth district today had before him for study the joint recommendation of the flood control district and the county engineer for construction of a comprehensive drainage project, costing about $7,688,400, for the Gardena valley. The plan was filed with the county board while the supervisor was away on his vacation.

"Large areas in the upper part of this drainage basin have become highly developed and further development is inevitable," Hauge declared. "Most of the existing storm drains there are inadequate and there is urgent need for additional drainage facilities."

Details of Plan

The plan, jointly prepared by the county engineer and the chief engineer of the County Flood Control District, provides for three separate units of construction, as follows:

(1) More than six miles of concrete channel from Imperial Highway to Normandie avenue at an estimated cost of $3,162,700, including right-of-way.

(2) Two and a half miles of concrete conduit along Imperial Highway from the Municipal Airport to the upper end of the channel. The estimated cost of this is $913,200.

(3) More than eight and a half miles of earth channel from Normandie avenue to the harbor, which will cost approximately $3,512,500, including right-of-way.

"Whether or not the Federal Government will consider the financing and construction of the Nigger Slough drainage will depend on a report which is expected to come from the United States Engineer's Department in the near future," Supervisor Hauge stated.

Supplemental Plan

Because of the large expenditure which the development of the comprehensive plan would involve as an immediate undertaking, the engineering report submits a supplemental plan as follows:

Construction of a concrete conduit under Imperial Highway from the Municipal Airport to the intersection of Imperial Highway and Doty avenue, and an earth ditch from that point to the harbor. The ditch would have a bottom width of from 36 to 45 feet, and a water depth of from seven to 10 feet. The entire project would cost $1,942,700.

"This earth channel could be entirely constructed within the ultimately required right of way, and most of the work would fit into the needed project," the report declares.

Redondo's Cotton Named on County Taxation Group

Supervisor Oscar Hauge has appointed Logan R. Cotton of Redondo Beach, public accountant and auditor, to the Citizens Committee on Local Taxation, authorized by the Board of Supervisors last September.

Cotton possesses long and varied experience on taxation problems. He has been connected with many municipalities and municipal subdivisions in Los Angeles county and is auditor for the cities of Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach, Manhattan Beach, El Segundo, Hawthorne and Gardena. He has long been a civic leader in the southwest portion of Los Angeles county.

The committee is composed of one man from each of the five supervisory districts for the purpose of studying and analyzing the tax structure of Los Angeles county to ultimately make recommendations to the Board of Supervisors.

Gunshot Victim Recovering Here

Wounded in the leg as result of the accidental discharge of a revolver while he was getting into a boat at the harbor, Alec Morrison, of Beverly Hills, singer at the one-time night spot, the Trocadero, was received at Torrance Memorial hospital Tuesday. He is reported making a good recovery. Other new patients this week at the hospital are:

Eleven-year-old Charles Taft of Hermosa Beach, who was received Sunday for an appendectomy; George H. Scott of Redondo Beach, Monday for surgery; Mrs. Electa Storey, Redondo Beach, Saturday for surgery; Mrs. Kreszert Traunfelter, 1407 Madrid, Sunday for surgery, and Mrs. Helen Adkinson, Los Angeles, last Wednesday for medical care.

Mrs. Isabel Brown, Harbor City, Tuesday for surgery; Madison C. Banks, Manhattan Beach, last Thursday for medical treatment; J. R. Black, Hermosa Beach, yesterday for surgery; Mrs. Joyce Hodge, Palos Verdes Estates, Monday for surgery; Mrs. Marian Alice Jackson, Venice, Monday for surgery; J. E. Lewis, Dominguez, Tuesday for surgery, and Mrs. Rowena McHegan, Wilmington, Tuesday for surgery.

Theft Case Settled Out of Court Here

As result of an agreement between the defendant and complaining witness, the case of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt of 1932 West 238th street, charged with theft of furniture belonging to Mrs. Annie Wilson of East Torrance, was taken off calendar by City Judge Robert Lessing Monday.

Lessing said the Schmidts (not to be confused with residents of the same name living at 1918 Cabrillo avenue) agreed to return five chairs and a wire fence belonging to Mrs. Wilson.

"Strip Tease" Plea Wins SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—Five strip tease dancers, arrested for performing before a private patriotic organization, told Municipal Judge Kaufman that they were doing nothing more than what is being done every day by the various girl shows at the Golden Gate Exposition. The judge made a personal tour of the shows at the fair. "Case dismissed" was his ruling upon his return.

