

Motorists Warned To Endorse 'A' Book Gasoline Coupons

Southland motorists must endorse all coupons in their new 'A' books before using them or they will lose part or all of their basic gasoline allowances. This was the sharp warning today from Samuel Leask, Jr., Southland O.P.A. director.

"Possession of any 'A' coupons which have not been endorsed on their face with the motorist's license number plus the name of the state in which the car is registered will result in plenty of trouble for the car operator."

"We are determined to prevent diversion of unendorsed coupons into 'black market' channels and insistence upon prior endorsement of coupons is a major means of accomplishing this purpose."

What happens when you join the WAVES or the SPARS?

1. First, go or write to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station or Office of Naval Officer Procurement for application blanks. Give the information required, and return papers to office of origin.
2. If your application papers are satisfactory, you'll receive free transportation to the nearest Office of Naval Officer Procurement. There you'll be interviewed and arrange to take the aptitude test.
3. Then comes a physical check-up by Navy doctors. Requirements are thorough but not too difficult. Any young women in sound health should be able to pass the examination with flying colors.
4. It's a thrilling moment when you raise your right hand and are "sworn in." From then on, you're in the service of Uncle Sam, ready to do a man-size job for your country!
5. Off for training school! The Navy takes care of all expenses. Meals in the dining car. A pullman berth for overnight travel. And you'll find comfortable quarters ready for you when you arrive.
6. Yes, it's really you! You'll feel proud — and rightly so — when you first see yourself in trim Navy blues. Complete outfit — $200 worth of clothing — is furnished you free as an enlisted woman.
7. Training schools are located at some of the country's finest colleges. Typing, radio operation, communications, mechanics are only some of the skills you may acquire.
8. At training school you'll follow an interesting schedule. Athletics, games, recreation with friendly companions are yours to enjoy in addition to the valuable training under expert Navy teachers.
9. And now — a full-fledged member of the service — you go on active duty at one of the big Naval bases. You'll be in the thick of all that's exciting and important in America at war.
10. Yes, your salute will be recognized by an Admiral. And you deserve recognition! For yours is a big job — a service to your country you will be proud of the rest of your life.
