Red Cross, Germany has indicated that it can take care of its own needs and does not wish for Red Cross assistance. Therefore, the funds raised in this campaign will not be expended for the relief of that country.

Lindbergs, Residents Here Since 1936, Will Celebrate Golden Wedding at Open House on Sunday Afternoon

Altho the Bert Lindbergs are already started on their 51st year of wedded companionship, the celebration of their golden anniversary (it was yesterday) will not be complete until their last guest leaves their home at 1318 Portola avenue next Sunday afternoon. They will hold open house for all their friends and will serve coffee and cake after the fashion of their Nordic forebears in Norway and Sweden. Yesterday the Lindbergs served a dinner at the Seaman's church in San Pedro for many friends in that city.

They were married in Peshigo, Wisconsin, which is seven miles south of Marinette, by a Swedish minister when Lindberg was a strapping youth, celebrating his 24th birthday on his wedding day and Mary Louise Johnson was a blue-eyed, flax-haired maid of 18. Lindberg was born in the northwest part of Sweden and came to this country alone in 1882 when he was 18. He went directly to Peshigo where a brother lived and started working for that city laying wooden sidewalks.

Shortly after his marriage, the husky Swede got a job with a construction gang for the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad. He followed this line of work the rest of his active career, retiring in 1936 as foreman of a bridge and building crew. Most of his work was from Green Bay to Escanaba. However, with the passage of the Railroad Retirement Act he had to return to duty for two months in 1937 to qualify for his pension. On June 15, 1937, he formally retired and was presented with a certificate of his annuity standing under the Federal act.

Mrs. Lindberg was born in Norway about four miles outside of Oslo, scene of the recent German entry into that country. When she was nine years old she came to the country with her mother to join her father at Peshigo. Today, at 68, she is still active and delights in making beautiful quilts and crocheting. Mrs. Lindberg recently finished a crocheted bed spread that has won the admiration of all her friends.

The Lindbergs drove to California in October, 1936, to establish their home here on property they had purchased on a previous vacation visit in 1924. It is Bert Lindberg's proud boast that never in the 25 years he has driven an automobile has he ever had an accident.

"But that's just my good luck," he says.

"To Insure Harmony"

Stroh's "step down" letter to the council follows:

"In compliance with the statement I made before your honorable body approximately two weeks ago, I wish to submit the following: To insure the continuance of harmony in the administration of the affairs of our city, I am agreeable to step down from my present position as chief of the police department, if such be the desire of your honorable body, and to assume the position of captain in the police department, effective on or after June 16, 1940, when a vacancy in the position of captain will exist.

"You may accept this communication as confirmation of my earlier statement and of my complete desire to serve only the best interests of our city. If it be the desire of your honorable body that I remain in the capacity of chief of our police department please be assured that I shall continue to devote myself to filling the duties of this office," the chief's letter concluded.

Isen Joins Klusman In Prompting Comedy Relief at Council Session

Proceedings at Tuesday evening's session of the city council were not all serious—the crowd had its fun too.

Just as Bill Klusman was finishing a tirade against The Torrance Herald, the newspaper's publisher, Grover C. Whyte, walked into the council chamber. Klusman's surprised look at the sudden appearance of the subject of his attack, just at the psychological moment, prompted a roar of laughter from the audience.

Klusman has been missing no opportunities to blast forth at each meeting since Schoolman Powell began his futile efforts to chastise city departmental heads for alleged misbehaviors.

When abruptly rapped down by Mayor McGuire on one occasion, Klusman countered, "Ah, let's have some fun!"

"As I recall a few years ago when you were mayor, there was lots of fun but that's about all that was accomplished," countered Mayor McGuire. (More laughter.)

Albert Isen, Powell's campaign manager and constant "adviser" since the election, resumed the bickering by "demanding how much The Torrance Herald bill was for publishing the zoning ordinance."

City Clerk A. H. Bartlett reported that the statement had not been received. After an exchange of questions between Mayor McGuire and Isen as to why the latter was so "interested" in this one bill and not all the others which are approved in a span by the council each session, The Herald's publisher explained that the city had a contract for printing all its ordinances and legal notices with The Herald. He pointed out that the rate had remained the same for the past 15 years.

A round of applause followed Whyte's closing remark when he stated: "Since Mr. Isen is so interested in city finances, why hasn't he paid his license fee for publishing the political news paper he issued during the council campaign?"

Isen did not answer the question.

Dog Only Victim in Two Auto Mishaps Here During Week

Two automobile accidents occurred in Torrance over the weekend but the only fatality was a dog. No person was injured.

Marian Louise Smith of Long Beach collided her machine with a car driven by Charles R. La Flame on Narbonne avenue at 230th street when she swerved in a fruitless attempt to avoid hitting a dog Friday night. Both cars were damaged and the dog was killed.

Thomas A. Benabidez of Los Angeles while driving west on Highway 101 east of Hawthorne avenue blew out a rear tire. His car turned completely over but he was unhurt and the machine was driven away under its own power.
