

Dorothy Warren to Wed James Nisbet Yule Eve

Romance Had Start Under Arizona Sky

To the combined melodies of Mendelssohn's stately and majestic "Wedding March" and the soft lovely strains of "Silent Night," two hearts will beat in three-quarter time this Christmas Eve when Dorothy Warren, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Warren of 1743

Andrew, and James E. Nisbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Nisbet of Chumacum, Wash., say "I do" before a flower banked altar in the home of the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Stoner of Brentwood Heights.

The wedding, which will climax a romance of two years begun when the bride-elect attended teachers' institute in Temple, Arizona, where she has been teaching for the past two years, will be solemnized before more than 100 friends and relatives of the betrothed couple.

Announcement of the approaching marriage was made at a musical reception tendered the bride-elect recently at the country home of her uncle and aunt of Phoenix, Arizona, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Stoner, by the presentation to each guest of a tiny musical score entitled "Togetherness." This was an original waltz composition "with music by Dorothy Warren and Words by Jim Nesbit." According to footnotes on the score, called the "song of the month" the composition will be "copyrighted" Dec. 24, 1939, and after that "All rights will be reserved."

Honor guest in the receiving line was the bride-elect's mother, who motored to the copper state for the reception.

Miss Warren, 25, long a popular member of Torrance's younger set, graduated from Torrance high school in 1930.

She then attended Arizona State Teachers College at Tempe and, following her graduation from there, took graduate work at University of Southern California.

She was a member of Mu Rho Alpha, an honorary music fraternity, and Phi Alpha Gamma sorority at the teachers' college. She is now music supervisor at the Tempe Grammar school.

Nisbet, 28, graduated from Fullerton Junior college and the Arizona State Teachers College of Tempe. During his junior college career he was a member of Delta Alpha Sigma fraternity, and at Tempe belonged to Tau Sigma Phi and the "A" Club. He now teaches languages, arts and physical education at Tempe Grammar school. Both Miss Warren and Nesbit were music majors.

MRS. BROD RENAMED SOCIETY PRESIDENT

Mrs. Elizabeth Brod was re-elected president of the Woman's Missionary Society of Central Evangelical church at the society's annual election meeting combined with the monthly study session held Tuesday in the Guild hall.

Others who will assist Mrs. Brod with executive activities throughout the 2940 session of the society, include Mrs. Baker, vice-president; Mrs. Marjorie Kirshman, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary Kirshman, treasurer; Mrs. Laura Pisel, missionary study chairman, and Mrs. E. W. Matz, pianist. All are new elective officers.

Preceding the business of the day, a cantorial style luncheon was held. Tables for the event expressed the sacred Christmas motif with a beautiful miniature nativity scene forming the unusual centerpiece.

NEW COMMITTEE PLANS DANCE

The 1940 planning committee of the Triple T Club will present its first social function of the new season with a gala dance tonight at Palos Verdes Country club. A record crowd is anticipated.

MRS. MORGAN TO PRESIDE AT MEET

Mrs. Homer Morgan, newly elected president of the Betsy Ross Club, is to preside for the first time at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Dec. 18, at the Masonic Temple. Preceding the session, a 12:30 o'clock luncheon will be served.

PEGGY ANNS HAVE BUSY CALENDAR

Mrs. Lucille Rogers will entertain members of the Peggy Anns, a social group of Torrance's young matrons, at an informal gathering Dec. 27 in her home, 2215 Andrew, for the group's last session of 1940.

Many and varied have been the recent activities of the group included among which have been a Nov. 29 card meeting at the home of Mrs. Marshall Tappin, 2226 Arlington; a surprise waffle breakfast at Mrs. Mickey Twyman's home on Dec. 2, and a motor trek, luncheon and theatre party in Los Angeles last Friday, Dec. 8.

Enjoying all of the affairs were members of the Peggy Anns including Mesdames George Tappin, Marguerite McLean, Mildred Tidland, Lucille Rogers, Mickey Twyman, Maxine Willets and Doris Watson.

EPISCOPAL WOMEN HOLD YULE SOCIAL

A 100 percent membership attendance marked the annual Christmas social event and turkey dinner of the Women's Auxiliary of the St. Andrews Episcopal church held yesterday in the Guild hall.

Gaily decorated tables were laid with the Christmas motif, including miniature sleighs drawn by two silver reindeer, filled with large full bloom poinsettias, keepsakes of Mrs. Davidge which she brought from Canada. In charge of the table arrangements were Mrs. Davidge of Lomita and Mrs. Hough of Torrance.

Following exchange of gifts selected by numbered cards, an appreciation present was given Mrs. Caroline Collins, auxiliary president, for her work with the group during the past year. Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall were also given a gift of appreciation by the society.

Russian Prima Donna Gives Origin of Song At Friday Club

"Believe it or not," said Madam Maria Karinska, Russian prima donna and guest speaker at the regular home session of the Friday Morning Club held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ivy Herring, "slavery was common in Russia less than 50 years ago." Continuing in her interesting interpretation of Russian life as compared with modern American customs, she said in part:

"It was agony to hear the boatmen on the mighty Volga river get the lash with each swing of their oars. And so I originated the first motif of that well-known moving Russian song which has since gained world-wide recognition, 'The Volga Boatman.' By permission of Nicholas II, then Czar of Russia, I was allowed to carry out my plan to relieve the deadly monotony of my people, by re-introducing the melodic folk songs of dear old Russia, and thereby bring back some of the beauty and folklore into the minds and hearts of a downtrodden and nearly pagan people."

Since the beginning of the World War Madam Karinska has been an exile from her homeland, and although a British subject by adoption, has resided in the United States for several years.

Following Madam Karinska's talk, the club enjoyed a delightful Christmas party and program. Festive arrangements of pine boughs entwined with holly sprays added a gala Yuletide touch to the event. A tree and graceful bowls of scarlet poinsettias completed the holiday motif.

Enjoying the event were Mrs. Emma Jean Crumrine, club president, and Mesdames Gwendolyn Knudsen, Lola Hoover, Leel Kerber, Rose Winters, Mae McKinley, Hazel Fussum, Lydia Morang, Nellie Haynes.

OVER 100 EXPECTED AT MOOSE BENEFIT

More than 100 persons are expected to be in attendance at Moose Hall tomorrow night for the annual Christmas benefit card party which the Women of the Moose, Torrance chapter, are sponsoring in an effort to augment the unit's Christmas basket fund. Co-hostesses and chairmen of the event will be Mrs. Blanche Tower and Mrs. Pearl Tower.

Tables of bridge, pinochle, 500 and buncle have been arranged. Twenty-five table and door prizes are to be awarded. First door prize is to be called at 8 o'clock. Play will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets for the party are available from any chapter member, or can be purchased at the door.

Mrs. Irene Vincent, homemaking committee chairman, has issued an open invitation to all persons interested in crocheting, recipe exchange and general household hints, to attend the chapter's business session and pot-luck luncheon to be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Dec. 19, in the hall. According to Mrs. Vincent, a discussion of new and novel homemaking hints will be had, as well as an instruction session for all interested in learning new crocheting stitches.

Mrs. Ruth Kidd conducted her regular child care and training class last Tuesday in the hall.

Edna Weis, Jean Mosher, Juliet Johnson, and the Rev. F. T. Porter.

Hostess for the first meeting of the club in 1940, which has been scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Friday, Jan. 12, will be Mrs. Ray W. Hoover. Special speaker for the occasion is to be Mrs. Bertha Martin of Los Angeles. She will report on her extensive travels in the Orient.

More than 133,000 persons received college instruction thru the University of California extension division last year.
