Sex Education Lecture Series Open to Adults at Redondo Beach

An outstanding feature at the Redondo Beach evening high school this Fall will be a series of six lectures on sex character education presented by Mrs. Gertrude S. Hasbrouck, well-known staff lecturer of the Institute of Family Relations. The lectures begin Thursday night, Oct. 3, and continue thereafter for five consecutive Thursday nights.

Mrs. Hasbrouck is much in demand as a lecturer, and it is only because arrangements were made in the Spring for this series of lectures that the Redondo Beach high school is able to offer this splendid booking. Her lectures are intended for adults, men and women and especially parents, and are concerned with the interpretation of sex and sex attributes to the average child from infancy through early adolescence.

The series will be given in the Redondo Beach high school auditorium beginning Thursday, Oct. 3, at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no charge. Since these are so outstanding, admission is open to parents living outside of the Redondo Beach high school district.
