This is one of a series of 12 exhibits one of a series of 12 exhibits one of a series of 12 exhibits one of the Los Angeles County Museum in conjunction with the County Public Library.

A century ago, even the name "photography" had not been agreed upon as the term to designate the new combined art and science for which many names were suggested and from which some commercial value was expected.

The exhibit shows the following important steps: The "Daguerreotype" of Daguerre and the contemporaneous "Photo; genic Drawing;" "Calotypes" of Herry Fox. Tal. bot; the 'Ambrotype" base on Scott Archer's wet colled to plates; Eastman's first "Kodak" loaded with enough dry gelatinobromide coated paper film for 100 exposures and development being returned to the factory for unloading a nd development—the original "you press the button, we do the rest" system; and a few modern phases such as astronomical photography, colorphotography, photomicrography, motion pictures and "minicam."

many exceptional values which are advertised elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Washer come to Torrance from Des Moines, Iowa, where they successfully operated a similar women's shop for many years. In fact, Washer has been associated in this line of business for more than 20 years.

"We have come to Torrance because we believe there is a need for our type of shop and the smart lines of apparel which we will stock." Washer says. "While our prices are considerably less than those prevailing in smart up-town shops, patrons will recognize many of, the models which are featured by better class stores.

"Thruout the nation, Southern California is rapidly being recognized as the style center of the country, so naturally we plan to feature California m ad e merchandise, and we have been fortunate in securing many of the best lines in sport wear, suits, coats and dresses," Washer commented.
