On OCD Staff

E. E. EAST
The task of preparing adequate plans for evacuating areas in the Southwest in the event of war necessity today was placed in the hands of E. E. East, chief engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California, when he was appointed a member of the executive staff, Office of Civilian Defense, 9th Civilian Defense Region, Southern Sector Office, as transportation and evacuation officer.

An Army-approved manual for the evacuation of civilians in the Ninth Civilian Defense Region is now in the hands of all state and local defense councils. East's duty will be to apply this over-all plan to the Southern Sector. He also will stimulate and coordinate transportation and evacuation efforts of local defense organizations working in close cooperation with the Army and the Office of Defense Transportation.

Evacuees' Life Lacks Interest, Ueda Writes

Life of an evacuee at Santa Anita Assembly Center is pretty hum-drum "with nothing to do from day to day but eat and sleep," according to Bob Ueda, well-known Japanese-American formerly of Lomita and Torrance. He wrote friends here this week that "the biggest job right now for me is to try and guess what's being served at the next meal. We have some 18,500 evacuees in this center and there's no strata or difference between the lowliest and the millionaire. "My family is doing well with a couple of my sons working at regular jobs here. For the kids it's a regular vacation, with plenty of playmates and nothing to worry about. With the grown-ups, it's the thought of 'What's going to happen after the war is over?' That is the biggest problem.

"I have heard we may be moved out of this center sometime soon and I am only hoping that we will be kept here for the duration, what with the fine California weather and lots to eat and nothing to do," Ueda wrote. His address is Bob S. Ueda, Dist. 6, E-28-3, Santa Anita Assembly Center, Arcadia, Calif.

'Women's Land Army' Proposed to End Harvest-Labor Shortage

The State Council of Defense has proposed creation of a "Woman's Land Army" to harvest labor shortage threatened California crops. The council's plan provides for recruiting and training an initial group of 8,000 women. They would be given an intensive eight weeks' course in agriculture and farm problems before being assigned to farms. A salary would be paid women recruits while attending instruction classes. A uniform and special insignia will be selected later.

Legion Conclave Opens Saturday

Comprehending the total United States war effort on both the home and military fronts, the coming Aug. 15 to 19 Los Angeles convention of the California American Legion will be themed by: "The Welfare of a Nation at War." National important questions, of a noncontroversial nature, to be considered for convention action include: Universal conscription of the nation's total manpower, wealth and resources; a measure urged by the Legion for wartime enactment for many years; civilian defense in all its phases under the full control of civilian authorities in relation to the asserted necessity of its administration under Army martial law, and various phases of national defense in general, on the home and military fronts, including California's specific problems. The five day meet is expected to have an exceptional attendance of approximately 40,000 members. The rallying spot for both convention and reunion registrations will be the Hayward Hotel at Sixth and Spring sts., where the signing up process will take place on Aug. 15 and 16. Registrations on Aug. 17 may be made at the Philharmonic Auditorium where the three-day sessions will be held commencing on that day.

The American Legion Auxiliary, under leadership of President Monica L. Forster, will hold its business sessions at the Embassy Auditorium, 843 South Grand ave., Aug. 17 to 19.

Democratic Veterans Form New Group; Pledge to O'Toole

Stating that the 17th District Democratic Veterans' Association was revived recently to "handpick a candidate for Congress" although it had not held a meeting in two years and is not representative of the Democratic voters of the district, Sam Kronenburger of Gardena, World War veteran and now again in the Navy, announced the formation of the 17th District American Veterans this week. He said the new group proposes to select a candidate in the Congressional race who will be more acceptable to the members. Kronenburger pointed out, however, that there is no objection to the Association's selection of James J. O'Toole of Torrance for endorsement as 68th Assembly District candidate. O'Toole is a World War veteran and is being supported strongly by the new group, which takes in Democratic American veterans in the 48th, 66th, 67th and 68th Assembly Districts. Kronenburger has five sons in the Navy.

Rent Control Due After Sept. 1st

Federal rent control will not be put into effect here until after Sept. 1, Neil Petroc, Southern California OPA director, announced today as he returned from conferences with Washington officials. Reports on which to base the plan for rent control will not be completed until mid-August and a rent administrator will not be named until Sept. 1, with action scheduled after that date, Petroc said. County-wide control of rents at the March 1, 1942, level probably will be ordered, but registration of landlords may be required in spot areas near increased industrial activity, according to the plan being considered in Washington.

The Office of Price Administration has lowered the price ceiling on greases and states: "Greases collected by housewife shall be four cents per pound at the level of sales by the housewife to the collector (meat market) and five cents per pound at the level of sales by the collector (meat market) to the renderer or industrial consumer." This, in effect, changes the meat market price to the housewife from five cents to four cents.
