

Tatuta Takes Nationals Home

This was stirring moment as some of nearly 1000 Japanese, many American-born, say farewell to friends and relatives (left) on other side of customs stockade at San Francisco pier. Freezing of credits forced many Japanese to give up business and return home on Thanksgiving.

OFFICERS GET FREE COFFEE AND FOOD

One of the most popular spots in Torrance for the scores of outside police, sheriff's deputies, state highway patrolmen and other protective agencies from Friday morning thru yesterday was the office of H. A. "Jack" Barrington's machine shop at 1124 Border ave.

Mrs. Lillian M. Barrington started serving coffee and doughnuts there early Friday morning to the pro-tem guardians and later she was joined by the members of the Torrance Women's club, headed by Mrs. Mildred P. Mitchell, president of the club, and Girl Scouts of Troop 1.

As patronage—all food was gratis to the officers—increased, Mrs. Barrington transformed the office into a counter cafe and amplified the menu to include rolls, sandwiches and hot dogs. The various officers enjoyed her hospitality very much.

License Plates in America Rated on Poundage Basis

Owners of the 32,000,000 vehicles operating on the highways of America pay for their license plates at the rate of $10 to $20 per pound. In states exacting heavy license fees on commercial vehicles, truck license plates sometimes are worth more than their weight in gold.

In 1941 motor vehicle owners will pay approximately $475,000,000 for those bits of metal—an amount greater than the combined value of all the gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc produced in this country. Yet that is only a little more than a third the amount they pay out in gasoline taxes. In 1941 the motor vehicle owners of the United States will pay out to state and federal governments approximately $1,300,000,000 in gasoline taxes.

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years, but if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four-year term in active service.

Beware of a pretended friend who praises you today when you agree with him and curses you tomorrow when you dissent from his opinion.

Special Thanksgiving Service in Christian Science Church Here

Thanksgiving Day services will be conducted on Thursday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The subject will be "Thanksgiving" and the Golden Text is from the Psalms: "Offer unto God Thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High; and call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me."

Among the Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon are these words from Deuteronomy: "And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul. . . . But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven: A land which the Lord thy God careth for: the eyes of the Lord thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, state: "God is Love. Can we ask Him to be more? . . . Shall we plead for more at the open door, which is pouring forth His love, we accept? The unspoken desire does bring us nearer the source of all existence and blessedness." "Action expresses more gratitude than speech."

During the service opportunity will be afforded Christian Scientists in the congregation to give testimonies appropriate to the occasion.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

2123 21st St. and Manuel ave. Sunday morning services at 11 a. m. Sunday school, 9:30 a. m. Wednesday evening service, 8 p. m. Reading room at 1750 Manuel ave. 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. each week day.

This verse from the Psalms, "Rejoice the soul of thy servant; for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul," is the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

One of the Bible citations includes these words of Jesus from Matthew: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on: is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?" These verses from I Corinthians are also presented: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's."

The Lesson-Sermon includes also these statements from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The individuality of man is no less tangible because it is spiritual and because his life is not at the mercy of matter. The understanding of his spiritual individuality makes man more real, more formidable in truth, and enables him to conquer sin, disease, and death."

THEY'RE ALL MAGIC FANS! . . . Typical of the crowds of youngsters who thronged the First Baptist church last week for the entertaining character building programs of mystery and magic given by Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Mills was this turn-out Armistice Day morning. The two entertainers may be seen in the front row with Rev. C. M. Northrup, local pastor. At this gathering the children were presented with full-sized replicas of the Declaration of Independence, which is displayed by the little boy at the right.

Foodstuffs Make Colorful, Aromatic Mess

Mayonnaise and jam make a combination that can only be equaled on an artist's palette. When vinegar, cellophane-packaged grains, syrup and other free-flowing foods are added, the mess looks like the interior of many Torrance markets last Friday morning. Added to the general scene of destruction in store aisles was a hodge-podge of canned and packaged goods that apparently leaped from their customary shelves to the piles.

Clerks were on the job early in the morning and it was a rare store that was not ready for "business as usual" by Friday noon. The aroma of ketchup, jam, cleansing fluids, peanut butter, olive oil and what-not persisted through Saturday.

Experience is an exacting school; that's why many people have to take postgraduate courses.

CHURCH BROADCAST

The Christian Science Thanksgiving Day Service, up to the time of the testimonies, will be broadcast over KFAO at 11 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 20, from Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Angeles.

In the past, it was considered an achievement for an army moving on foot to cover 20 miles a day; today a mechanized army may be required to move twice that distance in an hour.

The history of conducting can be traced back at least to the 15th century when it was customary to beat time at the Sistine choir in Rome with a roll of paper called a "Sol-Fa."

Nobody Feels Well Out In Hollywood

PEOPLE are always trying to describe what Hollywood looks like — yet nobody ever succeeds.

But for some random impressions by a wild-eyed observer from way back East, consider what Katharine Brush has put in black and white for the November Good Housekeeping magazine. Says the sophisticated novelist: "If you took every brightly colored toy and gimcrack that's sold in a souvenir shop or in a five-and-ten-cent-store basement, and blew them up to enormous size and scattered them over miles of desert, and strung up a few painted cardboard mountains in the background and planted some tropical trees and flowers here and there among the filling stations you would have Hollywood — or a reasonable facsimile thereof."

And, Miss Brush adds you can tell the people there by the cars they ride in. People in good cars will be tourists; people in station wagons will be Katharine Hepburn. According to Miss Brush's first hand gleanings, hypochondria rages in Hollywood; nobody ever seems to feel very well. Sometimes she says it strikes you in the studios that the more important an executive is, the more pills and pellets and powders he has on a tray at the side of his desk. These are administered at intervals by six secretaries.

Recalling an executive conference she once attended, she states that of the four present, all felt "flousy." "Me," concludes Miss Brush, "I was fresh out from New York — cold, windy, damp, tin-can New York — and I felt fine."
