Japanese Recovering After Shotgun Attack; Stepson is Held

No new angles have developed in the shotzun shooting of Satoriu Okada, 45, Redondo Beach truck gardener, whose stepon, Shigato J. Okada, 20, was arrested Dec. 26 by deputy sheriffs and held in connection with the attempted alaying.

The victim, a patient at Torrance Memorial hospital, had a setback last Thursday as the result of wounds received in his back from No. 7 shotgun slugs but today he is reported recovering.

but today he is reported recovering.

Redondo Beach police said the younger Okada confessed the shooting at the Okada home, 2229 Manhattan Beach Boulevard Redondo Beach.

Tsu Fujimoto, 23; arrested with Okada, is accused of having driven the automobile in which Okada fled from the scene after the shooting, which occurred at the back door of the Okada home. The shooting, he told police, resulted from a family quarrel.