Local Youth's Hog Entry is Second in Show

Future Farmers of Torrance high school broke into a new field of activity this year by showing at the Great Western Livestock Show at Vernon. Two fat hogs exhibited by Yaguo Fukai placed second in the heavy Berkshire class and fifth in the light-weight group, bringing home $11 in premium money.

Early this summer Mr. Bickel, Berkshire breeder of Gardena, donated to the local chapter the two pigs which Fukai bought and fed for the show.

This is the first time that livestock other than poultry has been shown at a fair by Torrance boys—at least within the memory of the present school generation, and the results are quite satisfactory.

At the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona this year, Torrance high did not make as large an exhibit as usual. But two boys deserve credit for good work in poultry. Bill Darling was awarded first place on his trio of New Hampshires, and Donald Thompson received a blue ribbon for his young trio of Australorps.

Two Student Assemblies In Wide Contrast

In striking contrast to the boisterous "pep rally" at a local theatre last Thursday night, when the students turned the planned program into a rout, the Navy Day observance at the high school assembly hall the following morning was a model of decorum and courtesy.

While the student choir, directed by Mrs. Marjorie Elschen Cook, was intoning a number, the students quietly filed into the building and took their seats with none of the usual confusion and noise.

At the end of the choral selection, Marvin Goettsch, student body president; Principal Tom Elson and the speaker of the day took the stage and one of the most impressive talks ever heard by the young people was given by George Orr, chief engineer's mate attached to the U. S. S. California.

He took the students on a word-picture tour of his battleship, detailing in a masterful manner, the sights that this year were denied because of Naval restrictions against visiting. At the close of his talk, Miss Irene Mills, faculty member, commented on the theatre disturbance the night before.

Harley, L. Turner, 39, of this city, was treated at San Pedro, for a two-inch cut over his left eye Sunday after an accident in the East Torrance district. Later, it was reported, San Pedro police booked him on a drunk charge, the arresting officers stating they found him in the mud beside a culvert at 218th street and Denker avenue and that his car had missed a culvert and gone over an embankment.

Torrance Display Attracts Realtors

An attractive display, centered around a new aerial photograph of the city 20 by 30 inches in size, gave Torrance considerable publicity last week in the Los Angeles Biltmore lobby during the course of the National Real Estate association's convention. There were other photos of local industrial plants, a collection of folders, copies of The Herald's "Torrance on the Air" special edition and an industrial directory. The display was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of J. C. Smith of the Torrance Investment company.

"Trailer Vagabond" Tours Dickson Mounds, Lewistown, Ill.

By WARREN BAYLEY

This is a modern success story based entirely upon a doctor's desire for more knowledge. This desire, in addition to turning out profitable, opened a permanent and valuable "text book" for the history of primitive man for archeologists and scientists and also created a unique sight. An excavated graveyard with 230 Indian skeletons exposed without the moving of a single body.

Hundreds of years before Columbus discovered America, what is now the state of Illinois was a popular Indian territory. At the confluence of the Spoon and Illinois Rivers one of the larger tribes founded a settlement. A nearby knoll was selected as a burial ground.

The burial methods used by these tribes differed somewhat from our methods today. Instead of excavating, the body was placed on top of the mound and covered with a particular type of soil used expressly for that purpose. This soil was free from acid and possessed remarkable preservative qualities.

Unforgettable Sight

As burials continued on this one site for a period of 300 years, the mound thus created grew until it reached a length of 550 feet, a width of 150 feet and 30 feet in height. It was estimated than from 3,000 to 4,000 Indians are interred in this one place.

This mound is located on a farm owned by a Dr. Don Dickson. In 1927 Dr. Dickson decided to excavate a small portion of the mound for the purpose of bone study. In so doing he was careful not to move the bones but merely to excavate around them leaving the bones in their original positions. Fate herein enters the picture.

A party of newspaper photographers, in the vicinity to photograph a flood, took a few shots of his work. Upon publication of the pictures, people began arriving at the mound in great numbers. Realizing its value both from a scientific as well as from a tourist standpoint, Dr. Dickson proceeded to excavate about one tenth of the mound and over his work build a modern building for its preservation. In this pit 230 skeletons lie exposed just as they were buried 100 or more years ago. Not a single skeleton has been removed from its original resting place or position.

This exhibit has become a real attraction. From a scientific standpoint it is priceless.
