Knife Point Removed from Victim of Stabbing After 42 Years

Forty-two years ago a group of boys were playing beside some building material in New-castle, Pennsylvania. One showed Stanley Stevenson into a trough of plaster. The soiled victim got out in a racing tinner and stabbed A. B. "Ollie" Stevenson in the top of his left shoulder with a pocket knife.

Sunday Stevenson's knife blade was extracted from Stevenson's shoulder by Dr. A. P. Stevenson at Torrance Memorial hospital and none of them were related.

The broken-off blade, about three-quarters of an inch long, was firmly embedded in the shoulder bone. It was rusted but the point was still sharp.

Previous Operations Failed

"Ollie" Stevenson, from his bed at his home, 1028 Arlington avenue, said the injury had "bothered me all my life but two previous operations failed to remove the knife tip."

He does not know where his youthful assailant lives now, nearly a half century elapsing before the final chapter of the assault was written in the hospital surgery here.

He entered the hospital Saturday after becoming ill from the infected old injury but he is well on the road to recovery now from an incident when he was 12 years old.

Yacht Libel Suit Is Postponed

The government libel suit against the Fisherman II, former yacht of Zane Grey, has been postponed until March 18, according to advices received by Richard Crank of Lemita who has a mortgage interest in the boat.

The government, in postponing the case, is allowing time for all claims against the boat to be filed, according to Crank's attorney.

Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, as a lawyer, represented Mark Twain in settlement of the affairs of the humorist's publishers.

Townsend Club Activities

At the regular meeting of Townsend Club held last Thursday Fred C. Wagner of Los Angeles reported encouragingly on favorable consideration of the new Townsend bill which was introduced into both houses of Congress early this month. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Amos French of Gardena Club and Mrs. F. C. Wagner.

Several members of Torrance club were privileged to hear Dr. Andrew B. Nordskog Sunday at Los Angeles headquarters when he addressed a large audience and demonstrated the desirability of the Townsend Plan. A pot luck dinner was served Tuesday evening and was followed by an interesting meeting. The addition of new members to the group at each meeting increases the enthusiasm of the organization.
